

SCHOOL BOARD HELD MEETING

Purchase of New Equipment for Manual Training Authorized

The regular monthly meeting of the Stirling Board of Education was held in the High School on Monday evening with Vice-Chairman Walter Wright in the chair and Messrs J. S. Morton, Ewart Bailey, C. F. Linn, W. H. Patterson, J. B. Belshaw, E. G. Bailey, Dr. E. A. Carleton in attendance.

Principal C. A. Wells, of the Public School, pointed out the need of new equipment for manual training in the school, including a bench saw. He also asked that the pupils be granted a half-holiday on the opening day of school and on the afternoon of September 22nd, when the Fall Fair is held.

The results of the June Departmental examinations had been very pleasing, stated by J. L. Good, Principal of the High School, in addressing the Board. The standard set in other years had been well maintained with 36 per cent. of the papers tried in the Middle School being successful and 35 per cent. in the Upper School. The results were quite satisfactory to the Department of Education, stated Mr. Good.

With regard to the attendance at the local school for the current year, he had made a survey of the district and estimated there would be an attendance in Form I. of approximately thirty, besides a number of other newcomers to other forms.

The new course of study in music made it necessary to purchase some new equipment, continued Mr. Good, and he proceeded to give the Board a list of the requirements as submitted by Miss A. Calow. The list included a gramophone, records, modulator and the new Canadian Song Series of books. On motion of C. F. Linn and seconded by Dr. E. A. Carleton, the purchasing of the supplies was left in the hands of the purchasing committee and Principal Good.

It was moved by C. F. Linn and J. B. Belshaw that the request of Principal Wells for the purchase of new equipment be left in the hands of the Purchasing Committee and Principal Wells.

The pupils of both High and Public Schools will be granted a holiday on the afternoon of the second day of the Stirling Fair, on motion of J. S. Morton, seconded by W. A. Patterson.

Mr. J. S. Morton, reporting for the Purchasing Committee, stated that the price of shades needed at the Stirling Public School had been procured and samples were available of the different qualities. The price submitted was sixty dollars and it was decided that nothing be done until further information was procured, some members of the Board being under the impression that the blinds could be made much cheaper.

The following accounts as passed by the various committees, were ordered paid when OK'd.

Public School

Jas. Mitchell	4.20
L. & R. W. Melkjohn	2.22

Mr. J. B. Belshaw reported to the Board that a prominent citizen of the village had advised him that there were a number of students in the district who were unable to attend the local school because of lack of suitable clothing and had suggested that a uniform be adopted for use in the local school in order that all pupils would be similarly clothed. Members of the Board were of the opinion that cases of this kind were rare and that any action towards forcing the children to wear a specified uniform would meet with strong objections from both pupils and parents. Consequently no action was taken.

A communication from F. W. Warren, Architect, of Hamilton, was received, soliciting the position of Architect, should the Board undertake making any additions to the schools. It was placed on file for future consideration.

Dr. E. A. Carleton was in the chair in connection with the school board meeting.

P. O. HOURS MONDAY

Monday next, September 6th, is Labour Day and a public holiday and all places of business will be closed in Stirling for the day. The public wicket at the post office will be open from 8.00 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon, and the rural mail will be delivered as usual.

APPLICATION ACCEPTED

At a special meeting of the Stirling Hydro-Electric Commission held on Friday evening, the application of Miss Pearl Stapley for stenographer in the local office was accepted. Miss Stapley began her duties on Wednesday morning and replaces Miss Helen Mallory who has resigned to be married.

WARREN — DICKSON

A pretty mid-summer wedding took place in the United Church, Frankford, on Saturday, August 28th, when Miss Jessie Murray Dickson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dickson, of Frankford, was united in marriage to Mr. George Edwin Warren, of Kingston, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Warren, of Sine, Ont. Rev. J. F. Lane officiated at the ceremony.

The church was prettily decorated with ferns and gladioli in tall standards and the guest pews were marked with gladioli and white ribbon. Mrs. Walter Morrow played the bridal music and played softly while the guests gathered. Lohengrin's wedding march was played as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Miss Isabel Dickson, of Montreal, was her sister's maid of honour, while Miss Ruby Snider attended as bridesmaid, and little Betty Dickson was flower girl. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Albert Warren, of Bancroft. The ushers were Mr. Hampton Dickson, of Kirkland Lake, and Mr. William Warren, of Belleville.

The bride was a charming picture in her model gown of white mousseline de sole made on princess lines with the full skirt cut to form a long train. The fingertip length veil also of mousseline de sole hung gracefully over her face and was held in place by a white satin rope about her.

FAIL TO WIN BIRD TROPHY

Stirling Club Eliminated in Horseshoe League Playoffs

For the second year in succession the Bird Trophy, emblematic of the championship of the South Hastings Horseshoe League, goes to the Belleville Horseshoe Club, by virtue of their win over Stirling, in the third game of the final series held at Oak Lake, on Monday evening. The first game resulted in a tie and the second game, which was played in Stirling on Thursday night last, was won by Belleville by the close score of 9 to 7.

Mitchell and Fox divided their four games, but Long and Reid came through with some high-class flinging to take three wins to one loss. Ryckman and F. Hullin and W. Jeffrey and O. Casement each won one and lost three.

In the third game played at Oak Lake on Monday evening, the locals were unable to strike a winning stride and were further handicapped by the absence of some of their regular players. The final score was 13 to 3 for Belleville, with Long and Butler winning two of their games and Mitchell and Fox one game. F. and A. Hullin and O. Casement and M. Lummiss failed to score a win.

ment of the date of opening the schools, owing to the outbreak of infantile paralysis in the village. He stated the Board of Health were asking the co-operation of the Board of Education as well as the different churches and the management of the theatre, in preventing the spread of this disease and suggested that the opening date of the schools be changed.

On motion of C. F. Linn and E. G. Bailey, the motion to have the school board meeting adjourned.

PRIZE LISTS READY

The prize lists for the Stirling Fall Fair are ready for distribution and may be obtained from the Secretary, F. R. Mallory. This year's list is a most attractive one, with a lengthy list of special prizes offered and prospective exhibitors should procure a copy at once.

BOWLERS SUCCESSFUL

Stirling bowlers have met with a fair measure of success during the past week in district tournaments, winning prizes in both Campbellford and Madoc.

Messdames Geo. Larow, H. R. Tompkins and W. J. Whitty, skip, took part in the Irish Trebles Tournament at Campbellford on Tuesday afternoon and evening, and won all three games with the highest score. The first prize consisted of a pair of bath towels for each player.

Yesterday afternoon two rinks attended the Men's Doubles Tournament in Madoc, with R. A. Patterson and W. J. Whitty, skip, winning shirts for second prize. This rink reached the finals with Linton and Locke, of Campbellford, and owing to the lateness of the hour decided not to play the final game and a division of the prizes was made. Messrs A. Heyworth and C. R. Bastedo comprised the second rink, but failed to reach the charmed circle.

In the Club Doubles two games have been run off since last issue. On Thursday night Bailey and Mallory defeated Long and Baker by the score of 31 to 29, and on Friday night C. Linn and C. R. Bastedo defeated A. Heyworth and H. R. Tompkins 26 to 17.

FAIR BOARD PLAN DANCE

Plans Made for Holding Street Dance On September 17th

With some fourteen members of the Board of Directors of the Stirling Agricultural Society in attendance at a meeting held in the Agricultural Rooms on Saturday evening, plans were made for holding a street dance under the auspices of the Society, on Friday evening, Sept. 17th. During the meeting Secretary Mallory was instructed to engage the celebrated Russ. Creighton and his "Canadian Mountaineers" to provide music for the event. They will be accompanied by wee Jackie Perkins, the boy singer, and Shirley Smith, tap dancer, who will take part in the programme.

With the matter of a street dance settled the directors turned to a discussion of the arrangements for the Fall Fair. The question of providing free admission tickets to the children under 12 years of age in Stirling and district was talked over and on motion of J. M. Carl and Ben Blecker these tickets were ordered distributed in a like manner to last year.

The matter of procuring rain insurance for the second day of the Fair and the evening of the Street Dance was next discussed and the majority of the directors were in favour of having this protection, which was left in the hands of Chairman J. B. Thompson, F. R. Mallory, Secretary, and Gilbert Thompson, Treasurer.

Mr. J. E. O'Donnell introduced the question of joining the Canadian Harness Association and stated he did not know what was required of the Society. Chairman Thompson informed the meeting that this matter had been discussed at the District Fair meeting held in Campbellford recently and a number of the delegates had reported that their Societies had not taken out a membership in this body in other years and had suffered no inconvenience. Finally the matter was left in the hands of the Race Committee.

The need of having the unanimous support of the citizens in staging a street dance was emphasized by Secretary Mallory and it was decided that the aid of the business men be solicited.

Those present at the meeting were Messrs J. B. Thompson, F. R. Mallory, Gilbert Thompson, Ben Blecker, Art Scott, Wm. Fitchett, J. E. O'Donnell, J. M. Carl, C. F. Linn, H. R. Tompkins, G. U. Heath, J. Wm. B. J.

SPECIAL MEETING VILLAGE COUNCIL

Tenders for Well Are Opened and Considered by Members

A special meeting of the Stirling Council was held in the Council Chambers on Wednesday night for the consideration of tenders submitted for the completion of the Village well on Henry Street. Reeve Thos. Cranston occupied the chair and all the members of Council were present.

Only one tender, that of the International Water Supply Company, of London, Ont., was received and submitted a price of $4721 to complete a gravel well well, according to the specifications submitted by D. H. Fleming, engineer in charge. This price includes guarantee against contamination for a period of one year.

Members of Council felt that the price submitted was too high, in view of the estimate of $5,000 made by Engineer Fleming for the completion of the well, including the pump and equipment. A discussion on ways and means of finishing the well by local labour followed and a deputation of Council will wait upon the Department of Provincial Health to obtain permission to construct another type of well.

It was moved by Councillor Rollins, seconded by Councillor Whitehead, and agreed, that the Reeve and Council be a deputation to wait upon the Provincial Department of Health in connection with the completion of the Village well on Henry Street.

On motion of Councillor D. A. Burkit, seconded by Councillor Stapley, the tender from the International Water Supply Co., for completion of the well was not accepted and the Clerk was instructed to notify the Company and return their cheque for one hundred dollars.

ONE CASE OF PARALYSIS

One case of the dreaded infantile paralysis was reported in Stirling this past week. The victim is Allan, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Munro, who fell ill on Saturday and on Sunday his physician had serum administered. At time of going to press the patient is reported as being much improved.

BAND AT MADOC

Stirling Citizens' Band was in Madoc on Sunday afternoon and supplied music for the annual church parade and decoration services of the Odd-fellows. The Band was under the leadership of Bandmaster Maurice Bell and received many fine compliments on their excellent performance.

BOARD OF HEALTH ACTS

Due to the outbreak of paralysis in the Village, a special meeting of the Board of Health was held on Monday and steps taken to prevent spread of the disease. The public swimming pool was banned and the co-operation of the school Board, Churches and theatre management, was asked in postponing the opening of the schools, cancelling Sunday School and forbidding anyone under eighteen years of age from attending the theatre.

The Board also sent a request to Sidney Township Council asking for the closing of the swimming beaches at Oak Lake.

In the absence of Dr. H. H. Alger, M.O.H., Dr. E. A. Carleton was appointed Health Officer pro tem.

SCHOOL FAIRS OPEN

Next Thursday, September 9th, the first of a series of School Fairs, under the direction of the Department of Agriculture in Hastings County, will be held at Ivanhoe. On following days several fairs will be held in different parts of the County, with the Championship School Fair being held in Stirling, on September 22nd, in conjunction with the annual Fall Fair. Hastings County is recognized as having School Fairs of a very high standard, which has been brought about by the co-operation of the school pupils and their parents, with the public school inspectors and the local Agricultural Representative, Mr. Jos. Wilson, who has worked hard to make these fairs what they are. While School Fair Day is a great holiday and get-together for the hundreds of school boys and girls yet the educational side should not be neglected. And in this the parents play a great part. In the first place, parents should realize that the School Fair is the children's fair, and should refrain from doing any of the actual work of selection, preparation or exhibiting, but advice should be given freely. The object is to teach the young exhibitors how to choose and prepare their exhibits. It is only by thus encouraging the farmers' sons and daughters that their interest will be increased in the field of agriculture, and unless the School Fair does this it has not fulfilled the purpose for which it was intended.

AN ATTRACTIVE PRIZE LIST

Three weeks from yesterday, September 22nd, will be Stirling Fair, with which is connected the Hastings County Championship School Fair. During the past week the prize lists have been issued and it is doubtful if a more attractive list, especially in regards to the list of special prizes offered, has ever been presented by the local Society. There have been a few changes made in the list, all for the purpose of making it more attractive, and all those interested in the fair should make it a point to obtain a copy and peruse its contents and plan to be an exhibitor.

In addition to the prizes offered by the Society, there are a number offered by the Horticultural Society for flowers, the classes being open to members of the Agricultural Society, as well as to members of the Horticultural Society. The list also includes a lengthy list of special prizes in the various classes, which far exceeds that of other years. The Committee appointed to canvas for the special prizes have done a splendid job and are particularly glad that they were able to secure some very fine prizes for ladies' work. It is hoped that the ladies of the Community will show their appreciation of their work by furnishing a large exhibit.

Altogether it is an attractive prize list and there should be one of the largest exhibits in the history of the fair. Plan now to be an exhibitor, or if you can't be an exhibitor yourself induce your friends to do so. It is only by the combined support of the citizens of the district that the local Fair is able to carry on, and every citizen should do his share to keep the institution functioning.

CO-OPERATION IS ASKED

The epidemic of Infantile Paralysis continues to flourish throughout the province and every day finds a number of new cases reported. According to medical authorities this is the season of the year when this disease normally occurs, being most prevalent during the months of August, September, October and November. It had been hoped that Stirling and district would escape the ravages of this disease, but on Sunday one case was discovered in the village limits and the local Board of Health took definite steps to prevent any spread of the disease. In addition to the home of the victim being quarantined, a ban was placed on the swimming pool, and all gatherings of the children. It is expected that the different churches will co-operate with the Board of Health and discontinue holding Sunday School for a time, while the Board of Education has delayed the opening of the schools until such time as the danger of an epidemic is past. The attendance of boys and girls under eighteen years of age at the local theatre will also be disallowed. These steps have been taken as a precautionary move and the parents are urged to co-operate and keep their children by themselves as much as possible.

The important thing in defeating the ravages of infantile paralysis is prompt recognition of possible symptoms of the disease in the home, and early diagnosis by a doctor. Hon. Dr. Faulkner, minister of health, has pointed out in a statement warning of the disease that infantile paralysis is a communicable disease of the nervous system. Its onset, he explains, is usually sudden, with fever, headache, vomiting or nausea, prostration and irritability and pain or stiffness in the back and neck. He urges that medical advice be sought instantly on the appearance of these symptoms and that a rigid quarantine of the premises of any victim or suspected victim be observed. Early treatment is imperative.

Medical science has evolved a serum prepared from the blood of persons who have been attacked by the disease. Used in time it will generally prevent development of the paralysis or lessen its effects. But is of value only in the early stages. So it is of the utmost importance that a physician should have the opportunity to make immediate diagnosis.

1937 CANADA YEAR BOOK

The publication of the 1937 edition of the Canada Year Book, published by authorization of the Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc. — in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1937 Canada Year Book extends to over 1,100 pages, dealing with all phases of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. A statistical summary of the progress of Canada is included in the introductory matter. This gives a picture in figures of the remarkable progress which the country has made since the first census of the Dominion was taken in 1871, sixty-six years ago.

Attention may be called to some of the more important features of the present volume.

Chapter I, treating of the physiography of the country, has been almost entirely re-written and a special section on Economic Geology prepared by F. J. Alcock, Ph.D., Mines and Geology Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, is included. The regular section on Geology, which will be revised in the near future, has been omitted this year. A special article, "Faunas of Canada," prepared for the Year Book by R. M. Anderson, Ph.D., Chief of the Division of Biology of the National Museum of Canada, appears at pages 29 to 52. The results of the Quinquennial Census of 1936 are included with the treatment of Population in Chapter V., and a special section on "Occupations of the Canadian People" rounds out the treatment of data from the 1931 Census which appeared mainly in the 1934-35 Year Book but was supplemented by later material in the 1936 Year Book. Agricultural statistics of the Quinquennial Census are given in Chapter VIII — Agriculture — which also includes a short article on "Agricultural Progress in Canada and the Dominion Experimental Farms System."

Re-organization of the work of several Departments of the Dominion Civil Service in 1936, under the new Departments of Transport and of Mines and Resources, has provided an opportunity to revise and recast the statistics concerned with these phases of administration. The necessity for maintaining statistical continuity with the past makes difficult such wholesale recasting. In the present instance statistical series have, in certain cases, been definitely broken and a new departure was unavoidable but, as far as possible, continuity has been maintained in the changes that have been made. Chapter XVIII — Transportation and Communications — for instance, has been entirely recast and it is felt that the treatment now gives a clearer picture of the relationships of the different services involved.

The operations of the Bank of Canada are now established in the financial system of the country and it has therefore been considered advisable this year to recast Chapter XXII — Currency and Banking. Adjustments will, no doubt, be necessary from time to time, but it is felt that the main features of the new outline will serve for some time to come.

Persons requiring the Year Book may obtain it from the King's Printer, Ottawa, as long as the supply lasts, at the price of $1.50, which covers merely the cost of paper, printing and binding. By a special concession a limited number of paper-bound copies have been set aside for ministers of religion, bona fide students and school teachers, who may obtain copies at the nominal price of 50 cents each.

CURRENT COMMENT

Next Monday, September 6th, is Labour Day and all places of business in Stirling will be closed for the day. Just a reminder to our readers that the summer is over and within a few weeks will come the cooler weather of Fall. The next holiday will be Thanksgiving Day and the time for doing the many odd jobs about the home in preparation for winter will soon be here.

Work on the seven and one-half mile stretch of new highway from Stirling north, is rapidly nearing completion and the general opinion seems to be that the contractors, The Routly Construction Co., have done a splendid job. Surveyors from the Department of Highways have been taking measurements on Front Street East, which is part of the Stirling-Belleview Highway and the rumour is that the Department of Highways is going to pave from the bridge to the Eastern limits of the Village. This will be good news to citizens residing on this street since it will do away with the nuisance, but there are a great many motorists who would like to see this road completed to Foxboro. In recent weeks it has become very rough and is not as good as many of the side-roads in the district. It is to be hoped that the Department of Highways does something with this road before long.

WOULD BE WELCOME MOVE

(Forest Standard)
School teachers throughout Ontario will rejoice at the hint given out by Dr. G. F. Rogers, Inspector of secondary schools at Guelph recently in respect to summer courses. He stated the department of education was beginning to think that summer school work was over-working the teachers. The ending of these teachers' courses would also relieve the pocketbooks of those instructors whose salaries are not far removed from the minimum. How they manage to finance their courses after paying board, clothing, community demands, a little insurance, moderate entertainment, travelling expenses, church collection, etc., would amaze many a school trustee.

A GOOD WORD FOR THE STIRLING BAND

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)
Any time you are considering handing out bouquets for brass bands and the good they can do for the community, don't forget to mention the Stirling Citizens' Band, one of the best organizations of its kind in Eastern Ontario. Leader Maurice Bell has something to be proud about in his Stirling Band. Apparently there is co-operation enough in this department in Stirling to encourage this band to keep going when other organizations of a similar nature have either to quit or to carry on under discouraging circumstances. We have heard the Stirling Band several times during the past three or four years and we like them. Stirling has something there all right.

NO IMMEDIATE INCREASE IN CBC BROADCASTING TIME

The reported "stepping up" of CBC broadcasting time from six to sixteen hours daily, starting September 1, will not be possible, CBC officials informed this column at press time. "We are not in a position to make such an increase in network broadcasting at present," they announced, "and any contemplated expansion will depend partly upon the completion of the new 50,000 watt transmitters now under construction at Hornby, Ontario, and Vercheres, Que. When the broadcasting time is increased it will be done gradually — not all at once." It is likely that when conditions warrant increases in operations the schedule will be lengthened an hour every week until the maximum of 16 hours can be attained.

INTERESTING FACTS CONCERNING ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

With all the talk about an election this fall in Ontario, the following information will prove interesting:

Since the Ontario Legislature was opened, July 16th, 1867, up to the present, there have been eleven administrations. The first Premier was Hon. J. S. McDonnell, who headed a coalition Government. Since then the Liberal and Conservative administrations were almost evenly divided, with the Hepburn Government making the fifth time Liberals have been in power in Ontario. Hon. Edward Blake, elected in 1871, was the first Liberal Premier, and the Grits remained in power from his election to 1905, with the following leaders: Hon. Oliver Mowat, 1872-1896; Hon. A. S. Hardy, 1896-1899; Hon. G. W. Ross, 1899-1905.

In 1905 Hon. Sir James P. Whitney led the Conservatives into power and they remained with but one exception until 1934. Hon. Sir William Howard Hearst followed Whitney in 1914. In 1919 Hon. E. C. Drury and his U.F.O. party were elected, but in 1923 Hon. G. Howard Ferguson won back the province for the Conservatives. He was succeeded by Hon. G. S. Henry in 1930 and the latter remained until 1934 when he was defeated by Hepburn. Hon. Earl Rowe will head the Conservative party following the October 6 election.

Editor of Owen Sound Sun-Times has published the license numbers of a couple of cars seen from his window to be improperly parked on the main street. Similar sights on local streets have sometimes caused us to toy with the idea, but discretion has always prevailed. Supposing the police issued a summons, and the victim turned out to be a life-long subscriber, or one of your wife's relations.

His Nickel's Worth

Sandy seated himself at the dairy lunch counter and drew a nickel from his pocket. "Say," he asked, "what can I get for a nickel?"

"A glass of buttermilk," replied the counterman.

Sandy looked disappointed. He picked up the coin. "I think I can do better than that," he declared.

"Go ahead," snapped the counterman.

Sandy left. And it was just two years later to the day that he again entered the same place. He spotted the same counterman.

"Okay," he cried. "But put plenty of butter in it!"

NEWS OF INTEREST FOR BUSY FARMERS

Almost a month earlier than usual the annual stream of feeders and stockers from Western Canada into Western Ontario is now under way. For over a month there has been a heavy movement of light cattle into the feed-lots from Kitchener to the border. At the same time a heavy movement of finished cattle was noted to Buffalo and Detroit markets. United States buyers came right to Western Ontario feed-lots and paid good prices at the farm. As the United States tariff quota against Canadian cattle over 700 lbs. is due to be filled shortly this may account for the present heavy shipments, but it is believed that prices across the line are strong enough to cover an added cent per pound and that the movement of finished stock south will continue.

Pleased with the results of their recent campaign against poison ivy, Ontario Department of Agriculture officials have declared war on chicory, public enemy No. 1 among noxious weeds. According to J. D. McLeod, of the crop, seeds and weeds branch, chicory is the fastest spreading weed in Ontario. An average chicory plant may produce 3,000 seeds. It's bright blue flowers and dandelion-like leaves may be seen in every county in the province. Deep ploughing is recommended to root it out of fields, spraying while the plants are blossoming along roadsides. Mr. McLeod issued an appeal to farmers and citizens to draw attention of weed inspectors to infested areas. He said a half-pound of sodium chlorate to a gallon of water was a good spray and should be put on at a high pressure.

Under the clumsy name of "the imported cabbage worm," the velvety green caterpillar usually found in vegetables by eating large circular holes in the leaves and frequently boring into the centre of the cabbage heads. These worms, together with the cabbage maggot and the cabbage looper, create serious loss to market gardeners. For the control of the imported cabbage worm, dusting with arsenate of lead and hydrated lime is the most widely recommended remedy for Eastern Canada. Although good control can be secured from careful and liberal application of arsenical mixtures in liquid form, the waxy leaves of cabbages and cauliflower presents a difficulty, inasmuch as the waxy surface causes liquids to collect in droplets and drop off the leaves.

In dusting with arsenate of lead and hydrated lime, the mixture should consist of one part of the arsenate and eight parts of the lime. The mixture should be dusted on the plants in the early morning or late evening when the leaves are wet with dew, particular attention being paid to the central portions of the cabbages and cauliflowers because feeding is generally most prevalent there. If the plants have to be treated shortly before marketed, fresh pyrethrum powder one part to three parts of hydrated lime or flour, should be used. This material is non-poisonous to human beings and is easily obtained from drug stores.

Weather conditions have been generally favourable for development of tree fruits during the past month. Moisture supplies have been ample in all sections of the Province except in the Bowmanville-Newcastle district where only scant precipitation was received during the past six weeks. Heavy showers, however, fell in this district on August 19th.

Apples are sizing better than last year and presents prospects indicate an increase of 22 per cent. in total production in Western Ontario over last year, and a reduction of 20 per cent. in the orchards east of Toronto. The total production for 1937 is now estimated at 731,500 barrels as compared with 703,500 barrels in 1936. Where intensive spraying has been practiced insect pests and fungus disease have been fairly well controlled, although, in a few areas there is now evidence of scab infestation. Side-worm injury is showing badly in many orchards. Early varieties of apples are being harvested and are reported to be of good quality. Buyers are now becoming active and a few sales by the orchard have been made.

The peach crop is expected to be approximately 25 per cent. greater than a year ago and fruit is sizing well. Weather conditions, however, have been favourable for the development of brown-rot and insect injury. With an improvement in weather conditions before harvesting, and providing intensive spraying is continued, an above-average yield of good quality fruit should be obtained.

A fair yield of most varieties of plums is anticipated, with Grand Dukes and Reine Claudes appearing as the least promising. Total production is estimated as 58,900 bushels, a gain of 43 per cent. over the very small crop of 41,200 bushels harvested in 1936. Although weather and moisture conditions have been generally favourable for plums, rot is somewhat in evidence throughout the Niagara Peninsula, especially in poorer sprayed orchards.

Practically all commercial varieties of pears have made excellent growth during the past month and are quite free from insect or disease injury. The crop is sizing well and total production is estimated to be somewhat higher than a month ago at 147,600 bushels, a reduction of 23 per cent. from last year, when the total yield amounted to 196,800 bushels.

Grapevines are reported in a healthy condition with berries sizing well. Prospects are favourable for a good normal yield. A large number of vineyards have not been carefully sprayed and Hoppers and mildew are quite prevalent in these grapevines. In carefully sprayed vineyards disease and insects are well under control.

The cantaloupe crop will not approach the bumper proportions indicated a month ago, but will be a good average yield. Owing to a spell of very hot weather, the set of blossoms was restricted and sizing of melons was affected in some plantations. Vine blight has developed in some patches and the grading quality is generally lower due to inferior netting.

Field tomatoes are not in as good condition as at the middle of July due to too much precipitation in Western Ontario and to hot dry weather in the totato growing section of Eastern Ontario. In Eastern Ontario the condition is reported to be still above average, but in Western Ontario it is slightly below average. In the counties of Halton and Welland prospects are reported considerably below average. Total canning factory tomato acreage this year amounts to 34,700 acres as against 21,500 acres last year. Processing plants have already commenced canning tomatoes, which is earlier than expected.

Ontario's Man of Action

OLD MAN ONTARIO speaks for the great mass of our citizens when he says, "Thank you, Mitch."

Only too well he remembers the sorry plight into which bad government had brought this great province three years ago. Spendthrift politicians were dragging us deeper and deeper into debt. Their millionaire friends were being allowed to fleece the public treasury. Every department of the public services was honeycombed with an army of hangers-on.

It was then the people turned to Hepburn in the hope he could and would carry out the promises he made. Perhaps skeptics may have attributed some of his promises to youthful enthusiasm—but Hepburn kept his word—he's Ontario's Man of Action.

Today Honourable Mitchell F. Hepburn submits the most successful record any Ontario Prime Minister ever presented before the bar of public opinion.

Hepburn Earns the Gratitude of the Electorate

HE has earned the thanks of practically every man, woman and child in the province.

Wealthy beneficiaries of estates which had been allowed to mulct the province to the tune of 22 million dollars will not thank him for recovering that huge sum—but nearly everybody else will.

Timber profiteers rue the day on which Hepburn came to Queen's Park—but the people of the North rejoice when they see large new industries springing up and old ones reviving. They join Old Man Ontario in his enthusiasm for the ending of unemployment in the timber area and for turning George Henry's deficits into surpluses.

"Big Business" may not be singing Hepburn's praises—but the common people appreciate the fact that he saved them millions in interest rates.

Hepburn Saves Hydro

IF the Quebec power barons had a vote in Ontario, it would certainly not go to Hepburn—but Ontario knows that the Government's Hydro policy not only saved this great enterprise from ruin, but that it has already saved over four million dollars to Hydro users, and the new contracts will eventually effect total savings to the province of over six million dollars a year.

Profiteers from the liquor toll gate that Hepburn promised to abolish will not be on his side—but the people approve his prohibition of the sale of liquor in restaurants which the Henry Government would have permitted.

Hepburn Proves to be The Tax-Payer's Friend

THAT "Thank you, Mitch" covers a wide range of public services, all administered with an efficiency and economy hitherto unknown.

It says:

"Thanks" for the lessening of municipal burdens—that mill on the tax rate, the increase in township road subsidies, the assumption and increase of Mothers' Allowances and the assumption of Old Age Pensions.

"Thanks" for the abolition of the amusement tax.

"Thanks" for preventing the exploitation of labour by riotous aliens.

"Thanks" for the advanced labour legislation, such as—industrial standard codes, extending minimum wage laws to men, and setting up a tribunal to ensure a square deal to employees and employers. This new Industry and Labour Board has already justified its creation by effecting settlements in several disputes of long standing.

"Thanks" for the modernizing and extension of our highways, and for promoting tourist trade on a greater scale than ever before.

"Thanks" for the improvement in the preventive measures for the health of the people, and for the better care of the sick—physical and mental.

"Thanks" for the progress of education in Ontario, and for assuming the costs of examination fees.

"Thanks" for the advancement of every Department within the jurisdiction of a Provincial Government.

Symbol of a grateful people, Old Man Ontario speaks for the great mass of our citizens when he says, "Carry On, Hepburn."

Those Who Are Entitled To Vote

Every British subject, 21 years of age, and resident in Ontario since October 6, 1936, is entitled to vote at the forthcoming election—but the name must be on the voters' list.

A vote for the Liberal candidate on October 6th is the practical way the Ontario elector can join in the mandate, "CARRY ON, HEPBURN."

Springbrook W. I.

The regular meeting of the Springbrook Women's Institute was held on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Murney McInroy with a large attendance. The meeting was opened in the usual manner with the President, Mrs. Geo. A. Bailey, in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. W. J. Barlow. The roll call, "Your favourite dessert and the recipe" was very well responded to. Arrangements were made for a booth at the school fair to be held at Springbrook in September. Mrs. Morley Barlow took charge of the program. Miss Cora Bailey gave a splendid talk on the motto "The World is taking your photograph—look peasant." Mrs. A. H. Reid gave some interesting items in "current events". Misses Phyllis and Margaret Barlow contributed a pleasing piano duet. Mrs. Thos. H. Webb gave a splendid demonstration on hooked rugs in which she explained that nothing need be wasted in the line of old woollens or even sacking. A demonstration was also given by Mrs. J. F. Baker on "salads." The salad was made and the preparation of each ingredient explained to the members assembled and then a sample was served to each member. Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Baker were tendered a hearty vote of thanks. The meeting was closed after which a dainty lunch and home made candy were served by the hostess and a pleasant half hour enjoyed by all.

ARE YOU A RECKLESS DRIVER?

How would you like to be one of the victims in this horrible smash? How would you like to be strapped to a cot in some emergency hospital ward—writhing, half out of your mind with pain. These ghastly tragedies are caused by those of you who drive recklessly—who take chances—without regard for the safety of others! You know in your own heart whether or not you are a reckless driver. If you are

DECIDE NOW TO DRIVE WITH CARE

Stop cutting in, passing on hills or curves, taking chances of any kind. Settle down to safe, sane driving—and avoid trouble. You know the rules for safe driving. Stick to them—or run the risk of having your license suspended or cancelled. We are going to put reckless drivers off the road and keep them off.

Ontario Motorists will Co-operate

When you see a motorist driving in a manner dangerous to the public, take his number, make a careful note of the actual time and place, and when you reach your destination write to the Motor Vehicles Branch, Department of Highways, Toronto, giving full details. We do not invite reports of minor infringements of the traffic laws; you are requested to use sound judgment. We will deal adequately with offenders!

SHE WAS X-RAYED 12 TIMES

Tried Electric Treatment for Rheumatism

To suffer for five years with pains in the back . . . to be X-rayed 12 times . . . to undergo electric treatment for three years . . . and then to find that Kruschen was what she really needed to get relief — that was this woman's experience:

"Five years ago, I was taken ill with pains in my back. After three weeks in bed I was sent to hospital. At first spine trouble was suspected, but after 12 X-Rays I was found to have serious lumbar rheumatism. For over three years, I was given electrical treatment three times a week. Last year I tried Kruschen Salts and it has done wonders. I have discontinued hospital treatment, and last winter, the first for five years, I was free from pain. Mr. friends are amazed to see me so well." (Mrs.) E.P.

In a good many cases, rheumatism cannot resist the action of Kruschen Salts, which dissolve the painful crystals of uric acid — often the cause of these aches and pains — and assist the kidneys to eliminate this poison through the natural channels.

MISS D. CALDWELL

REIDE — McMULLEN

On Saturday afternoon, August 28, a quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at Frankford United Parsonage, by Rev. J. F. Lane, when Dorothy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McMullen, of Holloway, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Peter G. Reid, of Holloway.

The bride looked charming in a gown of navy triple sheer with matching accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of roses, maiden hair fern and baby's breath. She also wore in her hair the orange blossoms worn by her mother at her wedding twenty-five years ago.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Helen McMullen, who was also owned in navy triple sheer with a similar corsage of roses.

The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Wm. McMullen.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a brooch set with brilliants; to the groomsmen an initialed belt and tie pin.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti on a motor trip to Montreal, Ottawa and Kawartha Lakes, the bride travelling in a navy suit. Upon their return they will reside on the groom's farm, at Holloway.

THE PENTHOUSE MURDER

By CALEB JOHNSON

ELEVENTH INSTALMENT

SYNOPSIS: A card game is in session in Elmer Henderson's penthouse atop a New York skyscraper. The players are: Henderson, Police Inspector Flaherty, Martin Frazier, Archie Doane, Max Michaels and his friend Williams, a stockbroker.

They are waiting for Stephen Fitzgerald. When he fails to appear, a telephone call brings the information that he is out with a girl. Fitzgerald and Henderson are both romantically interested in Lydia Lane, the famous actress, but Archie Doane reveals that she is engaged to marry him.

Doane leaves the party early when Fitzgerald fails to appear. A short time later he telephones Inspector Flaherty with the frantic news that he has found Fitzgerald and Miss Lane dead in Lydia Lane's penthouse apartment.

When Flaherty and the medical examiner reach the apartment, they find that Miss Lane is still alive. She is rushed to a hospital where blood transfusions and care promise to restore her.

All circumstantial evidence points to Archie Doane as the murderer, especially when the murder gun is found carefully planted in the chimney clean-out in the basement.

Miss Lane's French maid, Adele Marceau, has been overheard threatening to shoot Fitzgerald if he did not stop annoying her. The janitor reports that Mademoiselle Marceau works in a night club on her day off and that she had talked to him in the basement on the night of the murder.

Medical examination reveals that Lydia Lane had been given a hypo-dermic injection of a hypnotic drug before being shot, and that Fitzgerald's body also shows the mark of a hypodermic needle on his leg.

"You think you can clear him, Max?"

"I know it, Dan."

"Well, you've never let me down yet. I'll take a chance on your say-so."

"Then let me have a word with the doctor," he asked, as the medical man came in, "you observed the symptoms which Miss Lane exhibited when she recovered consciousness after her blood transfusion?"

"Yes."

"Do you know of any drug, which could be administered in a small dose, hypodermically, which would produce a profound sleep for a period of five or six hours and cause the after-symptoms such as you observed?"

"Yes. Hyoscin might do it if the patient were especially susceptible."

"That's what is used in the so-called 'twilight sleep,' is it not?"

"Precisely. It induces a profound sleep which does not amount to unconsciousness but leaves the patient afterwards without any memory of what occurred while under its influence."

The trio had got into the Inspector's car and started for the Highgate building where Martin Frazier spoke.

"I've been trying to puzzle out what you're driving at, Max," the Assistant District Attorney said. "You've got an idea that the girl was doped, haven't you?"

"Something like that," Michaels agreed.

"And that she had Archie Doane's phone number and those words from her play so firmly fixed in her subconscious mind that she called him without knowing that she was doing it?"

"Here, that doesn't tally with the phone company's record of no calls," interposed Inspector Flaherty.

"They've been known to make mistakes," observed Frazier. "Max has something up his sleeve. He'll tell us when he gets good and ready. Meantime, I'm trying to figure it out."

"What about thought transference? Telepathy? You think she might have got her call across to him that way?"

"No. I won't stand for that," said Dan Flaherty. "There may be something in telepathy, but you can't prove it by the police nor to a jury. Let me give a guess at what Max is driving at. Will you tell me if I get your theory right, Max?"

"Perhaps," replied Michaels, smiling.

"Well, then, it would work this way," the Inspector went on. "The Lane dame could have taken that gun from the studio. We haven't given much thought to that. Say she was afraid of Fitz—that's reasonable. He might have threatened her, if she took Archie instead of him."

"Now, there's been cases where nuts have gone around with hypodermics jabbing girls on the street. We sent a dope up for that last year. Now one of them bumps into her, see?"

In his eagerness Dan Flaherty was lapsing back into the vernacular of his native Ninth Ward.

"No use asking why; there ain't no reason in what any nut like that does. Anyway, she's all doped up when she gets into her apartment. Thinks a pin is in her dress—probably picked up in the taxi. Her maid goes out and she lies down and goes to sleep. I've heard of this twilight sleep. They know what's going on but they can't remember any of it afterwards, see?"

"Now, she's dead to the world, but she isn't. Get me? Fitz comes along and she lets him in. They get into a scrap and she pulls the gun on him. He grabs for it and it goes off and gets her in the arm, in the tussle. The gun drops and she grabs it and lets him have it through the heart."

"Then she drops the gun down the chimney, drags Fitz over to try to put him on the couch, finds she can't lift him and then gets faint from her own wound and flops where we found her. How's that, Max?"

"A good theory if it wasn't for the snow, Dan," smiled Max Michaels. "You mustn't leave the snow out of your calculations. The persons who planned and committed this crime overlooked the snow. If the gun was dropped down the chimney it was done before the snow fell."

"Fitz might have lingered alive for hours," suggested Frazier.

"With a bullet through his heart? You heard what the Medical Examiner said," objected Dan Flaherty. But Max Michaels smiled in assent.

"You're getting warm, Martin," he said. "That would explain why there were no tracks in the snow."

"Fitz could have done it!" exclaimed Frazier.

"What? Dropped the gun down the chimney after he was shot through the heart?" demanded the Inspector incredulously.

"Doped the girl, I mean," explained Frazier. "That's what you wanted to ask Henderson, Max? If he saw Fitz when they got out of the taxi? I'd almost forgotten it, but someone told me that Fitz had taken the dope cure—used to be an addict. He'd be familiar with hypodermics."

"You'll have a hard time convincing me that he could have lived more than a few minutes with that hole in him," said Flaherty, "but say he could. It all comes clear. The dope the girl—jabs her on the sidewalk. Waits till Henderson and the maid have come out, then goes in like I said. Now, maybe the girl didn't shoot him after all. He shoots her in the right for the gun—she isn't as dopy as he expected to find her. Then she bleeds all over the place and he thinks she's dead. Shoots himself—he could have done it if he was thinking quick he could have dropped the gun down the flue, got back to the apartment, all before he collapsed. Then she comes to, sees him there, calls up Archie, flops again and does not remember a thing when she wakes up."

The car drew up in front of the entrance of the Highgate building.

"One thing I meant to ask you, Martin, though I think I know the answer," said Michaels, as they went up in the elevator. "Do you remember how we happened to think the gun might be down the chimney?"

"That was Tony Martinelli's hunch," said Inspector Flaherty.

"No, Tony heard me suggest it," Frazier contradicted. I remember saying it might be there, but dropped that idea as soon as we saw how the top of the chimney was covered. Max! You don't mean"

"Remembered where you got the chimney suggestion, have you?" smiled Michaels.

"I don't know what you both are talking about," growled Dan Flaherty, as he pressed the button at the door of Henderson's quarters.

"You will be in a few minutes, Dan," Max Michaels reassured him.

Through a perforated disk covering a house telephone at the side of the door the voice of Elmer Henderson answered the ring.

"Who's there?" he asked.

"Martin Frazier," responded the Assistant District Attorney. "Dan Flaherty and Max Michaels are with me."

"Pardon me a moment," said the voice. "I hadn't expected you quite so soon."

Frazier and Flaherty looked at each other wonderingly, then at Max Michaels, whose face was sphinx-like. Presently the door was opened by Henderson himself, attired as for a wedding or a church.

"I've dismissed my man," he apologized. "Come right in, gentlemen."

"Expecting us, were you?" asked Dan Flaherty, in a puzzled tone.

"Oh, yes; ever since you posted your men all around the building about four o'clock this morning," was the amazing reply. Henderson smiled at the three of them, as cool and self-possessed as he had been in the poker game the night before.

"Shall we sit down at the same table?" he inquired, as the visitors shed their wraps. "Excuse me just a moment," he went on, as the four seated themselves. "I just want to date and sign some papers."

He picked up two long sheets of paper which were lying on the table around which they had played poker the night before. At the bottom of each sheet he affixed his signature.

"These might as well be witnessed," he said, turning one sheet face down over the other so that only the name he had written and a blank space beside it showed. "Will each of you gentlemen be good enough to sign as witnesses to my signature?"

He passed his fountain pen across the table and each signed in turn. Then Henderson reversed the sheets and again witnessed his signature.

He took the papers back into his own hands and folded each of them. One of them he passed across to Max Michaels.

"Will you be good enough to take charge of this for me?" he asked. "Don't bother to read it now."

The other document he held in his own hands, looking from Michaels to Frazier and Flaherty, as if uncertain as to into whose hands to place it.

Inspector Flaherty took advantage of the pause for a question which he had been fairly bursting to ask.

"What do you mean about posting my men around this building?" he demanded. "I haven't posted any men here."

"No, Dan, they were my men," interposed Michaels. "You see I was not sure until I got this telegram that it was a case for the police."

He drew from his pocket the yellow envelope which had been delivered to him at the hospital, and glanced significantly from it to Henderson.

"I had a message, too," said Henderson. "A long distance call from Pasadena. I still have friends there. I take it that your telegram is from the same place?"

"Precisely," replied Max Michaels. "And I take it that one of the documents you have just signed is a confession?"

Henderson's eyes indicated surprise by the slightest of flutters, then looked full at Max Michaels with unconcealed admiration, while the other two stared from one to the other, perplexed and amazed.

"Yes," was Henderson's cool reply. "And the other is my last will and testament. It is a pleasure, when one is beaten, to realize that one has yielded to superior brains and not merely to superior force."

"Suppose you let it lie there a minute, Henderson," said Michaels, as the inventor proffered the second document to Inspector Flaherty. "I appreciate your intended compliment, but you have been beaten neither by superior brains nor by superior force, unless you count the forces of Nature."

"It was not the Czar's armies, but the snow, that defeated Napoleon in Russia; it is not the police nor myself that has beaten you, Henderson, but the snow. The snow that you did not know anything about, never had seen, had not the experience with which to calculate upon its probability or to measure its ruinous effect upon your ingenious plot."

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES IN PARALYSIS EPIDEMIC

A rapidly rising temperature, headaches, vomiting and soreness in the back, arms and legs are among the symptoms of Poliomyelitis, the Ontario Department of Health said in a statement published recently advising citizens of precautionary measures in connection with an epidemic of infantile paralysis which has stricken nearly 400 persons throughout the province and caused 19 deaths. Isolation of the patient for at least three weeks was recommended by the department. Parents were advised to "keep your child in your own yard," and to avoid crowds. Of nasal sprays the statement said "since this method is still entirely in the experimental stage, it is not one which can be recommended for general use."

CAR STRIKES VEGETABLE CART

An Oldsmobile sedan driven by Charles Hollingsworth, Marmora, collided with a democrat driven by Newton Mabey, 79-year-old Frankford resident on Highway No. 14, two miles north of Stirling early Friday evening. The elderly Frankford resident was driving a horse and democrat loaded with vegetables for Saturday's market, towards home when Mr. Hollingsworth collided with the rear of the horse-drawn vehicle. The force of the impact not only demolished the wagon, but resulted in the vegetables being strewn for some considerable distance along the highway.

Provincial Constable Wm. McBrien investigated and was informed by Mr. Hollingsworth that prior to the accident he had met a motor vehicle carrying one light and immediately upon passing this vehicle he came suddenly upon the horse-drawn democrat. Mr. Mabey stated he was carrying a lighted lantern in his hand at the time of the accident, but the driver of the automobile assured the investigating officer he did not see any light displayed. The lantern was found some distance from the wreck in a damaged condition.

NOT ENOUGH SMITHS

It appears there is a shortage of young men in the blacksmithing business. At a meeting of the Master Blacksmiths and Carriage Workers' Association held recently in Kingston a number of this sturdy group said that he had visited 35 shops and found only a few men employed in them under forty years of age. Most of the present day blacksmiths he reported, are between the ages of 60 and 70. This seems a pity. The convention in Kingston, which was attended by 20 members of the Association, must have been a gathering of rugged men—individualists who have defied the automobile. They have a great admiration for blacksmiths. They have about as honest a trade as anyone on earth, and their ranks are thinning every year. Practically all of those now working learned their trade before the internal combustion engine, with all its blessings, came to plague and replace the beasts with which people had managed to get along for centuries. From the age of the survivors of this noble calling, young men began deserting the anvil and bellows about the same time that red autos began frightening horses on country lanes. What we want to know is who will shoe horses ten or fifteen years from now if there are no young men in the smithies to take over? The smiths of the last generation can't stay on the job forever, and there will still be horses ten and fifteen years from now. According to a recent report from the Ontario government, there are many more horses now in Ontario than for several years past. The horses in Oxford County are estimated at worth nearly a million dollars, and there are practically no young men in training to look after them and their successors. The horse is not dying out. It seems to us that many a young man with the necessary muscle could do worse than learn an ancient trade. — Ingersoll Tribune.

GENDRON — SCOTT

On Wednesday, August 18th, Miss Leta Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scott and Mr. Leigh Gendron, only son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Gendron, both of Arden, were united in marriage at Sharbot Lake by Rev. Keyes, of the United Church. The bride looked charming in a white satin gown made on princess lines and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Eileen Hughes, wore a pale blue silk net with white accessories. Mr. D. J. Scott, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a beautiful compact, and to the groomsmen, a genuine leather purse. The happy couple left by motor for Toronto and other points.

MISS MARGARET MONTGOMERY

Miss Margaret Montgomery, a resident of Belleville, for many years, passed away at her home in Belleville on Thursday afternoon. She had reached an advanced age. The late Miss Montgomery was born in Rawdon Township (Ridge Road), her parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Montgomery. She resided in Stirling for a while before making her home in Belleville. Miss Montgomery was well known to many residents of Belleville and many old friends regret her passing. In religion she was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Surviving are three nieces — Mrs. Blair, Toronto; Mrs. B. C. Donnan, Belleville, and Mrs. C. G. Wright, Stirling. The funeral took place on Saturday from the residence of Mrs. C. G. Wright, Stirling, with interment in Stirling cemetery.

BELLEVILLE MARKET

Imported peaches and home grown melons held the fruit spotlight heading a fine display of plums, gages and other fruits on the Belleville market on Saturday. Varying in size and quality the peaches were offered in six quart basket lots at forty and fifty cents each. Blue Damson plums sold to a brisk market for thirty-five cents per basket lot with Burbanks quoted at forty and forty-five cents. Small green gages struck a popular note with Saturday morning shoppers and sold readily at forty and fifty cents per six-quart basket and the eleven-quart containers at seventy-five cents.

Cantaloupes and watermelons were available in large quantities and in varying sizes. They were quoted at from ten cents up although a very small size was available at five cents. High and low prices for the watermelons were quoted at from ten cents to thirty-five.

Duchess apples in fancy containers and showing plenty of colour were offered at twenty-five cents. Melbas imported from the Niagara peninsula were offered at twenty-five cents. Autumn strawberries at one dollar per hamper lot with Wolf Rivers selling at the same price. The popular Yellow Transparent were sold at forty cents per peck.

Tomatoes were fairly plentiful and maintained a firm tone with bushel lots quoted at fifty cents and baskets at fifteen and twenty cents. Cucumbers were plentiful with large sizes selling at ten cents per dozen and the gherkin variety at twenty-five cents per six-quart basket.

Sweet corn prices remained unchanged in spite of the large supply available. Fifteen cents per dozen and two dozen ears for twenty-five cents were the popular prices. Potatoes held firm at the former week-end prices and were quoted at seventy-five and eighty cents per bushel lot. Peck lots were offered at twenty cents.

Cauliflower and cabbage of a fine quality were quoted at from ten cents upwards. Vegetable marrow and pumpkin varied in price according to size. Other vegetables such as beets, carrots, onions and late radishes sold well at five cent prices.

A fine display of dairy produce was available in the inside market. Eggs were slightly up in price although many quotations were made by vendors. While the general price quoted was twenty-seven cents for "A" select a number of vendors held out for thirty cents. Mediums were offered at twenty-three and twenty-five cents. Farmers butter noted a slight raise in some quarters, vendors charging sixty and sixty-five cents for two-pound rolls. Some stocks were disposed of at fifty-five cents and thirty cents per pound. Young chickens proved popular with Saturday morning shoppers, selling at from one dollar to one dollar and fifteen cents per pair. Fowl was quoted at from fifty cents, and other chickens ranged in price from seventy-five cents each. Honey in the comb was offered at twenty cents with the strained variety quoted at ten cents per pound in different quantities.

CHEESE BOARD

A total of 2710 boxes of cheese, all white, were offered for sale on Saturday's Cheese Board, of which 629 boxes sold at 13 7-8 cents, the remainder being sold at 13 13-16 cents. All sold.

WEED SPRAYING MACHINES

Use of a high-powered spraying machine by counties and townships in Ontario for week eradication has tripled this season compared with last.

J. D. Smith, director of the crops, seeds and weeds branch, Ontario agricultural department, states that 15 counties and 150 townships purchased or rented machines, now in full operation. Last year only 50 machines were in use.

Haldimand county is spraying 150 miles of roads on one side this year. Bruce County has a 1,000-gallon machine operating. "With up-to-date equipment at their disposal, municipalities are making wonderful strides in weed eradication," said Mr. Smith. "We are more than pleased at the results obtained. Worst weeds at the present time are ragweed, chicory, wild carrot and blindweed."

CHANGE IN BOOKS

Changes in various text books for primary and secondary schools have been announced by the Ontario Department of Education recently; and many pupils who have been depending on text books "handed down" from former pupils may have to dig into their jeans for the price of new books after all. Recently there has been a decided trend toward an all-round change and revision of the various courses of study, and this change of text books is only what may be expected. Last year in the public schools a new spelling book was put into use; and the old third reader, formerly one volume, was discarded in favour of two new readers, one for junior and one for senior third. This year the old fourth reader has been dropped from the list and two books are now available, one for Grade VII. and one for Grade VIII.

In the high schools an elementary French book has been brought out which will give a completely new slant on the work, advanced teachers claim; and certainly pupils will find it very different from the older text in which first-year pupils covered less than one hundred pages.

LOCAL PAPER HAS DISTRICT MISSION

No man is too poor to take his local paper, and it is false economy to try to get along without it. Hardly a week passes that something does not appear in its columns which will be a financial benefit to you, and by the end of the year you have made or saved from one to twenty times its subscription price. The city papers do not take the place of your local paper, although some people seem to think so. The city papers are alright in their way, but they do not give you what you are most interested in in your community. You cannot learn from them when public meetings are held, who are dying and who are marrying, who are moving out and who wants to sell land — in fact, hundreds of items which might be of particular importance to you. Such matter city papers cannot furnish, but your local paper does.

A Statement by the Ontario Department of Health on POLIOMYELITIS ("INFANTILE PARALYSIS")

In view of the prevalence of "infantile paralysis" in Ontario at the present time, and in recognition of the deep concern felt by parents over the protection of their children, the Provincial Department of Health is issuing the following statement concerning the nature of the disease and the question of what can be done to reduce the danger of infection.

Nature of the Disease

Like measles and scarlet fever, "infantile paralysis" is a communicable or "catching" disease. Like them also, it is mainly a disease of childhood. Yet the term "infantile" is apt to be misleading. While it is true that the majority of cases occur among children under ten years of age, the disease does occur, especially in rural districts, among older children and young adults.

The term "paralysis" is likewise misleading since it conveys the impression that some loss of muscular function is characteristic of every case of the disease. This is not true. It is now known that only a small proportion of those who contract the disease actually develop paralysis.

Since the disease is not limited to infants and since paralysis does not occur in all cases, the name "infantile paralysis" is now regarded as a misnomer. The correct name for the disease is "polio-myel-itis", which simply means acute inflammation ("itis") of the grey matter ("polio") of special portions of the spinal cord which control movement of the muscles. This inflammation is believed to be due to a special sort of infection which probably gains entrance to the nervous system through the upper part of the nose and throat.

Cause of the Disease

Poliomyelitis has been definitely recognized as a communicable disease since 1909 when investigators succeeded in securing from humans, ill with the disease, a minute living substance called a "virus" which was found to be capable of producing poliomyelitis in monkeys.

Much remains to be discovered about the nature of this virus but a good deal has already been learned. In size, it has been found to be less than one millionth of an inch in diameter. The virus is present in the nervous tissue of humans who have died from the disease. It is also found in the nose and throat, not only of persons ill with the disease, but also of persons who have been in contact with the disease.

How the Disease Spreads

The exact manner in which the disease is transmitted from one person to another is not known. However, the disease does not arise spontaneously. The source of infection is a human being who is carrying the virus. Such a person need not necessarily be suffering from the disease. Yet the mere presence of the virus in the nose and throat affords ample opportunity for spread of infection. In such cases minute particles are given off by coughing, sneezing and talking. Fingers are constantly being carried to and from the mouth and nose and in this way articles, such as improperly washed eating and drinking utensils, common towels, children's toys, etc., may become contaminated.

Any set of circumstances which permits the frequent and rapid transfer of nose and throat secretions from one person to another increases the possibility of infection.

There is no evidence that flies or other insects play an important part in the spread of poliomyelitis. Chlorination of municipal water supplies as now practised, and the proper pasteurization of milk have eliminated water and milk as possible sources of infection.

Signs and Symptoms of the Disease

The early symptoms of poliomyelitis are neither constant nor regular in their appearance, but certain of them are sufficiently suggestive to warrant the summoning of the family physician.

The onset is usually sudden, with rapidly rising TEMPERATURE, fluctuating between 101-103 degrees. HEADACHE is another common symptom. The young child is apt to appear irritable and cries easily when disturbed. The patient is usually willing to stay in bed, appears drowsy and takes little interest in his surroundings.

VOMITING is fairly characteristic. Constipation is often present, whereas diarrhoea is unusual. Food is refused. Often the characteristic symptoms of COLD or SORE THROAT are present.

SORENESS IN THE MUSCLES of the back and STIFFNESS and pain in the joints of the arms and legs may occur.

In many cases of poliomyelitis the condition does not go beyond this stage, and terminates after four to ten days' illness.

However, in other cases, the disease proceeds into a second stage, in which the elevation of temperature and rapid pulse are accompanied by marked irritability and drowsiness. The patient becomes mentally disturbed and takes on an anxious, frightened expression. Sleep may be disturbed by twitching and the hands may shake and tremble.

The following specific signs are of particular importance: STIFFNESS OF THE SPINE. The head may be bent on the neck but efforts to bend the neck on the shoulders cause pain and are resisted. The child is unable, while sitting up in bed, to bend his head down to touch the knees. If he bends at all, it is at the hips with the back held rigid.

PECULIAR SITTING POSTURE. When he sits up he props himself behind with extended arms supporting a tender or painful spine.

Preventive Measures

The precautionary measure of first importance is to protect the child from contact with infection. Since other human beings are the primary source of infection, then children, who are evidently much more susceptible than adults, should be protected as far as is reasonably possible from contact with people.

"Keep your child in your own yard" is a wise precaution. In crowded stores, street cars, motion picture theatres, bathing pools, picnics,—in fact, in any setting where there is a large number of people, the chances of exposure to possible infection are tremendously increased.

Of equal importance for the protection of children is the prompt calling of a physician if the child shows the indications of illness described above.

Convalescent Serum

Medical opinion is divided concerning the effectiveness of the so-called "Convalescent Serum" in poliomyelitis. In the absence of conclusive evidence, the Department is continuing to supply this serum to physicians on request. Owing to the limited supply available, its use must of necessity be limited to cases suffering an attack of the disease.

Nasal Spray

Based on the assumption that the virus enters the body through the upper part of the nose, attempts are being made to prevent its entrance by spraying the nasal passages with certain chemicals. Since this method is still entirely in the experimental stage, it is not one which can be recommended for general use.

Precautions in the Care of Those Ill

When a diagnosis of poliomyelitis has been made, the patient must be isolated for a period of at least three weeks. Since other members of the family are likely to be carriers of the virus, the protection of the community requires that they be quarantined until the danger of further spread has been eliminated. Care should be taken to see that articles which may have become contaminated by the patient are disinfected or burned. Special precautions should be taken in regard to the disposal of nasal and alimentary discharges. Those who are handling the patient should exercise special care regarding their hands and person before coming in contact with other people.

head. The elbow length sleeves were puffed and long net mittens were worn. Large satin flowers were applied on the crown of the veil, the sleeves and around the hem-line and train of the skirt. Her shower bouquet was composed of butterfly roses and bouvardia.

The maid of honor wore chalk blue lace over satin made on fitted lines. Miss Snider wore a net redingote over rose taffeta. The little flower girl was in pink organza over pink taffeta.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Walter Warren sang "O Promise Me". As the bridal party left the church the wedding march from Mendelssohn was played. The reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother receiving in a French model of navy triple sheer. Her accessories were in navy and white. The mother of the groom was in a navy silk crepe costume with matching hat.

Nearly a hundred guests were present to congratulate the happy couple who left after the reception for a motor trip to the southern States. The bride wore a powder blue knitted suit with touches of coral for travelling. Her hat and coat were in matching blue and her accessories were in white. On their return they will reside in Kingston.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. O. K. Schofield of Port Colborne, a great aunt of the bride, Mrs. Alice Warren and Mr. Rutledge, of Montreal. Guests also attended from Campbellford, Bancroft, Belleville, Trenton and Stirling.

RIVER VALLEY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE GARDEN PARTY

The R.V.W.I. held their annual garden party at Rosebush's pavilion on Thursday, August 19th. Owing to the rainy weather the crowd was not as large as expected. Nevertheless, everyone present spent an enjoyable time. Games of skill and luck were thoroughly enjoyed and the fortune-tellers were certainly kept busy. The lucky ticket on the end table was held by Mr. Sid Williams, Stirling. Mr. Delbert Bronson won the door prize, a box of chocolates, which was donated by Mr. Jos. Whitehead. Dancing was enjoyed after all had done justice to ice cream, hot dogs and iced drinks. The music was furnished by the Rosebush orchestra. The R.V.W.I. would like to thank the local business men and all who so generously contributed to this garden party.

McGEE PICNIC WELL ATTENDED

The annual Reunion picnic of the McGee family took place at the Tabernacle, Oak Lake, on Wednesday, August 25th, when over one hundred of the descendants of this pioneer family, of Hastings County were in attendance. Just before dinner, which was served at one o'clock, a solemn service of baptism was conducted by Rev. J. A. Koffend, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, when Mary Martha McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McGee, of Detroit, was presented for baptism.

After the singing of grace all partook of a splendid repast, which had been prepared by the ladies. The gathering was called to order by President G. H. McGee, who delivered a short address of welcome, and introduced Rev. J. A. Koffend of Stirling and Rev. R. J. Koffend of Toronto, to the gathering. Each delivered a short address expressing their pleasure at being present. Rev. Jas. E. Beckel, minister of Rawdon Circuit, who was expected to be present and deliver an address, was unavoidably absent.

Community singing was enjoyed for a short period, after which Mrs. Louis Rodgers presented suitable prizes for different classes of events.

President — Mr. Chas. McGee, Peterboro.

1st Vice President — Mr. Frank McGee.

2nd Vice President — Mr. Harold McGee.

Secretary — Mrs. Reginald McGee.

Treasurer — Mr. J. M. McGee.

The afternoon was spent in swimming, playing ball and a carefully arranged sports program, supervised by the sports committee. Supper was served at five o'clock in the evening, to climax a most enjoyable day.

VICTIMS OF DROUGHT SETTLE AT BRIGHTON

Driven from their homes in Southern Saskatchewan by the severe drought and present unproductiveness of the soil, six families, 30 people in all, will settle in the Brighton district and start life afresh far from the hazards that have made life a nightmare to so many western farmers. The menfolk, with their livestock, farm implements and household effects, arrived last week aboard freight

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Eggleton, of Stirling, have returned home after spending the past month at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Monticello, Mr. Eggleton having completed a barn for F. M. Price. — Bancroft Times.

Ivanhoe School Log

The first settler on the 8th Concession of Huntingdon was John Wood, from Berwickshire, Scotland, who came out to Canada in 1833. His nearest neighbour at that time was Hugh MacMillan who took up land on the farm where his grandson and namesake resides at the present time. Mr. Wm. Mitts settled in 1835 on the block of land which has since been divided into three farms owned respectively by Mr. Chas. Mitz, Mr. S. J. Kilpatrick and Mr. John Clement. Wm. Mitts lived where Mr. J. Clement now lives. In the same year, Mr. Carscallen settled on the farm where Mr. Donald Fleming lives. In 1836 many more settlers came. These were mainly of Irish, Scottish, English and U. E. Loyalist stock. Names of the early settlers were: (Irish); Ray, Burnett, McKee, Shaw, Rollins, Emo, Gunning, Stout, Rutledge, Ramsom, Carscallen, MacMillan; (Scottish); Wood, Harvey, Fleming, Roy, McMullen, Archibald; (English), Lid-ster, King, Chapman, Tummon, Prest, Gaven; (U. E. L.), Reid, Mitts, Mr. Henry Gaven, who originally owned Mr. Chas. Cooney's farm, was one of the survivors of a search party in the Arctic for Sir John Franklin. Mr. John Wood went with other settlers as a soldier on the Loyalist side to the Rebellion of Upper Canada in 1837. Mr. Thos. Emo was the first postmaster and named the Post Office "Ivanhoe" after reading Sir Walter Scott's book of the same name. This post office was located where Mr. Stanley Prest now lives.

There was no church in this community for a few years. A missionary from Belleville came to West Huntingdon every two weeks. Mr. Wood always walked there to service. The following year a church was built on the 8th line near its junction with the Madoc Road, and a Bible Christian missionary came there every two weeks. The Wesleyan Church, near where the Standard Church at Bethesda now stands, followed. Later the M. E. Church was opened at Beulah. When the Bible Christian and the Methodist Churches united, the Beulah Church was built on the present site and was replaced by the present building after the fire in 1927.

Little is known of the first school except that it was situated across the road from Mr. W. Holgate's, and that Mr. Thos. Emo, a very severe army schoolmaster taught there shortly after, coming to this country in 1848.

S.S. No. 12, Huntingdon, at the present time, is composed of two former school sections; one of which was served by the Reid Settlement School and the other by the Holden School.

The Reid Settlement School was situated on the south-west corner of John Prest's farm, now owned by his grandson, Mr. Wm. Prest. It was a frame school about 26' x 32'. The old stone foundation, and the flat stone near the road where many of the children used to sit while eating their lunches, are the only remains of this building. The inspector at that time was Mr. Aguerre, of Madoc. The only teachers recalled are Miss Harvey, Mr. Lewis Wright, Mr. C. Sine, of Rawdon, Martin Baker and Mr. Bedome of Marmora. Mr. Warren Reid, Mr. John Wood and Miss Mary J. Fleming were pupils of this school. Miss Fleming recalls that Mr. Wright used to conduct a "spelling school." It was held at night in the Reid schoolroom. People from the Settlement and the surrounding school sections came. The words were usually taken from the old fourth reader in which there were many hard words. The teacher drilled the smaller pupils on many of these beforehand. Miss Fleming spelled the entire class down one evening on the word "hedy-sarungyans", when she was eight years old and received a little book as a prize. The trustees at that time were Geo. Reid, grandfather of Mr. Albert Reid, John Jeffrey and John Wood, father of the present Mr. John Wood on the old homestead.

Erected probably about the same time in those early days, was another frame schoolhouse, situated on the north-west corner of lot 7 in the 6th concession of Huntingdon. The place, then owned by Mr. Sylvester Holden, is now the property of Mr. Robert Shaw. The building was about 26' x 32', and had eight windows, three on each side, and two in the south end. The door was at the south. This school was also used by the M. E. Church as a place of worship and continued as such after it was discarded as a school in 1876, until Beulah Church was built in 1882. Later the building was bought by Mr. Tummon and used as a barn. Today it still stands on the Tummon lot west of Mr. T. E. Fleming's store. The wood for fuel in those days was provided by the parents of the children attending the school. One-quarter of a cord was allotted per pupil. The school tax was not collected in the municipal tax as it is now. The secretary-treasurer of the section made his levy and collected the same. This proved a difficult task. Teachers in this school were: Eliza Phillips, Mr. Gardiner, David Wiggins, Miss White, Charles Fuller, Mr. Morton, Miss S. Clarke (Mrs. Maynes), Miss M. Harvey, George Johnson, Mr. Butler. Trustees were Sylvester Holden, Sec. Treas.; John B. Fox, David Fleming, Sr.; Lewis Mitts, Martin Baker, Geo. Reid Sr.

Apparently the Reid school must have been closed first as Mr. John Wood spent his last year at the Holden school after the former was closed. Shortly after the union of these sections the present brick school was built in 1876. Mr. McIntosh was the inspector. The contractor for the woodwork was W. H. Garrison, of Plainfield. Thomas Welsh, of Prince Edward County did the brick and plaster work. The building was erected on lot 6 of the seventh concession of Huntingdon, which was bought from Henry Gaven. The original shareholders of the school were: John Wood, George Reid, John Wood, George Reid, John Wood, George Reid.

acre to the east. This land was purchased from Paul Cooney for $60.

The woodshed, which used to sit in front of the well, was moved to its present position north of the school. The well curb and cement walk were added. Mr. D. C. Dorrance had a splendid garden west of the school in 1912, for which, according to the ledger, an agricultural grant was given.

The brick school faces the road at the south, and measures 44' x 26'. It has eight windows, three on each side, and two at the south. The lobby at the entry opens by two swing doors into the room. There are two cloakrooms, one on each side of the entry. Across the entire front or north end, are five slate blackboards. There are also five hyloplate boards, three at the west, and two at the east. Four rows of double seats were bought from Wm. Clements in December, 1902, one row of which was replaced by single seats in 1933. A good library consisting of 590 volumes is kept up-to-date by the addition of new books each year. A second book-case made by R. F. Bristol, Madoc, was added in 1931. Roller maps are arranged above the blackboards. Hot lunch has been served since 1920. First Aid equipment is supplied by the Women's Institute. A new steel first aid case was donated by the pupils in 1936, paid for by school fair prize money. A sink and waste pipe has been installed. The former box-stove was replaced by a jacket furnace in 1931. The bell and belfry were donated by the Women's Institute in 1924.

The teachers in the school have been as follows: Miss Mary Stokes, Mr. Roberts, Miss Robertson (Mrs. Rev. McQueen, Alberta), Miss M. E. Cherry, Henry Ostrom (1882), Totten Williams, Roderick Christolm, (Dr.) John L. Clarke (1891), J. O. Herity, (1892-3); Jos. Metz (1894), Edison McConnell (1895-6), Robt. Elliott, (1897-98), Geo. Salaries from 1891 to 1904 ranged from $300 to $450. The highest salary was $1200 to Miss Eva Barnes in 1926.

Some of the trustees in this school were Lewis Mitz, John Wood, Russell MacMillan, W. H. Chapman, John Ray, Robt. Stout, Samuel Ray, John Fleming, G. R. Mitts, W. H. Rollins, C. A. Mitz.

The present trustees are S. D. Prest, Robt. Shaw, Harold Reid, Mr. Arthur Wood is the Sec. Treas.

Music as a special subject was introduced in 1929 with Miss Leah Ramsay as supervisor, until her death in July, 1931. Mrs. Blanche Alexander, of Madoc, has carried on the work very successfully since.

The medical health officer, Dr. S. Eagleson, Madoc, inoculated the pupils for the prevention of diphtheria in 1935 and scarlet fever 1936, and vaccinated against small pox in 1936. The well was chlorinated in the fall of 1936.

Former pupils who served in the Great War were John Gawley Reid, Alonza Haggerty, James Martin, Albert Tummon, Hector Roy, Fred Benson and Fleming Rollins, the last three of whom paid the supreme sacrifice.

An expression of appreciation is extended to Mr. C. A. Mitz, Mr. John Wood, Miss M. J. Fleming, Mrs. J. Clements (Librarian) and others who have so willingly recalled events and searched records for the above information.

Any added information or any corrections which would aid in making the history of S.S. No. 12, Huntingdon more accurate and complete, would be gratefully accepted.

ARRANGE FOR STIRLING FAIR

Meeting of Directors Is Held on Tuesday Night

A meeting of the Directors of the Stirling Agricultural Society was held in the Agricultural Rooms on Tuesday evening with a large attendance. Mr. J. B. Thompson, president, occupied the chair, and was supported by E. J. Pyear, F. R. Mallory, J. E. O'Donnell, A. Scott, E. Carlisle, Wm. Pichett, C. M. Sine, Thos. W. Solmes, Gilbert Thompson, H. P. Ellis, H. R. Tompkins, C. McGee, R. H. Williams, J. M. Carl and B. Blecker.

A lengthy discussion took place over the holding of a street dance, for which practically all arrangements had been made. Secretary Mallory outlined what had been done and H. P. Ellis, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, stated that he had consulted the local M.O.H. concerning the possibility of the Fair Board being obliged to postpone the dance in view of the epidemic of Infantile Paralysis. It was felt by several of the directors that the Board would be taking too big a chance to advertise the event and then have to call it off at a later date. It was also pointed out that the presence of the dreaded disease in the surrounding municipalities would have a damaging effect on the attendance. It was finally decided that owing to the prevailing conditions the dance would be postponed indefinitely.

Mr. Ellis reported that Mr. Smith, representing the Donkey Baseball Co., of Cobourg, had interviewed him concerning staging a game under the auspices of the Fair Board. The matter was left in the hands of the entertainment committee.

A request from the Horticultural Society for permission to re-arrange the accommodation for the floral exhibit at the fair grounds was granted. Permission was also granted the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church to have a booth on the grounds on the day of the Fair, all arrangements being left in the hands of the concessions committee.

Arrangements were completed for the holding of a bee at the Fair Grounds on Wednesday next, when the grounds will be put in shape for holding the Fair.

Secretary Mallory reported that the Horse Race Committee had met on Saturday evening and completed arrangements for the trials of speed.

The final meeting of the Fair Board before the Fair will be held on Thursday night of next week.

DIVISION COURT

The regular session of the Fifth Division Court of Hastings County will be held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday next, September 14th, at 10 o'clock a.m. Judge Deroche, of Belleville, will preside and Mr. J. E. O'Donnell will act as Clerk.

STIRLING W. I.

The September meeting of the W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. L. Rogers. The President, Mrs. W. C. West, opened the meeting by the use of the Institute Ode. As the Secretary, Mrs. C. Clarke, had moved to Peterboro, Mrs. Mathison was appointed Secretary for this meeting. Roll call was answered by eighteen members, three visitors also being present. Mrs. R. Williams was appointed Secretary for the remainder of the year. The business part of the meeting was then dealt with. It was decided to hold a Halloween Concert in the Community Hall in October. The Executive for this was appointed, closing the business part of the meeting. Mrs. H. Rogers then conducted the programme. A paper on Legislation was well given by Mrs. P. Bronson. All enjoyed an address by Mrs. Holmes, the District President, in which she urged each member to attend the District Rally in October. She closed her address with verses on being an active member. Mrs. A. Cordineer gave a paper on current events, which was also well listened to. Community singing was led by Mrs. J. J. Wilson. Meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. W. C. West adjourned this meeting until October 6th. Lunch was served and a hearty vote of thanks was given the hostess for her hospitality.

HAD TONSILS REMOVED

Norman Vartanian, of Springbrook, underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils at the surgery of Dr. W. H. Pedley on Thursday last.

HORSESHOERS WIN

Several members of the Stirling Horseshoe Club were in Trenton on Monday evening assisting the Trenton Horseshoe Club to officially open their new courts. The locals showed the effects of a season's competition and outclassed the homesters to win thirteen of the sixteen games played. The return game will take place in Stirling next week.

The Stirling players were Messrs. E. Fox, W. Ryckman, M. Lummiss, B. Long, W. Dermidy, H. Conley, A. Hulin and J. Hulin. The Trenton lineup included D. Donaldson, A. Donaldson, P. Coe, George Doyle, Geo. Shaw, Geo. Wannamaker, H. Hutchinson, E. Hennessey.

BOWLERS WIN AT COBOURG

T. W. Solmes and W. J. Whitty Are Winners of Primary Competition

Playing in the annual Doubles Tournament of the Cobourg Lawn Bowling Club held on the greens on Monday, Messrs T. W. Solmes and W. J. Whitty, skip, overcame all opposition and won the primary competition and Bickel Memorial Trophy. Besides this beautiful trophy, each received a card table and four chairs.

There were forty-three rinks in the draw from as far west as Markham and Kingston on the east, and some splendid bowling was witnessed. A second Stirling rink, comprising R. A. Patterson and H. R. Tompkins, also took part in the competition and after playing six games, were eliminated by Topping and Green, of Kingston, in the semi-finals of the Consolation competition.

Whitty and Solmes defeated Brennan and Moore of Havelock in the semi-finals 20 to 6 and Downey and Gillies, of Peterboro, in the finals by the score of 14 to 5.

The Consolation was won by Renard and Cutcliffe of Norwood, by default from Topping and Green, of Kingston, and Kirk and Slater, of Norwood, took the hard luck competition.

Standing about two and a half feet high, and depicting three bowlers in action, with the large cup resting on their shoulders the Bickel Memorial trophy is a work of art and is on display in the window of Mr. Solmes' office. This cup was first placed in competition in the year 1927 and this is the second time it has been won by Stirling, the same pair winning the trophy in 1935.

Dr. E. A. Carleton and his brother, Dr. H. G. Carleton, of Norwood, took part in the doubles tournament in Belleville on Monday, but did not reach the coveted circle.

On Wednesday two rinks from Stirling took part in the doubles tournament held by the Warkworth Bowling Club. T. W. Solmes and W. J. Whitty comprised one rink; J. E. O'Donnell and C. R. Bastedo the other. Both rinks won two out of the three games played but failed to win a prize.

INSPECTS WELL

Dr. A. E. Barry, Director of the Sanitary Engineering Division of the Department of Health, Toronto, paid a visit to Stirling on Tuesday and inspected the new well being constructed by the Village. He found the location of the well satisfactory and agreed to its completion by the Council.

GIRLS' TEAM AT TORONTO

Hastings County Girls' Team are in Toronto this week taking part in the Judging Competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition. The young ladies, who were accompanied by Mr. Jos. Wilson, local Agricultural Representative, left on Tuesday afternoon for the city. The team comprises Misses Florence Walker, of Eldorado, and Lily Weese, Evelyn Embury and Evelyn Badgley, of Shannonsville, and will compete in the "Dressing up Home Grown Vegetables" and "Clothes Closets Up-to-Date" projects.

REDUCTION ANNOUNCED IN LOCAL HYDRO RATES

APPROXIMATELY TEN PER CENT. REDUCTION ANNOUNCED BY THE COMMISSION — RETRO-ACTIVE TO AUGUST FIRST — ALL TYPES OF POWER CONSUMPTION ARE TO COST LESS

The Stirling Hydro Power Commission has announced a general reduction of approximately ten per cent. in the rates charged users of electricity in this village. While this reduction has been mooted for some time, it was only last week that the local commission had its schedule of rates approved by the Ontario Hydro Commission, making the announcement possible. The reduction is retro-active to August 1st, and consumers will receive its benefit in their August bill, which is payable this month. A previous reduction was made in August of last year when the service charge was eliminated from the domestic rate.

Under the new schedule of rates domestic users will pay 2.5c for the first 60 k.w. hours instead of 3c per k.w. hour for the first 50 hours, and 1c per k.w. hr. for the remaining consumption, instead of 1.25c as formerly. The minimum monthly bill remains the same, 83c gross.

In the commercial rate class the service charge remains the same, 5c gross per 100 watts connected load, or maximum demand, with a minimum gross service charge of 50c per month. The first rate charge has been reduced from 2.2c to 2c per k.w. hour for the first 100 hours' use of the connected load or maximum demand, while the second rate for additional consumption remains unchanged at one cent per kilowatt hour. The minimum monthly bill is 83c gross, with 10 per cent. discount for prompt payment.

Power users are also to benefit under the change. While the service charge of $1.00 per horsepower per month of connected load or maximum demand remains the same the primary consumption charge is reduced from 2.5c to 2c per kilowatt hour for the first 50 hours' use of connected load or maximum demand. The secondary consumption charge is also reduced from 1.6c to 1.3c per kilowatt hour for the next 50 hours' use, but the rate for additional power remains the same, at .33c per kilowatt hour.

EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY

Mr. F. T. Ward, one of Stirling's grand old men, celebrated his eightieth birthday on Sunday, Sept. 5th. The occasion was marked by a birthday dinner given at the home of his daughter, Mrs. N. E. Eggleton, at which all the members of the Ward family were present.

Mr. Ward has the distinct honour of being actively engaged in business longer than anyone else in the village of Stirling, and is still on the job daily in his gent's furnishings store.

The News-Argus joins with his many friends in extending congratulations to Mr. Ward and in wishing that he may observe many more birthdays.

COUNTY JUNIOR FARMERS WIN

Geo. Sutherland, of Stirling, Winner in Calf Club Competition

The Junior farmers of Hastings County did well in the various judging competitions held at the Belleville Fair which concluded on Friday last. Several of the neighbouring counties were represented and the competition was particularly keen.

In the Calf Club Competition, Geo. Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sutherland, of Stirling, won first prize, with Carman Emerson, of Holloway, taking second prize. Howard Cooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cooney, of Stirling R.R. No. 3, was placed fourth; Laurison Ketcheson, of Holloway, eighth; Jack Ketcheson, Foxboro, ninth, and Stanley Geen, of Thomasburg, eleventh. In the Calf Club Showmanship competition, Geo. Sutherland was placed first, Carman Emerson, Holloway, third; Howard Cooney, Stirling, seventh; Jack Ketcheson, Foxboro, eighth; Stanley Geen, Thomasburg, tenth, and Laurison Ketcheson, Holloway, eleventh.

In the Boys' Foal Club competition Stanley Geen, Thomasburg, placed second.

Grain and Seed Judging

The Grain and Seed Judging Competition for Junior Farmers was won by a representative of Hastings County, William Geen, of Thomasburg, with 436 points. Everett Geen was second with 430 points; Wallace Pigden, of Madoc, sixth with 393 points; Bruce Prindle, of Madoc, seventh, with 384; Arthur McDonnell, Stirling, ninth with 381 points; Stanley Geen Thomasburg, tenth, 378; Allan McDonnell, Stirling, twelfth with 374.

Cream Judging Competition

Hastings County scored again in the Cream Judging Competition, with William Geen taking first place, with 97 points; Arthur McDonnell placed third; Wilmet Shortt, fourth; Carman Geen, fifth; Geo. Sutherland, sixth; Stanley Geen, eighth; Howard Cooney, ninth; Farley Lindenfield, tenth; Bruce Prindle, twelfth.

Livestock Judging

In the livestock judging competition for Hastings Everett Geen was third, tied with Edward Rutherford; James Walsh 9th; Hubert Townsend, 12th; Wilmet Shortt, 15th; Arthur McDonnell, 16th; Wm. Geen, 20th; G. Sutherland, 22nd; Laurison Ketcheson, 26th; Ernest Anderson, 27th; Stanley Geen, 29th; Farley Lindenfield and Allan McDonnell tied for 31st; Wallace Pigden, 33rd; Bruce Prindle, 35th; Howard Cooney, 37th. In the Boys' Grain Club, Sheaf Exhibit winners were 1st, Carman Geen, Thomasburg; 2nd, Kenneth Motley, R. R. 7, Belleville; 3rd, Stanley Geen, Thomasburg.

BROKE HIS ARM

Freddie, young son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Eggleton, received a broken left arm on Saturday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, when he fell from a tree at the rear of the Dominion Store. He was taken to Belleville for an X-ray, following which the fracture was reduced by Dr. W. H. Pedley.

WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Winners of Scholarships and Proficiency Awards for High School

This week Mr. J. L. Good, Principal of Stirling High School, announced the winners of the various scholarships and proficiency awards at the local school.

In the Upper School Departmental examinations, Donald Ralph Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Campbell, of Stirling, obtained the highest aggregate on the eight best papers written by pupils of the local school, and is the winner of the Hon. J. R. Cooke Scholarship of $50.00. The following letter was received by the principal:

Toronto, Sept. 2, 1937

Dear Sir,—

I beg leave to inform you that the marks obtained on the eight best papers written at the Departmental Upper School who were reported as competitors for the Hon. J. R. Cooke Scholarship have been duly considered and I find that Donald Ralph Campbell obtained the highest aggregate. He is therefore entitled to receive the Scholarship for 1937. The cheque will be issued in his favour through the Treasury Department and will be forwarded in your care at an early date.

Yours very truly,
G. L. LYONS

Jr. Matriculation Scholarships
The First Dorothy Chard Parker Scholarship, value ten dollars, was won by Marion Richardson.

The Second Dorothy Chard Parker Scholarship, value five dollars, was won by Helen Morrow.

These scholarships were graciously donated by Mr. F. R. Parker, Preston, Ontario, in memory of his daughter, Miss Dorothy Chard Parker, granddaughter of Dr. Robert Parker, of Stirling, Ontario.

Proficiency Awards

The students who will have the honour of having their names engraved on the new Proficiency Shields are:

- Form I. — Norma Dettlor.
- Form II. — Garland McKeown.
- Form III. — Richard Chard.
- Form IV. — Marion Richardson.
- Form V. — Ralph Campbell.

These shields were donated through the kindness of the following citizens: Dr. H. H. Alger, C. R. Bastedo, R. B. Duffin, J. S. Morton, W. Wright.

VISITS BIRTHPLACE

On Friday last Messrs Leason Baragar, of London, Ont., and Mr. Percy Baragar, of Edmonton, Alta., called on Mr. William Patterson, of Stirling, and paid a visit to their old home in Rawdon Township, which is now owned by Mr. G. B. Bedford, Mr. Leason Baragar, who is general manager of the Superbest Gas Company in London, left here when only three months of age, but his brother, Percy, was ten years old at the time and could recall many of his boyhood activities around his old home.

SCHOOL FAIRS CANCELLED

All of the School Fairs in Hastings County, with the exception of Maymooth, to be held Saturday, are cancelled because of the Infantile Paralysis epidemic. Jos. Wilson, agricultural Representative for Hastings, announced. No plans have been formed as yet, for substituting some other form of Agricultural enterprise for the school children.

This practice is being followed generally throughout the Province, stated Mr. Wilson today, and official notices have been forwarded to the teachers and secretaries of the various school sections affected.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE

With Labour Day past and gone for another year, the holiday season is practically over and people are returning to their homes from a summer at the cottage or from a well-earned holiday at some favourite summer resort. While the opening of school has been delayed somewhat in various centres including Stirling due to the prevailing infantile paralysis epidemic, the children will soon return to their studies and the average home has resumed the general routine. With the holiday season over, the business life of Stirling is also taking on an air of normality again. The Fall season is almost here and since the colder weather comes with this season, one's thoughts turn to purchasing the needs for the fall and winter. Stirling merchants are stocking their shelves with seasonable merchandise and purchasers need not go outside of the borders of the village to satisfy the majority of their wants. If what is desired is not in stock, there is no doubt but what the local merchants will be pleased to order whatever is wanted, and in this way keep the business at home. Prosperity in this community is entirely dependent upon the success of the business men and the farmers of the surrounding district. The more money spent with the merchants the more money will circulate back into the pockets of the citizens. Let your dollars serve the community and home interests.

LOCAL HYDRO RATES REDUCED

Users of electrical energy in Stirling will welcome the announcement made by the Stirling Hydro-Electric Commission that a reduction of practically ten per cent. will be made in the local rates. The reduction applies to the August consumption and will be recorded on the September bill.

Under the reduced rates every user of electricity, whether it be for domestic or commercial purposes, will benefit. Domestic users who paid 3c per k.w. hour for the first fifty hours and 1.25c per k.w. for the remainder will now pay 2.5c for the first 60 k.w. hours and 1c for the remainder. Commercial users who paid 2.2c per k.w. hour for 100 hours' use of connected load or maximum demand and 1c for all additional consumption under the old rate, will now pay 2c per k.w. hour for the first 100 hours and 1c for additional consumption. The service charge remains the same, 5c per 100 watts connected load or maximum demand. The minimum bill in each of the above cases will remain the same, 83c gross, per month.

Power users will also benefit to a considerable extent as both initial and secondary rates have been reduced. Under the old rate the consumption rate was 2.5c per k.w. hour for the first 50 hours' use of load or maximum demand, 1.6c per k.w. hour for the next 50 hours' use and .33c per k.w. hour for all additional consumption. Class D discount 25 per cent. and 10 per cent. discount for prompt payment. Now power users will pay 2c per k.w. hour for first 50 hours' use of load or maximum demand; 1.3c per k.w. hour for the next 50 hours' use, while the cost of additional power remains the same. The same discounts apply now as formerly.

This is the second reduction in the Stirling rates within the past year, with the first one taking effect the first of August, 1936. The Stirling Hydro-Electric system is in a splendid financial position with no indebtedness whatever and ranks second-to-none for its size in the province. Its enviable position is the result of the untiring efforts of the various commissions which have directed its affairs and the efficient management by Mr. F. A. Sprentall. The thanks of the citizens are due them for their efforts on behalf of the community.

PATRONIZE THE FAIR

Two weeks from Tuesday and Wednesday are the dates of Stirling's annual Fair. The prize lists have been printed and distributed to all the members and prospective members and practically all the plans have been made for the event. The directors in charge of the various departments have been working hard and every effort is being made to make the 1937 Fair one of the best in the history of the Agricultural Society. All that is needed is the favour of the weather man and the loyal support of both patrons and exhibitors. The farmers of the district should take advantage of the opportunity to display to the public the class of livestock, grain and other products of their farms, while on the other hand the citizens should make it a point to attend the Fair in order that they may keep in touch with the advancement made in the Agricultural industry. This past year has seen a bountiful crop harvested in this district and all signs point to one of the finest exhibits for a number of years. Not only does the exhibitor have a chance of winning a prize at the local Fair, but his products are advertised to the thousands of spectators gathered from all sections of Central Ontario. The prize list is practically the same as last year, when the largest number of exhibits recorded in some time by the Society were on display. With the year's crop somewhat better than a year ago, one is safe in saying that this year's exhibit will surpass any year in the past.

The work of the Junior Farmers will again be to the fore with the Society, together with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, sponsoring a Junior Farmers' Fowl Club. This feature which the local Society has stressed for a number of years is one of the finest things any organization could do and the work in this connection, which has done much to encourage the farmers' sons, has received many favourable comments.

The usual attractions, such as the softball tournament and trials of speed, will be offered, as well as a number of novelty races and contests in front of the grandstand. Altogether, there is over a thousand dollars being offered in prizes, with an exceptionally large number of special prizes being donated by the local citizens and outsiders.

The urgent need of Stirling Fair, if it is to continue, is the whole-hearted support of every citizen of the district. The members of the Board have worked hard, and it is only through the interest and labour of these men that the Fair is made possible, and their efforts are deserving of all support. We trust that there may be a general increase in the number of exhibits and that citizens will give the Society their hearty support. Remember the dates, September 21st and 22nd. Invite your friends to attend and do all in your power to boost the Fair's success.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

This year the Dominion Government is encouraging a programme, in co-operation with the provincial governments for the establishment of unemployed youth. A sum of one million dollars was voted for the specific purpose of developing training projects within the various provinces. Plans have already been approved in the four Western Provinces. The greatest dearth of skilled labour seems to lie in the building trades. Before the War, the Old Country was the source of supply of skilled workmen. There the well-established system of apprenticeship in the building trades produced excellent mechanics. Due to the War the skilled labour was cut off. Furthermore, many a young man migrated to the United States during the building boom. A survey of the principal cities of Canada revealed a disturbing shortage and an almost total absence of apprentices. In the last few years, Ontario, British Columbia and Nova Scotia have passed Apprenticeship Acts, designed to bring about the systematic entry of young men into these trades.

The motor vehicle repair and the barbering and hair dressing trades have also been under the Apprentice Act in Ontario since last year. A new feature requested by these trades is that certificates of qualification be issued to all mechanics and operators.

To make such a scheme entirely successful, vocational guidance must begin with the later years of public school and continue through high school and technical schools so that when a boy or girl is handed to an employer for practical training, there will be close co-operation between school, parents, employer and government.

THE USE OF LEISURE

One of the easiest things in the world is to draw up rules for the guidance of human conduct. Probably the hardest thing in the world is to induce people to live up to such rules. Theoretically, everybody should have plenty of leisure time to devote to self-improvement, after his or her day's work is done. Therefore if the working day in which people earn their livings is cut down to a few hours, the world will speedily become a much better world, because everybody will devote the extra leisure thus gained to the pursuit of useful knowledge.

That doctrine is widely preached by well-meaning persons who have an ideal plan for living all figured out on paper. Like most ideal plans which relate to human conduct, this theory takes no account of human nature. Doubtless there are some persons who would rather use any additional leisure time for study and self-development than to go to the movies or a baseball game. We have heard of such people but we have met very few of them. On the other hand, we have observed that the individual who is really bent on self-improvement will find time in which to do things which interest him, regardless of how many hours he has to work on his daily job.

Doubt of the theory that more leisure is what the world needs is cut by a famous psychologist who has been investigating the work-and-play habits of men and women employed by a large corporation. Dr. Edward J. Thorndike and his six associates, declare that human beings who already devote more than half their leisure to self-entertainment would be more likely than not to devote any increased leisure time to the same ends, instead of pursuing wisdom and truth.

Analyzing the use which this group of men and women make of the time they have left after their eight-hour day of work, the psychologists report that they average eight hours of sleep. Out of the rest of the day comes the time spent in travelling to and from the job, time out for eating — men spend more time at the table than women do — and time spent in personal adornment. Here the women use more time than the men. But in the 40 hours left every week do these workers pursue knowledge? Not so anyone would notice it. Four-fifths of their leisure is spent in games and sports, going to the movies, listening to the radio and similar recreations.

That is about what most of us do with our leisure. Perhaps it's just too bad that we won't perform according to the program of the uplifters — and then, perhaps, there's something in the idea of getting as much fun out of life as you can.

What Others Say

CAN'T SUE THE HYDRO

(St. Catharines Standard)
Ontario Hydro Commission has billed Galt for $6,000 and Galt refuses to pay. No court can settle this, because the Ontario Commission is above and beyond all law, by the Roebuck legislation.

BE A GOOD SPORT

(Trenton-Courier-Advocate)
While we all must take some part in the present provincial election, let us do so as good sportsmen. It is a fine thing to win, but it is a much finer thing to lose with good grace. Remember, that there will be many days after the election is all over when we must meet the same people, must transact business with them, must retain their friendship.

NO SUCH CHARGES LAID

(Financial Post)
The Toronto Globe and Mail prints an interview with a labor organizer who declares that average wages paid men in one textile plant in Ontario are below $15 a week for a 60-hour week. "There are a thousand men who are lucky to get $12 a week the year round," the labor man is quoted as saying. This statement, and others referring to hours of work and plant conditions under which employees labored, were later flatly denied by the company concerned. The Textile Enquiry took evidence for months and no such charges were laid before it. Ontario has an Industrial Relations Board under a former chairman. It is presumably investigating conditions in this very plant at the present time.

STILL LIBERAL ORGAN

(Alliston Herald)
The Globe and Mail in Monday's issue resented the accusation that it is running the Ontario government. It may not be running the government, but it is certainly endorsing every thing it does and every item of the policy enunciated by Mr. Hepburn. There was a time when the Ontario premier was criticised by the Globe and Mail for its attitude towards the power contracts with Quebec power companies and that attitude is the same today as it was when the contracts were cancelled and the power companies shut out of the courts, but never a word of protest comes from the Toronto morning paper any more. Premier Aberhart of Alberta is condemned because he refused the banks access to the courts, but no word of condemnation is printed against Premier Hepburn for doing the same thing. The Globe and Mail remains true to its old form before it attached the word Mail to its title.

EARLY DUCK SEASON

Duck hunters will get an earlier start at their favourite sport, according to a statement just released by the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries. Highway No. 7 this year will be the dividing line between the two duck hunting areas in the Central Ontario district. In territory north of No. 7 Highway the season will open September 15th and continue to November 15. In the areas south of Highway No. 7, the season will extend from October 1st to November 30th.

PARTRIDGES PLENTIFUL

Partridge are more numerous in the northern section of the county this year, according to Edward Venton, Bancroft district trucker, who during the past few weeks on his various trips through the north has seen them along the rail fences and in the hardwood bush. Favourable breeding conditions this year are held by the Bancroft man as being responsible for the increase in the birds.

MODERN TELEPHONE ETIQUETTE

Don't say "Hello" when answering a telephone grin; courtesy has a place there as much as in face-to-face personal relations, according to a booklet entitled "You and Your Telephone," issued by the New York Telephone Company.

"When you answer, avoid such old-fashioned, indefinite and time-wasting words as 'hello' and 'yes,' this new treatise on telephone usage says.

Instead of the hackneyed, time-worn 'hello,' the booklet suggests that in answering the name of the organization they represent or, in the event of an individual, their own name, and urges that everyone should 'phone as you would be phoned to.'

It urges 'a voice with a smile,' since the voice over the telephone gives a mental picture of the speaker — 'smiling or grinning, courteous or grumpy, trustworthy or crafty.' In other words it is the voice that betrays the character. Moreover, the booklet urges telephone users to speak clearly and tactfully.

One of the inmates of a certain prison was called into the Governor's office.

"You were sent here, I believe, for writing a glowing prospectus for an oil company."

"Yes," said the prisoner; "I was a little too optimistic."

"Well," went on the Governor, "the authorities want a report on conditions in this prison. I've decided to let you write it."

The men were swapping stories.

"When I was logging up in Oregon," said the one of them, "I saw a wildcat come right up to the skidder one day. It was a fierce beast, but with great presence of mind, I threw a bucket of water in its face and it slunk away."

"Boys," said a man sitting in the corner, "I can vouch for the truth of that story. A few minutes after that happened, I was coming down the side of the hill. I met this wildcat, and, as is my habit, stopped to stroke its whiskers. Boys, those whiskers were wet."

oooooooooooo

An Englishman and a Scotsman had been celebrating, but the barman behind the counter had declined the last order. The Englishman picked up the half-dollar that had lain on the counter while the argument was in progress, and was about to pocket it when the Scot said, "Scuse me, that's my half-dollar."

"Oh, no, old boy, it's my half-dollar, I assure you."

"But it's mine. It's got my name on it. Look and you'll see 'George'."

The other inspected the coin carefully and handed it over, saying, "Beg your pardon, old boy, you're quite right."

oooooooooooo

"Overboard!" shrieked the watch. A thousand men and women rushed to the rail to see a woman gasping and floundering in the cold, green, sinister water.

"Sharks!" screamed the multitude, as white flashes darted towards the body below. Before the rope was lowered the terrified assembly gazed in wonder as each of the vicious fish darted by — only to turn away disappointed.

".....and what do you attribute it to?" inquired the newspaper reporter, when the boat reached port.

"The fish wouldn't touch me," said the lady, modestly. "They were man-eaters, you know."

oooooooooooo

Two men had met together with the intention of planting some bogus shares on a third man, and they worked extremely hard to carry out their scheme.

The "victim" seemed impressed but said that he would think the matter over and let them know next day.

As he left one crook said to the other, "That's all right. You'll see tomorrow that guy'll hand over a cheque and sign on the dotted line." "I'm not so sure of that," said the other. "It seemed to me that he was a bit suspicious. I noticed that he counted his fingers after you had shaken hands with him."

BELLEVILLE MARKET

A large crowd of purchasers were on hand at the Belleville market on Saturday to inspect the display of farm and dairy produce.

Cantaloupes from the size of an apple to that of a pumpkin in varied colours and prices were offered to a briskly buying public. For the sum of five cents one could purchase the smaller sizes, while the larger ones ranged up to as high as thirty and thirty-five cents. Watermelons were also profuse and sold from ten cents upwards.

Peaches ran a close second in quantity to the melons with wagon and truckloads being brought in for sale. No. 1's were offered at forty and forty-five cents the basket, with No. 2's quoted at thirty and thirty-five cents the six-quart lot.

Rounding out a fine fruit exhibit were Bradshaw plums at thirty-five cents per basket; green gages at thirty cents; Burbank plums at thirty-five cents for the same quantity. Blue grapes were offered at sixty cents per basket and blackberries at twenty cents per box.

Tomatoes showed no change in price from those quoted a week ago. Bushel lots were offered at fifty cents with baskets at fifteen and twenty cents. Potatoes likewise remained firm with bushel prices quoted at seventy-five and eighty cents. Sweet corn was offered in most quarters at ten cents per dozen ears, although some vendors demanded twenty-five cents for two dozen lots.

Cabbage and cauliflower of good quality were offered at from ten cents upward. Cucumbers did not decrease in quantity and sold at the prevailing price of ten cents per dozen. Carrots, beets, radishes and onions sold at the regular bunchlot prices of five cents.

A fine display of eggs, poultry and other dairy produce greeted market-ers in the inner market. Eggs showed a slight decline in price from the quotations of a week ago with "A" selects selling generally at twenty-seven cents per dozen with mediums quoted at twenty-three and twenty-five cents. Dairy butter held firm at thirty cents per pound, although some vendors held out for higher prices.

Broiler chickens struck a popular note, selling at from sixty-five to ninety cents per pair. Other chickens were quoted at from sixty cents to one dollar each, a few ducks were available and sold at from fifty to seventy cents each. Honey was offered at ten cents per pound in different sized containers. Comb honey was quoted at twenty cents per comb.

CHEESE BOARD

Four prices were registered on the Belleville Cheese Board at the Saturday morning's trading.

Of a total of 2,560 boxes of white and 50 boxes of coloured cheese 1,214 boxes of white sold at 13 5-8 cents; 1,000 boxes at 13 9-16 cents and the balance at 13 1-2 cents. The 50 coloured sold at 14 5-16 cents. Initial bid was registered at 13 cents.

Buying was among Mr. Hart, Mr. Murphy, Mr. Hunter, Mr. McCreary, Mr. Meyers, Mr. Cook and Mr. Fraleigh.

Buyers present were Messrs. Taylor, Hart, Hunter, Cook, Morton, Fraleigh, Murphy, Ashton, McCreary.

HAVELOCK WINS EASTERN TITLE

Havelock "Wreckers" became the Junior "B" O.S.S.A. champions of Eastern Ontario on Friday night when they walloped Odessa Juniors 16 to 2, taking the final round in two straight games. Although handicapped by the loss of their star hurler, Don Clarke, the Havelock team, with Cliff Kennedy on the mound, had little difficulty in defeating their opponents. Kennedy, as well as going the full route in both games, also smashed out two homers, establishing himself as leading batsman of the series.

NORWOOD YOUTH LOST FOUR FINGERS

A painful accident occurred at the Norwood box factory, operated by Munro Bros., of Stirling, on Wednesday, when Donald Clark, son of Mr. Robert Clark, of Norwood-Havelock road, had four fingers severed from his right hand while operating an edger. First aid was given by Dr. H. G. Carleton and later he was taken to Nicholl's Hospital for treatment. Donald was a student at the Norwood High School, which he intended attending for the coming term.

MRS. GEORGE MCGOWAN

After a lingering illness, Mrs. George McGowan passed away at the family residence on the Ridge Road, in the Township of Rawdon, on Wednesday.

The late Mrs. McGowan, prior to her marriage, was Miss Rosa A. Daffoe, daughter of the late Mrs. Anson S. Daffoe. She was born in the Township of Sidney and was in her 67th year. For the past fifty years, she had made her home in Rawdon Township. In religion she was a member of the United Church. Surviving are her husband, George McGowan, Rawdon Township, an adopted son, Harry McGowan, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Albert Irwin, of Smithfield, and Mrs. J. M. Moore, Elm Creek, Manitoba; one brother, Albert Daffoe, Belleville.

REDUCTION IN LICENSES
Ontario motorists will pay $5.00 less for their 1938 license plates, Premier Mitchell Hepburn announced at Dundas on Friday night. A straight reduction of that amount will be made in the fees charged for all passenger car vehicles. The government was moving towards a nominal fee for motor licenses and would depend chiefly on the gasoline tax for revenues to provide for highways, Mr. Hepburn told the Hamilton-Wentworth Liberal convention as it re-nominated Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways. Present license fees for passenger cars are: four cylinder, $7.; sixes up to and including 28 horse-power, $12, over 28, $15; eight up to and including 35 horse-power, $15, over 35, $20; twelve, $30; sixteens, $40.

Department of Health of Ontario

"INFANTILE PARALYSIS" (POLIOMYELITIS)

The Department of Health has a sufficient supply of Convalescent Serum for present demands. This serum is obtained from persons who have previously suffered from an attack of "infantile paralysis".

In anticipation of further requirements the Department now requests that persons who are willing to provide blood for this purpose (donors) register with the medical officer of health in their district.

The Department remunerates donors on the basis of Ten Dollars for 100 cubic centimeters; the usual amount withdrawn from one donor is 200 cubic centimeters. This can be readily obtained without discomfort or ill effects to the donor.

Children under fourteen years of age are not eligible. Persons who have suffered an attack of the disease during the present year are also not eligible. Those persons fourteen years of age and over who have suffered an attack within the past twenty-five years and who show some definite evidence of resulting paralysis, are requested to provide the medical officer of health with their name and address.

Those who have already acted as donors need not register again.

VOTERS' LIST 1937

MUNICIPALITY OF THE VILLAGE OF STIRLING — COUNTY OF HASTINGS

Notice is hereby given that I have complied with Section 7 of the Voters' Lists Act and that I have posted names up at my office at Stirling, on the 23rd day of August, 1937, the list of all persons entitled to vote in the said municipality at municipal elections, and that such list remains there for inspection.

And I hereby call upon all voters to take immediate action to have any errors or omissions corrected according to law, the last day for appeal being the 13th day of Sept., 1937.

Dated at Stirling, August 26th, 1937.
Geo. H. Luery,
Clerk of Stirling

The schoolmistress had just received her pay, and little Johnny looked keenly to see what was in the envelope as she opened it.

After a while he asked: "Is that your salary, Miss?"

"It is, Johnny."

"But teacher, where do you work?"

kitchen utensils, etc., etc.

The bride and groom fittingly replied, thanking their friends for their kindness and inviting each and all to visit them in their new home.

Some time later a noisy serenade greeted the newlyweds. Lunch was served by the young ladies and a social time spent together.

Mrs. Fred Clarke and Miss Vera, of Aurora spent a few days last week with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Critchfield, of Syracuse, N.Y., spent the week-end with friends here and in Rawdon.

Misses Lillian and Mildred Nelson and Mr. Gordon Nelson, of Dartford, attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Reid on Friday night. Miss Lillian spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Warren Harlow.

Miss Helen McMullen, of Warwick spent the week-end and holiday with her parents.

Miss Alice Morrison, of Bethel, is spending a few days with Miss Marion McMullen.

Messrs Clarence Fitchett, Oliver Stapley and John Cooke attended the Quarterly Board meeting at West Huntingdon on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Hamilton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Eggleston.

Mr. and Mrs. James Raynor and Jack, of London spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Leonard Waterfall.

Mrs. Clarence Fitchett received the sad news on Monday of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Eggleston, Leslie, Sask.

Mrs. Tom Madill and children, of Lindsay, are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker.

SPRINGBROOK

Miss Mary Prince has returned home after spending the past three weeks in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Brock and family, Miss Cora Brock, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mills, of Toronto, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Prince.

Mrs. Florence Bateman, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Heath, attended Toronto exhibition last week and visited with friends in Oshawa and Bowmanville.

Mrs. Baker, of Stirling, was the guest of Mrs. Green for a few days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Felix McGee of Toronto, were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Morgan.

Mr. John Benson, of Toronto spent the week-end with his parents.

Miss Myrtle McKeown, of Peterboro was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McKeown over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich. Mason, of Oshawa, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. Mason.

BONARLAW

Mr. Roy Brown, Cheesemaker at Maple Leaf Factory, is again receiving the congratulations of his friends. He won two first and one second and one third prize on white cheese at the Belleville Fair last week.

Canon W. G. Swayne, Mrs. Swayne and Robert have returned from Ottawa and the Gatineau District, where they have been holidaying for the past month.

Mr. Fred D. Peake and Miss Bell, of Toronto, visited friends at Bonarlaw on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Bertha Blackburn of Coe Hill was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Stanley Molroy for several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Baker, of Peterboro, visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown over the week-end.

On account of the derailment near Shannonville on Wednesday last, all trains were routed via Bonarlaw and Peterboro for some time on the C.P.R., and the citizens here had a taste of the old-time activity with long freight trains and heavy passenger trains pounding through all night long.

St. Mark's Sunday School re-opened on Sunday last after the holiday. In his address to the Sunday School Canon Swayne referred to this being the 150th anniversary of the consecration of the first Anglican Bishop in the British Colonies, viz Rev. Chas. Inglis, first Bishop of Nova Scotia in 1787. At the church service following Sunday School the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brown, Olive Joyce, was baptized. Mrs. A. V. Brown acted as Godmother and Mr. J. R. Brown as Godfather.

Something Different

Boy, O Boy! I have a fish story. The scene Salmon Lake, near St. Oia. The hero, Dr. Gerald Morton, of Belleville. The date, Labour Day, Monday, of this week. The species—salmon trout, and the weight anywhere from 17 to 20 lbs. Time about 6 a.m. The Doctor caught it on a copper wobbler after about a twenty-minute struggle, which we consider a good piece of work as this sort of fish are noted for gameness. We were visiting our good friend M. K. Baker, who recently purchased the cottage next to Mr. Geo. Rosebush, of Trenton, and although very sleepy we heard that Doctor Morton was weighing a large trout, just landed, on Mr. Rosebush's scales, and we just had to see it. The scales said about 17 lbs. but we all knew they weighed light. My guess was 20.

BETHEL

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farrell, of Carmel, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Farrell.

Mrs. E. W. Caley and Jack, of Lanark, were guests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Reid.

"YES-SIR JAMES"

What has happened to the promises Hepburn made to the farmers of Ontario before he was elected?

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:

A special session of the legislature to deal with farm relief problems immediately after the election.

What Hepburn Did:

Nothing! He said: "The farmers must stand on their own feet."

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:

Help in improving livestock, grants to help agriculture.

What Hepburn Did:

He wiped out the Farm Loan Board—stopped bonuses for pure bred sires and grants to junior judging competitions—cut off $300,000 in grants made by the previous government to aid the farmer.

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:

Wider markets and better marketing facilities.

What Hepburn Did:

He closed the marketing agencies at Montreal, Winnipeg and in the Maritimes—closed Ontario House in London, England, which had created markets thereby increasing Ontario farmers' annual income by $10,000,000.

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:

A string of cold storage warehouses across Ontario, for the benefit of the farmer.

What Hepburn Did:

Nothing!

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:

Reduced taxation.

What Hepburn Did:

He collected in taxation 80% more than was collected in the last year of the Conservative Government, of which the farmers paid their share.

What is Sauce for the Goose ... Is Sauce for the Gander

BUT—while Mr. Hepburn was saying to the farmer "you must stand on your own feet" and was cutting off $300,000 in agricultural bonuses, he was passing on a bonus to Sir James Dunn of the Algoma Steel Corporation of almost a like amount of the taxpayers' money.

Agriculture and industry are both vitally necessary to the prosperity and welfare of the Canadian people. The farmer says, however, that "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander—why take away our bonus to bonus Sir James Dunn?"

THE PENTHOUSE MURDER

TWELFTH INSTALMENT

SYNOPSIS: A card game is in session in Elmer Henderson's penthouse atop a New York skyscraper. The players are: Henderson, Police Inspector, Flaherty, Martin Frazier, Archie Doane, Max Michaels and his friend Williams, a stockbroker.

They are waiting for Stephen Fitzgerald. When he fails to appear, a telephone call brings the information that he is out with a girl. Fitzgerald and Henderson are both romantically interested in Lydia Lane, the famous actress, but Archie Doane reveals that she is engaged to marry him.

Doane leaves the party early when Fitzgerald fails to appear. A short time later he telephones Inspector Flaherty with the frantic news that he has found Fitzgerald and Miss Lane dead in Lydia Lane's penthouse apartment.

When Flaherty and the medical examiner reach the apartment, they find that Miss Lane is still alive. She is rushed to a hospital where blood transfusions and care promise to restore her.

All circumstantial evidence points to Archie Doane as the murderer, especially when the murder gun is found carefully planted in the chimney clean-out in the basement.

Miss Lane's French maid, Adele Marceau, has been overheard threatening to shoot Fitzgerald if he did not stop annoying her. The janitor reports that Mademoiselle Marceau works in a night club on her day off and that she had talked to him in the basement on the night of the murder. Medical examination reveals that Lydia Lane had been given a hypodermic injection of a hypnotic drug before being shot, and that Fitzgerald's body also shows the mark of a hypodermic needle on his leg.

"Shall I explain to you, Henderson, wherein your plot failed, and at the same time explain to Inspector Flaherty and Assistant District Attorney Frazier the modus operandi of your crime? How much time have we?"

Henderson glanced at his wrist watch. "I shall be able to check you up, if you have gone wrong in any of your deductions, for about another half hour," he said. "Afterwards—who can tell? Again, Mr. Michaels, I bow to your superior intuition and reasoning powers. I confess I am curious to learn how your suspicions were first directed in my direction."

He shrugged his shoulders expressively, with a courteous smile.

"What's all this about?" demanded Inspector Flaherty, impatiently. "Henderson, did you kill Fitzgerald?"

"Not only that," said Max Michaels, "but he administered to himself a dose of slow-acting poison—hypodermically, I presume, Henderson?—which gives him another half hour of consciousness before he lapses into the sleep from which there is no waking. Am I right, Henderson?"

"Suicide?" exclaimed Martin Frazier, as Henderson nodded in confirmation of Michaels' statement. "We can't allow that."

"Suicide, I understand is not a crime," Henderson suggested. "It is much preferable to death by electricity."

"No, but attempted suicide is a crime, and connivance at suicide is also a crime," said Frazier. "We would all be guilty. I shall telephone at once for a physician."

"As you please," Henderson assented. "It will be useless, I assure you. The deed is already done. It is as irrevocable... as irrevocable as Stephen Fitzgerald's death. There is no antidote known to science for the virus which is already coursing through my veins. However, if it will satisfy the law to send for a doctor, I have no objection. You will find the telephone in the foyer, Frazier."

The Assistant District Attorney hurried to the telephone, while Dan Flaherty looked at the unperturbed countenance of Elmer Henderson with an expression in which amazement was mingled with admiration.

"I owe you an apology, Henderson," he said, after a moment's steady scrutiny. "Last night I said you were a great poker player and a good winner, but that I thought you'd show a yellow streak if the game went against you. I take that all back. You're a rat, but you're a game little rat, at that."

"Thank you, Inspector," replied Henderson, politely. "I am a soldier of fortune a gambler with life, if you like—and when I lose I pay without grumbling."

"There'll be an ambulance from Bellevue here in a few minutes," reported Frazier, returning from the telephone.

"I'll make my recital brief, then," said Michaels. "Martin, am I right in the belief that it was Henderson who suggested to you the idea that the revolver might be found at the bottom of the chimney?"

"Yes, that was a suggestion casually dropped by him when I called him up last night and reported that Miss Lane was still alive," agreed Frazier. "We naturally talked about all the details, so far as we know them at that time. I told him, I remember, that the weapon had not been found, but that we had not looked outside of the apartment as yet. He said something to the effect that it might easily have been thrown off the roof into the street, down the chimney or into the elevator shaft. I attached no special significance to what he said then. It was merely following out my own line of thought."

"But it was said with a purpose," Max Michaels resumed. "The purpose was to pin the crime irrevocably on Archie Doane, which the discovery of the gun in the chimney would have done, had the evidence of the snow not proved that he could not have put it there."

"The snow ruined your plot, Henderson," he went on. "It was obvious after the first minutes, gentlemen—to me at least—that both Miss Lane and Fitz had been shot before the snow fell. Regardless of what the Medical Examiner said as to the time Fitz could have lived with a bullet through his heart, I was convinced that he had lived for three hours, possibly longer, after being shot. A vague memory of a similar case stirred in my mind. While we were hunting for clues and discussing those we had found, the memory came clear.

"It was a case which was widely reported in the newspapers, of a man, shot through the heart, who had been kept alive for several hours thereafter by the prompt administration of a hypodermic injection of adrenalin, the drug extracted from the supra-renal glands, which control the pressure of blood in the arteries.

"As soon as I remembered that, I asked the medical examiner to look for any abrasion of the skin on Fitzgerald's body. You know what he reported—a puncture that could have been made by a hypodermic needle.

"That did not connect anyone specifically with the crime, but the finding of that revolver at the bottom of the chimney did.

"It was the ideal weapon for the crime. Access to it could be attributed to Doane. And it was equipped with a silencer.

"Only five persons concerned, so far as we know, had an opportunity to abstract that particular weapon from the Highart studio. Those five persons were Fitz himself, Miss Lane, Adele Marceau, Archie Doane and Elmer Henderson.

"The circumstances eliminated both Fitz and Miss Lane. They also eliminated Doane, because of the absence of any way in which he could have thrown the pistol down the chimney without leaving tracks in the snow. We did not know then whether the maid was involved or not, but I dropped her from consideration for the time being, after hearing the janitor's story.

"I decided to concentrate first on Henderson, and the more I reviewed the situation, the more clearly it all pointed to him. Yet there was nothing conclusive.

"If my theory was right, then Miss Lane did not telephone to Archie Doane. She was lying there, unconscious, with Fitz's dead body on the floor. Who did telephone Doane then? And why?

Miss Lane had been making voice tests in Henderson's studio—recording her voice on film by his new method. Archie Doane confirmed my suspicion that the words he heard over the phone were the exact words from a part she had been taking in a sound picture. What would have been easier than for Henderson to have called up Doane's rooms, switched on the film in his soundproof laboratory here, and let Archie hear the frantic call for help in his fiancée's own voice?"

"But we were all playing poker right here all the time," Dan Flaherty objected.

"A perfect alibi," Michaels admitted, "except that you may recall that just about eleven o'clock Henderson called attention to the time and went into the other room on the pretext of hunting for the whiskey, saying his man had gone out."

AFRAID OF THE DARK, MR. DRIVER?

Figures indicate you should be! Deaths from automobiles at night in Ontario increased 24 per cent from 1931 through 1936. Deaths from daylight crashes decreased 18.6 per cent during the same period.

In nearly all reports of night-time accidents, there is evidence that someone was driving faster than his eyes could see, or into darkness that wasn't dispelled by headlights or highway illumination. Human eyes are not like owl eyes. Light rays from headlights do not bend around curves or over hills.

The facts urge every driver to slow down when the sun goes down; to have two self-imposed speed limits—one for clear days, a slower one for nights and bad weather. Fear the dark as you do a fog, a snow storm, or a heavy rain—and made up your mind that Highway deaths must stop.

HYDRO IS YOURS... USE IT!

HYDRO
the FARM!

Before the advent of the motor car and Hydro in Ontario, the farmer was truly "the forgotten man". The days were long—the nights longer and lonelier... farm labor was arduous... the housework drudgery... the young people waited their chance to get to the city.

Few realize how much Hydro has changed rural life in Ontario. Its coming brought every advantage enjoyed by city homes. Hydro lights the home and barn—pumps the water—washes the clothes—cooks the food—brings the world's best entertainment into the parlor. Today, the farmer has within his grasp the opportunity to make his home equal to the most modern city home—to operate his farm with the most modern labor-saving equipment.

Fully realizing that the greatest single contribution it could make to a better, more enjoyable life, and a more permanent prosperity to Ontario, would be to electrify every rural home in the Province, the present Hydro has left no stone unturned to extend the benefits of low cost power to Rural Ontario.

During the present fiscal year, Hydro will spend approximately four million dollars building over 2,000 miles of new line to serve approximately 10,000 new rural customers. At August 15th, 1937, over 1,500 miles had been built, and more than 7,500 new customers added.

Service charges have always retarded Hydro growth. Realizing this, the present Commission cut these rates in half in November 1936. Hundreds of rural users immediately applied this saving on new appliances for the home or for labor saving and profit making electrical equipment on the farm.

In addition to this reduction in the service charge, the basic cost of power was reduced in some systems by $2.50 per h. p. On August 1st, a further reduction was made of $3.00 per h. p. in Eastern Ontario, and $2.00 per h. p. in the Niagara System. The effect of these reductions will ultimately be felt in reduced consumption charges all over the Province.

Certainly Rural Ontario has gained as much, if not more, than any other section of the Province by the success of the present Hydro in cutting power costs and extending the benefits of low-cost power. There is no "forgotten man" in the Hydro policy of today.

ALLAN SCHOOL LOG

S.S. No. 3 — RAWDON

During the early part of the nineteenth century, a little log school-house occupied the north-western corner of Mr. Caverley's lawn. For many years the studious children continued their studies, only to spend their leisure hours playing on the road as there was no playground. Mr. Caverley sold his farm to Mr. Henry Linn, and as he did not care for the school on his front lawn, ordered it to be moved. He sold a block of land across the road and on this the trustees endeavoured to build a brick school in the year 1870.

The building when completed measured forty feet by thirty-six feet. It was of brick structure with cedar shingles. The entrance to the school was built on the east side. There were two windows on the east and three each on the north and south side. A playground and well were provided for the children. A large wooden shed stood to the south of the school. Within the school one would have seen a pine floor, double desks, walls and ceiling of blue, blackboards on the west and north side of the walls of the school house. The school was heated by means of a box stove. A board fence eight feet high surrounded the yard. One day seventeen boys decided to sit on the fence and sun themselves, but the teacher thought otherwise and strapped every last one of them.

The name, Allan School was possibly given because of a former settler, Mr. Allan, on the farm where Mr. Allan Bailey now resides. Hubble Hill derived its name from those who lived about or near it namely: Reuben Hubble, Neamiah Hubble, Joshua Hubble. The community was named Mount Pleasant when Rev. Amos Campbell paid a visit to the church.

In 1927 the floor of the second school heaved, making it unfit for school purposes and a new building was erected. During this period the pupils were housed in the hall nearby which was formerly a Baptist church.

The school lies a little south of the former brick one and is built of red brick with a cedar shingle roof. On the east are six windows which provide sufficient light for the class rooms. The school faces south with blackboards at the south, west and north. The desks are assorted in size, making them comfortable for small and large pupils. At the west is the teacher's room with three west windows, and in this room is the splendid library with a large collection of new and old books, an up-to-date globe and many maps. At the south is a long lobby equipped with hooks for clothes, and shelves for dinner pails; also a drinking fountain and wash basin. This room opens out into another entry where two sets of steps lead to the basement and another door leads out to the covered porch with a southern exposure. The basement houses a pipeless furnace and well equipped toilets, and a gasoline engine for pumping the water.

The school was officially opened on January 2th, 1928. Those present were: Mr. A. W. McGuire, I.P.S.; Rev. F. G. Joblin; Trustees, Treasurer, the pupils of S.S. No. 3, and a large number of ratepayers of the community. The area of the playground is approximately one acre, and here the children enjoy games of ball and the swings. Each Christmas the pupils of this school and the adjoining school on the west of Mount Pleasant church with their teachers give a union concert in the Church Hall, dividing the proceeds. With this money many useful articles have been bought for the schools, besides curtains for the windows and equipment for the playground.

The approximate cost of the school was fifty-three hundred dollars, with a ten-year debenture.

Two California poplars were donated by the Agricultural Society and were planted May 9, 1935 by Mr. Jas. Linn, Mr. Clifford Holmes and Miss Muriel Milligan.

In this Coronation year of 1937 a special celebration was held on Empire Day when four acorns from Windsor Forest, England, were planted by the Sr. IV. Class, namely James Hoard, Ray White, Helen White and Gladys Sharp. A large number of folk were present, including Rev. J. E. Beckel, and all enjoyed a splendid program. Household Science was begun in November, 1936, when all necessary equipment was purchased, such as fall-leaf table, coal oil stove, corner cupboard, towel rack, necessary dishes, and a hot lunch served at noon hour during the winter months. The teachers of the Allan School since 1879 have been as follows: 1879, George Thompson; 1880-1882, Walter Smith; 1883-1884, Annie Mosher; 1885-1886, Isabella Pollock; 1887, N. McCann; 1888-1890, Fannie Gunter; 1891-1892, Joe G. Milne; 1893, J. W. Thompson; 1894, E. C. Vallance; 1895, D. M. Moore; 1896-97, Oscar Sharp; 1898, W. Brown; 1899, S. M. Trotter; 1900, Joseph Frapp; 1901, Y. C. Bird; 1901-1906, Ella Faulkner; 1907-1908, Blanche Williams; 1909, Ella Campbell; 1910-1911, Nellie Totton; 1912, C. E. Treadgold; 1912-1913, Alice Waldron; 1913, Mary M. Beecroft; 1913-1915, Annie Stephens; 1915-1917, Pearl McAdam; 1917, Lucy Williams; 1918, Adele C. Erven; 1918, Minnie Payne; 1919, T. Thompson; 1919, Gladys Morton; 1920-1922, Ida Thompson; 1922-1924, Ida M. Marshall; 1924-1925, Jessie Gammell; 1926, Annie Haig; 1926-1928, Beatrice Borland; 1928-1929, Fern Telford; 1929-1933, Evelyn Neal; 1933-1937, Muriel M. Milligan.

Some of the past trustees of Allan School were Mr. Henry White, Mr. Allan Reid, Mr. Henry Linn, Mr. Allan Bailey, Mr. Thomas McKeown and Mr. Conger McConnell. The following have held the office of Secretary-Treasurer: Mr. Allan Reid, Mr. George Weaver, Mr. John Reid, Mr. Irvin Reid has held the office since January 1923.

Among those from this school who served overseas were: Garnet Bailey, Frank Hubble, Floyd Garrison, Osborne Smith, Roy Dunkley.

Some of the pupils became teachers, namely Florence Hubble, Flossie Bailey, Vita Bailey and Garnet Bailey. In June 1937 there were eighteen boys and girls enrolled at the school and Miss Bamo Cole has been engaged as teacher, her duties beginning in September.

Practically every year the pupils have been keenly interested in Rawdon Township School Fair and several have won various cups and prizes which have been awarded from year to year.

Some of the pupils have also been successful in winning the Warden's medal for public speaking.

The caretakers of the new school have been Mr. James Linn, Mr. Elgin Chard, Mr. Allan Bailey and Mr. Blake Sharp.

The trustees for 1937 are: Mr. C.

Sharp, chairman; Mr. Ross Hoard; Mr. Irvin Reid, Sec. Treas.

The writer of this article, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, is indebted to Miss Muriel Milligan for valuable assistance in preparing this log, and she feels that there may be still some details which have been omitted because of lack of time to hunt up the facts. Will anyone having further information please forward to the Secretary-Treasurer so that it may be included in the School History.

straight ahead. It isn't a riddle at all. Can you solve it? Here's a clue: That's the only time when the driver can really "step on the gas". Last year, in 628 accidents, in which people were killed, 521 cars were "going straight," and so were 8,092 of the cars involved in 10,438 non fatal accidents. Highway Deaths can be eliminated if drivers will mix brains, as well as air, with their gasoline.

IT'S NO RIDDLE

It seems a riddle that most accidents occur when the driver is going

The Ontario Department of Health

Presents a Statement by

The Academy of Medicine, Toronto, on

"INFANTILE PARALYSIS" (POLIOMYELITIS)

Realizing the anxiety which exists in the public mind today with respect to the increased prevalence of Poliomyelitis ("Infantile Paralysis") in Toronto and other parts of the province, the Academy of Medicine of Toronto, which represents more than one thousand physicians, called a special meeting of its Council, September 1st, to review the whole situation. To this meeting were invited representatives from all departments of medicine interested in this subject.

At the conclusion of the conference, during which time all of the pertinent facts of the present situation were presented and discussed, it was felt that, in fairness to the public, an official statement should be made to set forth the facts exactly as they exist. To this end, a committee was appointed to prepare and issue an official statement, which follows:

Poliomyelitis ("Infantile Paralysis") is a communicable disease. It is definitely known that it is caused by the entrance into the body of a minute form of life known as a virus. It is known also that this virus enters commonly through the upper part of the nasal tract. There is no evidence that the disease is conveyed by flies or domestic animals.

When an outbreak of the disease occurs, healthy persons as well as those ill with the disease are found to harbour the virus in the secretions of the nose and throat. The disease is, therefore, spread through the contact of persons one with another.

Usually the virus occasions only a mild illness but sometimes the virus enters the central nervous system, which may result in paralysis. The majority of adults are not susceptible to the disease.

Present Situation

While the number of cases reported in Toronto is greater than in any previous outbreak of this disease, and there is no reason to presume that the incidence rate is likely to decline within the next two or three weeks, it must be borne in mind that not 25% of these cases show any evidence whatever of paralysis. Furthermore, among those developing paralysis, the majority eventually will recover complete use of their paralysed limbs. It would appear, therefore, that while there is every reason for the public to view the present situation with concern, there is no justification for undue alarm or hysterical behaviour.

According to figures computed by the Department of Health, Ontario, to date, there are estimated to be 750 cases in Ontario, of which 285 have occurred in the City of Toronto. Of this number, 212 cases have been admitted to the Riverdale Isolation Hospital, only 54 of whom developed some degree of paralysis. There were 11 deaths in this group. Statistics of a similar nature apply to the Hospital for Sick Children, which has received its cases not only from Toronto but from other parts of the province.

Control Measures

These include the strict isolation of all persons ill with the disease and the quarantine of those who have been in immediate contact.

In as much as it is not known who are or are not carriers of this disease, it is advisable to reduce to a minimum, contact with other people. In other words, keep out of crowds. As children are particularly susceptible, it is most important that they be kept as far as possible from mingling with other persons. For this reason, the opening of the schools of Toronto has been deferred and the Department of Health of the Province of Ontario has recommended to parents that they see to it that their children avoid attendance at theatres, playgrounds, bathing pools and beaches and other places of amusement where children congregate. The Academy agrees with the provincial and municipal health authorities that the responsibility for the control of the activities of children is primarily the duty of the parents.

The Department of Health of Ontario has completed within its own organization plans whereby serum for the treatment of this disease is available in any part of the province upon the request of the attending physician.

Nasal Spray

Experimental work with animals indicates that Poliomyelitis can be prevented by spraying the extreme upper part of the inside of the nose with a harmless solution of zinc sulphate. This was discovered during the past year. To date, its value in the prevention of Poliomyelitis in humans is not known. To be in any degree effective, the spray must be applied high up inside the nose. This can only be done with a specially constructed atomizer and by a physician thoroughly familiar with this type of work. The application of this or any other spray by an ordinary atomizer or to the lower part of the nose is quite useless. The possible value of the nasal spray properly administered is being determined at the present time in Toronto.

The Council of the Academy of Medicine of Toronto endorses the attitude adopted by the provincial Department of Health and the local Board of Health in respect to measures designed to control the present situation. We would respectfully suggest that the general public will best serve its own interests by endeavoring to follow the advice which is being given by these health authorities.

Mr. Carl Price of Craigmont underwent an operation in Kingston General Hospital on Tuesday morning. His sister, Mrs. M. Kilfoyle, of Edmonton, is remaining with him for a few days. From there she will journey to Cobalt and Timmins, to visit sisters and brothers en route to her home in Edmonton.

"AT HOME" SPONSORED BY BETHEL LADIES' AID

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Heath, Harold, was the scene of a happy gathering recently when over fifty guests of Springbrook and Stirling and Wellman's Women's Associations attended an "At Home" sponsored by Bethel Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. Harold Elliott, President of Bethel, presided and the service opened with a hymn. Mrs. J. E. Beckel offered prayer. Mrs. Elliott graciously welcomed the guests and Mrs. Florence Bateman, president of Springbrook W.A. replied. Mrs. Clifford Clancy read a Temperance selection. Master Bobby Elliott contributed a vocal number. Mrs. Ernest Munro gave a humorous selection. Mrs. Sid Mason delighted with a solo.

Mrs. J. A. Lott, Frankford, Honorary District President and District Representative was guest speaker and in her address she stressed the need of a spiritual atmosphere of W. A. workers and thought the financial need would look after itself if the spiritual side came first. She urged the ladies to serve God to the best of their ability as Christ did His earthly task, beautifully and well.

At the close of this fine address the speaker was gratefully thanked for her message. Mrs. John Heagle, Wellman, sang a solo. Mrs. A. W. Harding, Springbrook, delighted with one of Dr. Gunn's "Homely Honosies". Mrs. Francis Jeffrey, Stirling, sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere". Brief remarks were given by Mrs. Cecil Macklin, Stirling, District President, and Rev. A. W. Harding. The service closed with Auld Lang Syne. A delicious lunch of salads, cake, tarts and coffee was served and over eleven dollars was realized.

W.M.S. BRANCH EXECUTIVE

(By Florence MacMullen)

The Bay of Quinte Conference Branch Executive of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada convened at The Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, and the President, Mrs. R. O. Jolliffe, presided over the afternoon meetings and each Secretary presented the work of her department. The delegate to conference in 1938 will be the President of the Presbyterian where the Conference is held.

The Convenor of the Nominating Committee for the next two years will be Mrs. W. J. McPherson. The Spring Executive will convene at Kingston in April, 1938. The allocation of 77,500 for 1938 was accepted as follows: Belleville, 17,000; Cobourg, 9,000; Kingston, 10,500; Lindsay, 8,000; Oshawa, 11,300; Peterborough, 9,500; Ren-fron 12,200.

Mrs. W. L. Smyth, B.A., of Pembroke, was Dean of "The School for Leaders" and gave four inspirational lectures on "The Church and the Kingdom". Classes were taught by Mrs. Theo. Trickey, Dean of Hamilton-Toronto School on Worship; Mrs. J. L. Callan, Smith Falls, Mission Bands; Miss Helen Day and Miss Olive Hamby, Young People.

Some of the special features were Miss Jessie Murray, "A tour of our Mission Fields"; Rev. J. H. Arnup, D. D., "The Church and Missions"; Mrs. D. M. Rose, "India and its People"; Mrs. N. J. White and Mrs. R. M. Seymour, "Education through the Drama"; Rev. W. F. Bannister, "Missionary Education for Young People"; Miss Evelyn Mitchell, "Intimate Pictures of our work"; Miss Pearl Chikan, B.A., "Greetings from China"; Dr. Gladys Cunningham, B.A., "Why Missions".

The new Study Books were discussed and over 130 delegates were in attendance and all received a vast amount of knowledge and inspiration.

HASTINGS COUNTY WON SECOND

Just at press time today we learned that the girls' team representing Hastings County in the judging competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition this week, was successful in winning second prize in the team demonstration on salads. Full particulars will be given in next week's issue.

BRIDE-ELECT SHOWERED

On Friday evening, Sept. 3rd, Miss Eva Brown and Mrs. Harper Rollins were hostesses at a cup-and-saucer shower held at "Roll-Inn", Oak Lake, in honour of Miss Helen Mallory.

After playing an amusing game and puzzling over several contests, the guests sat back and watched Miss Mallory follow a trail of slips of paper to find pretty cups and saucers hidden in dark corners. The first cup contained a verse composed by Mrs. Rollins, expressing very neatly the best wishes of all the girls for the happiness of the bride-to-be.

A dainty lunch brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

On Monday afternoon, Sept. 6th, about eighteen girls were guests of Miss Marjorie Hagerman and Miss Marion Tucker at a kitchen shower given in honour of Miss Mallory at Miss Tucker's home.

The afternoon was spent in playing games and singing. Then Miss Hagerman and others voiced their wishes for Miss Mallory's happiness and the latter proceeded to unwrap her gifts which were piled on a table prettily decorated with pink and white streamers and a "charming" doll-bride. The gifts were useful kitchen articles in the bride-to-be's favourite colour and in each parcel she found a recipe. In a few well-chosen words Miss Mallory thanked the girls and urged them to come and see how well her presents would fit

WEST HUNTINGDON

The Labour Day holiday was observed here, but perhaps somewhat different than in some of the larger centres. The school children were given a holiday. But all of our factories were operating as usual.

The presence of Jack Frost on Monday morning started the corn binders going and in a few days silo filling will be the order of the day. The farmers are finding it difficult to plow. A rain would be greatly appreciated.

The Huntingdon Council met for their September meeting at the Town Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

The Official Board of the United Church of West Huntingdon Circuit held their quarterly meeting at the United Church on Monday evening.

Rev. W. R. Tristram was the guest speaker at the Bethel Anniversary dinner on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Geo. Saries has rented the Rodgers farm on Ridge Road and will take immediate possession.

The Poliomylitis scare brought a great disappointment to our school children when it was learned on Tuesday that the annual school fair, which was to have been held on Thursday, at Ivanhoe, was postponed indefinitely.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Geo. McGowan was held at her late residence, Ridge Road in the beautiful grove adjoining the home. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Scott, of St. Paul's United Church, Rev. Mr. Beckel, of Rawdon Circuit, conducted the service. Mr. Hugh McMullen gave two appropriate solos. Interment was made in Stirling cemetery. The pallbearers were Sandy McCurdy, Phillip Carr, Frank Hammond, Nathaniel Heath, Volney Richardson and Hiram Rodgers.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sills, Russell and Lindsay and Mr. Howard Ashley spent a few days recently visiting Mrs. Sills' relatives at Embro in Oxford County. They also attended the Lindsay-Rutherford family picnic which was held on the old homestead farm.

Labour Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sarah Fargey and Don were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fargey, of Detroit; Mrs. Jack Lowe, Peter and Jeffrey, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cosby and WHY WORRY?

How many people we all know who spend their lives in worrying about things that never happen. Worrying is the most fruitless of all human occupations. Worrying about something which has already occurred cures nothing. Worrying about something which has not yet happened will not avert it, and nine times out of ten the things we are worrying about never come off.

Worrying has its roots in fear. Really courageous people do not give way to worry. Most worrying is due to too lively an imagination. Those who indulge in worry are usually soft-hearted, sentimental folk who do not have a realistic outlook on life.

Most worriers have an overly strong sense of personal responsibility for other people. Their high sense of duty leads them to fear that they have in some way been remiss in their obligations to others.

Most chronic worriers are concerned about their personal health. Many have carried themselves into premature graves. Whatever is wrong with the bodily machinery is made worse by worrying about it.

There are very few things which can happen to anyone that are worth worrying about. To advise people to stop worrying is not to advise them to take no precautions against the future. Careful, foresighted people are seldom worriers. They face the present with a stout heart and the future with the calm assurance that all the world expects of anyone is to do the best he can. And they let the dead past bury its dead.

COME TO THE FAIR

One week from today and it will be all over. We refer to the Stirling Fall Fair, which will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday, September 21st and 22nd. The fair is designed and planned to further the interests of Agriculture in the townships surrounding Stirling, and is deserving of the support of every citizen for miles around. Nothing represents the life of any community like the fall fair, with its various displays of the ladies' handiwork and the exhibits in cattle and produce from the farms.

The Directors have been working for months to make the prize list and the program of entertainment attractive. That they have been successful in part is manifest by the list of entries already received by the Secretary, and it is anticipated there will be many more. Last year's exhibits were the greatest in number for many years, and with the bountiful harvest of the current year, it is anticipated that this year's exhibits will far outnumber those of recent years.

The special prize list far exceeds anything of recent years and farmers and their wives would do well to check the list, which appears on page seven, and then prepare an exhibit.

The arrangements for the Fair are practically completed. A final meeting will be held this evening to make sure that nothing has been overlooked. The programme for the day includes attractions for young and old, with a number of new features, and it is earnestly hoped that the farmers and others in the district will be in attendance.

Two trials of speed will provide entertainment for the horse race devotees and the committee in charge have been assured that some good horses will be present. A slight change has been made in the race programme this year, making each heat a race. This plan has been tried in other centres and it is claimed to make keener racing. In addition there will be the usual race for farmers' horses hitched to four-wheel vehicles, and the running race for farmers' horses weighing over 1200 lbs., and good prizes are being offered. The potato race on horseback, which provided so much amusement for the fair patrons last year has again been put on the programme, and in addition a novelty race, in which the contestants must harness and hitch their horses and drive once around the track will be staged. Bicycle races will also be staged for the boys.

Lovers of softball are assured of a real treat this year, with a tournament arranged between the Springbrook, Minto and Bethel teams. Bethel and Springbrook waged a five-game battle before a winner was declared in the Rawdon League, while Minto are the champions of the Central League, and have a victory over the Bethel boys to their credit. No matter who wins, the fans are assured of two exciting games by teams that represent the best in the district.

A Horseshoe Pitching Contest has been arranged, and it is expected that a suitable trophy will be offered for competition. The game of horseshoes has a large following in this district and it is anticipated there will be plenty of keen competition before a winner is decided. There will also be all kinds of games in operation for amusement of the Fair visitors.

The local Horticultural Society will have the usual display in the Main Building, and the regular exhibit of Manual Training work done by the pupils of Stirling Public School will be on display. The Championship School Fair, which has been a feature for years past, will be missing due to the cancellation of the School Fairs in the County on account of the prevailing paralysis epidemic, but it is expected that provision will be made by the Agricultural Society for the accommodation of the exhibits of the school children. A Boys' Foal Club is being sponsored by the Society in conjunction with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and a large number of entries is assured.

Altogether this year's programme looks attractive, and given fair weather next Wednesday, the local Fair Grounds should be the meeting place for thousands of the citizens of Hastings and adjacent Counties. Plan to attend and invite your friends to meet you at the Stirling Fair, the biggest and best rural fair in the County. Not only will you benefit educationally from a visit to the Fair, but by your attendance you will show your appreciation of the efforts of the directors in providing Stirling and district with an annual Fall Exhibition.

CURRENT COMMENT

Less than four weeks until polling day, so the political pot will soon be boiling merrily.

Is your name on the voters' list for the coming provincial election? This is a matter that every voter should make sure of to avoid any disappointments on polling day. Residents of Stirling have until Friday of next week to add their names.

The cooler days and evenings are with us when householders require a small fire in the heater or furnace to make things cosy and warm. Residents are reminded before using the heater or furnace that the pipes should be cleaned of all soot, not only as a precaution against fire, but because soot acts as an insulation and keeps the pipes cool.

This past week's rains have been welcomed by the farmers of this district. With threshing operations practically completed they have turned to the many other jobs around the farm including fall plowing. In some places the ground had become baked and dry and it was very difficult to do this important work. The rains will also be a help to the later crops which have yet to be harvested.

Revenues from motor vehicle registrations and gasoline tax in Canada during 1936 totalled $60,165,279, an increase of $5,541,656 over the previous year. Motor vehicle registrations accounted for $25,632,843 compared with $23,090,978; gasoline tax totalled $34,532,436 as against $31,532,645. From these figures it may be seen clearly that motorists as a class are a most important factor as a revenue producer for the various provinces of the Dominion.

With polling day only three weeks away there has been little political activity apparent in this section of the riding of West Hastings, but from now on it is expected that citizens of Stirling and district will be given plenty of opportunity to hear the issues of the campaign discussed. The Conservative Candidate, Mayor R. D. Arnott, of Belleville, will open the campaign locally when he addresses a meeting to be held in the Community Hall tonight, with the Hon. Dr. Faulkner to be heard from later. Citizens, irrespective of their political affiliations, should attend the different meetings, and after hearing the issues discussed, express their opinion on polling day.

Operations were commenced this week on the section of highway from the bridge on Front Street to the southern limits of the Village, upon which a permanent surface is to be laid by the Department of Highways. This road has been difficult to keep in good condition owing to the heavy traffic which it carries and the decision of the Department to permanently surface it will be welcome news to the motorists of the community. When this is completed the main thoroughfares of this village will have a permanent surface and will add to the general attractiveness of the village.

September brings the Fall season and the beginning of Fall marks the resumption of activities by all the local organizations whose activities have been suspended during the summer. These bodies of interested workers have launched upon another season of labour in the hope that even bigger and better results may be obtained in the coming year. The men of the district are anxiously waiting for the opening meeting of the Community Welfare Club, while the various fraternal organizations have resumed activities. Let us hope all these organizations may meet with much success in their fall and winter meetings.

After a ten-day delay the schools of the village opened their doors on Monday to the students for another school year. Once again may we remind motorists of Stirling and district of the need of exercising extreme care when driving on the streets of the village, especially in the school area. With the opening of school there are many children on the streets on their way to and from school, any one of whom might dart into the street in front of a car, and unless motorists are alert, a fatal accident is liable to occur. Almost daily one reads in the press accounts of children being horribly injured (perhaps permanently) or killed outright by being struck by cars, and all steps should be taken to prevent such occurrences in Stirling.

What Others Say

CHANGE OF SYSTEM DUE

(Peterboro Examiner)

Rural mail-carriers have again taken an official stand against the contract system. Apparently everybody is always opposed to the plan, except the government that happens to be in power.

ASK THE HOUSEKEEPER

(Almonte Gazette)

One of the differences between advertising by bills and in a newspaper is this — a householder seldom keeps a bill after looking at it once, but a newspaper is generally kept for days. How often have you, Mrs. Housekeeper, got the weekly paper out several times to verify dates and prices? After all the average memory is short.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO START SOMETHING

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

It is surprising the number of people who will turn in to help a public enterprise. And this is one reason why those with the gift to originate things should never stop trying. There is an old adage that says something about doing the thing and you shall have the power. In other words, don't be afraid to do something; don't fear that it will not be successful; don't be afraid that people will laugh at you. Close your eyes, plug your ears, and go ahead. You will get lots of backing and very often from the most unexpected sources.

LACK OF EXCITEMENT

(Forest Standard)

To many an election is a big event. These political-minded people get a great kick out of an election. There are many though who fail to get excited, indeed, we believe that the great majority are that way. Elections today have not the same zip that they had years ago, party lines are not so closely drawn and this leads to certain indifference. However, it is reported that this election will be a hard fought one with both Mr. Hepburn as Liberal Leader and Mr. Rowe as the Conservative helm, campaigning as never before. It may be there is such a campaign ahead that the old pot will boil as it has not done for some time. Fair-minded people will listen to and read the election propaganda and then go to the polls and cast their votes as they reason they should. It is this type of mind both parties will be out to influence. It is these votes that win elections.

GOSSIP

(Perth Courier)

When editors of country papers get hard up for editorial material, they can always turn to that ever-present scourge of all small towns, the gossips. Every town has a choice assortment of irresponsibles who make the wildest statements about their fellow-townsmen without turning a hair, and Perth is no exception.

A good deal of this gossip is harmless and there is no doubt that without it many people, men as well as women, would be deprived of practically all conversation, which would be too bad. Quite often, however, the practice of jumping to conclusions and mousing these conclusions as definite facts becomes exceedingly dangerous, and we sometimes wonder how it is that there are so few slander suits. Perhaps it is because no one likes going to court if it can possibly be avoided, perhaps because the victims of gossip have become inured to it, realizing that reckless statements are never made by responsible people, and therefore anyone with common sense either disbelieves or keeps an open mind. The policy of keeping an open mind and not believing all one hears is about the best defense there is against snake-tongues in a community. Another defense is known as "considering the source." The more vicious type of gossip usually has a reputation for gossiping, and therefore few people put much credence in his or her remarks. It takes these victims some time, however, to achieve a state of mind where a realization of this provides a protective armour. In the meantime there is heartache and bitterness, because the subject of any ripe bit of gossip invariably gets to hear about it. There is always a busybody, a sort of gossip-in-training, who "thinks you should know what so-and-so is saying." The fact that the people concerned always get to hear what is going on ought to deter the originators of scandal, but apparently it does not. In fact, we often wonder whether the scandal-mongers realize that they themselves are branded as gossips; if they know what people say about them.

HARD TO MAKE OUT

Every month this office, like every other newspaper office in Canada, is flooded with mimeographed bulletins, letters, handouts and every kind of propaganda from dozens of governmental departments as well as numerous organizations who want free publicity. Some of the latter are very deserving and some of the material received is very interesting and worthy of a place in our news columns.

Ninety per cent of it, however, is of absolutely no news value, and is immediately consigned to the waste basket.

Even that which is usable, however, is often thrown under the desk for the simple reason that we haven't got time to decipher it. Like the average mimeographed sheet they are a strain on the eyes and the imagination. If they were printed or even decently typed or mimeographed, they might stand a chance. As it is, we haven't the patience to bother with them.

These are common faults of practically all governments. In the first instance, they send out too much stuff; at heaven only knows what cost; in the second place too much of it is trash. Often it is repetitious, the same thing coming in from different sources. — Elmira Signal.

Architect: "Now, if you'll give me a general idea of the kind of house you need . . ."

Client: "I want to have something to go with a door-knocker my wife brought home from Oxford."

"Iceland," said the teacher, "is about as large as Siam."

"Iceland," wrote Willie afterwards, "is about as big as teacher."

A little girl said to the little boy who was playing with her—

"When I was born I was so 'sprised I couldn't speak for a whole year and a half."

"How did your wife like the diamond brooch you gave her for her birthday?"

"Delighted! She was awfully nice for a couple of days; but she's herself again now."

For those planning a motor tour, it is best to get a large road map. This will tell you everything you want to know, except how to fold it up again.

Overheard while the boat was passing through a storm:
"Steward: "Ye ain't sick, are ye?"
Passenger: "Not exactly, but I'd hate to yawn."

Shortly before the French forbade the departure of volunteers for Spain a train was about to leave the Austerlitz station in Paris for the Pyrenean frontier. The third-class carriages were crammed with excited volunteers, and in the firsts were numerous young men off to join Franco's army. Standing aloof on the platform was a dark-complexioned youth with black side-whiskers surveying the scene.

"Interesting sight, isn't it?" a bystander remarked to him. "And you? You aren't going along with them?"
"Oh, no," was the reply. "I'm a Spaniard."

Mr. Browne: "Try pruning it a little."

Patience
"With patience you can do anything."

"Will patience fill a sieve full of water?"
"If you wait for the water to freeze."

The Victor

A young man whose family consists of his parents and five brothers, tells this tale:

"One night we were at the supper table and there was an electrical storm. There was one piece of meat on the platter, when suddenly after a loud clap of thunder, the lights went out. Well sir, I got the meat—but I had six fork prints in my hand when the lights came back on."

Needs a New Line

"Is your brother, the author, a successful writer?"

"He was at first; but Dad doesn't pay much attention to his letters now."

Quick Change

A little girl, sitting in church watching a wedding, suddenly exclaimed:

"Mummy, has the lady changed her mind?"

"What do you mean?" the mother asked.

Youth Rejuvenates Fairs

An atmosphere of spontaneous interest—a feeling of rejuvenation that promises to become a permanent feature—has been observed to pervade the various agricultural fairs now in full swing throughout the Dominion. The reason for this spirit of youthful alertness is not difficult to discover. In a great measure it is due to the increasing part taken in the exhibitions by the young members of the boys and girls farm clubs in Canada. The elder generation has taught the younger generation well and the younger generation with its enthusiasm to learn is, in turn, interesting its elders in points that formerly did not seem to call for deep consideration.

The momentum thus created has developed a state of affairs in which the zeal of youth regulates the tempo of the modern agricultural fair. Nowadays, it is not a question of whether or not any young farmerettes or farmers may be exhibitors at the fair, but what they are showing. And the most interested people in the exhibits of the younger folk, are the older folk.

The high standard of the young farmers and farmerettes as responsible exhibitors at Canadian agricultural fairs has been attained gradually and surely. A quarter of a century ago, the boys' and girls' farm club movement in Canada was inaugurated and one of the principles embodied in the club work was "Learn to Do by Doing." This principle has been applied to the fullest extent, and the fact that each club member had to carry on one or other of the club projects on the home farm laid the foundation of the Dominion-wide club work which now forms an integral part in Canadian agricultural endeavours. The projects include Live Stock, embracing dairy cattle, beef cattle, swine, sheep, horses and poultry; Field Crops; Horticulture and Home Economics, under which comes nutrition, gardening and canning, garment making, home making and local leadership.

Crate-Feeding Poultry

A substantial amount of money in the aggregate is lost by farmers every year due to sending their poultry to market not finished. Far too much of the poultry offered on both the domestic and export markets is below the Milkfed A and Milkfed B classes for which a premium up to as high as three cents per pound is paid over the lower grades.

The sure and certain way to raise the grade is by the comparatively simple process of crate feeding birds on a ration of finely-ground home grains, potatoes and sour milk.

There are various fattening mixtures that give good results, but the point is to make use of the feed produced and available on the farm. The best results will be obtained if the birds are put in disinfected crates two or three weeks before marketing. The crates should be put in reasonably warm quarters free from draughts and the birds should be fed morning and evening. The following ration is recommended: Equal parts of oats and wheat, with barley or buckwheat; add potatoes at the rate of one-third of the total weight of the meal mixture; mix with sour milk so that the mixture will pour easily.

The beginning of the feeding period is most important. If the birds placed in the feeding crates have food in their crops they should miss a meal and should be fed sparingly for about two days. Immediately on being placed in the feeding crates birds should be given a purgative in the form of Epsom salts in the first feed, the dosage being at the rate of one pound of Epsom salts to one hundred birds. The salts should be dissolved in water and the solution used for mixing the first feed.

Feeding the birds all they will eat the first day results in loss of appetite and weight. It is better to leave the birds without feed for the first twenty-four hours after putting them in crates than to overfeed them. For the first few days the birds should be kept fairly hungry and never satisfied until they become used to their confined quarters. After that as much feed as they will take may be given two or three times a day. After every feed, however, the troughs should be cleaned, and a supply of grit should be available two or three times a week.

International Plowing Match Draws U. S. Agriculturists

Further recognition of the annual International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration held each year in Ontario under the auspices of the Ontario Plowmen's Association has just been announced by J. A. Carroll, manager.

The Atlantic section of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers,

'SALADA' TEA

according to Mr. Carroll's statement, has made arrangements to hold its annual convention in Toronto this year at a time when they will be able to devote a considerable portion of their time to studying this renowned agricultural event, which each year is having its fame carried farther afield.

The plowing match is being held this year at Fergus from October 12 to 16, in the centre of Western Ontario, which has been described as "the best large farming area in Canada."

The A.S.A.E. is a body of agricultural experts which represents chemical, electrical and machinery organizations interested in farm problems. It also includes in its membership many agricultural experts from state colleges throughout the Atlantic seaboard.

In considering a suitable time and place for the convention the directors of this noted association found that almost every aspect of the activities in which they are interested will be included in the annual plowing match at Fergus.

They will be able to study many questions of farm cultivation and management, which, for generations, have kept Ontario farmers in the front rank of successful agriculturists.

At the farm machinery demonstrations, held each year in conjunction with the match and rated by exhibitors as second to none in the world for exhibitions of this type, visiting agricultural engineers from the United States will be able to see the most complete range of electrical and other machines which have made such a tremendous contribution to successful farming throughout Canada.

Officials of the Ontario Plowmen's Association stated recently that all available space originally set aside for exhibits and demonstrations in the concession area had been reserved almost immediately after registration opened, and that so many additional applications for space had been received, that it has been found necessary to enlarge extensively the grounds set aside for the farm machinery demonstration. It is probable that there will be almost 100 exhibits and other concessions operating at Fergus when the match opens on October 12th.

TWO VIEWS ON THE LIQUOR QUESTION

"THE PROFIT"—says Mr. Hepburn

"THE PEOPLE"—says Mr. Rowe

FOR three years the liquor problem has been out of control in Ontario. Mr. Hepburn, worried by the rising tide of public indignation, now tacitly admits the fact. In acknowledgment of the situation, he makes another typical last-minute, pre-election promise.

But Ontario voters are not going to be fooled again.

"Revenue First"—Hepburn

"Profit" has been Mr. Hepburn's liquor policy ever since he took office. Here are his own words as quoted in the Border Cities Star, Windsor, October 26, 1934:

"Another thing that the Province requires is revenue. I am informed that since Mr. Odette took office, he has turned over to the Treasury $2,800,000. Let these people point out some other source of revenue. Do they want higher gasoline or corporation tax? Do they want a Provincial Income Tax? It is obvious that if we lose the revenue from the Liquor Control Board, we will have to get it elsewhere."

"People First"—Rowe

Contrast this "liquor for profit" policy with Mr. Rowe's clean-cut stand in the interest of the people.

Mr. Rowe has pledged himself: "I will return to a policy of control by a responsible board, free from political patronage. A survey will be made by the new board of all licensed hotels. I promise you that these mushroom dives which have sprung up and flourished under Hepburn will be closed—and stay closed."

The Conservative Party takes the position that public revenue should not be gained at the expense of decency.

No More Mushroom Dives

When Mr. Rowe is elected, beverage rooms will be confined to standard hotels which respect the law and give adequate service to the public.

Restaurants, taxi offices, rooming houses and hot dog stands will not, by means of a few "jerry-built" changes in construction, be able to qualify as standard hotels.

Beverage rooms will not be forced on communities where they are not wanted. Nor will such places flourish in the shadow of the churches of the Province.

Non-Political Control

Under Conservative administration, by means of a responsible non-political control body, beverage rooms will be so regulated that they will cease to be a blot on the social and moral life of Ontario.

A vote for the Conservative candidate is a vote for this policy of control.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Popular Young Lady Honoured

On Friday evening, September 16th, over one hundred and eighty young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White to honour their daughter, Marguerite, on the occasion of her approaching marriage to Mr. Leon MacMullen, of Sidney. A large number of community friends from Mount Pleasant, Bethel and Wellmans were present, besides guests from Sidney, Johnstown, Zion Hill, Stirling, Minto, Springbrook, Campbellford, Frankford, Belleville, Hards and other points. At 9.15 p.m. Rev. J. E. Beckel seated the honoured couple in the hallway, and commented upon the purpose of the gathering. After his address an enjoyable programme was given: reading of a humorous nature were given by Miss Frances McKeown, Mrs. Frank Smith, and Mrs. Arthur Phillips. Misses Edna Thrasher and Vera McAdam sang a duet. Solos were given by Miss Faye Andrews and Mr. John Coggins. Miss Eileen MacMullen read an appropriate address and the young couple then opened the large assortment of parcels which revealed a costly array of silver, china, glass, linen, bedding and kitchenware, showing the high esteem of the young couple.

Both Marguerite and Leon each graciously thanked their friends for the gifts and invited one and all to visit them when they were settled in Sidney.

All joined in singing "For they are Jolly Good Fellows", and a bevy of young people served a delicious lunch. Miss Maggie Guernsey, Campbellford, spent last week with Mrs. G. F. Spencer.

Mr. John Holmes attended the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Joseph Holmes at Queensboro United Church and was one of the pall-bearers.

Mr. Arthur White, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sharp, Frankford, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White on Sunday.

Mrs. Gilbert Smith and Mrs. John Bailey have each been staying with their sister, Mrs. James Sharp, Wellmans, who is seriously ill.

Miss Marguerite Stone spent a few days last week with her grandmother, Mrs. E. White.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes visited relatives at Eldorado on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Spencer spent the week-end with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer, Brighton.

Mrs. Leonard Sharp and Burton, and Mr. George Young, motored to Toronto on Sunday. While in the city they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Armstrong.

SPRINGBROOK

Mr. Wm. Waller, of Sask., a former resident of the village, is renewing acquaintances in the vicinity.

Mrs. Joe Lytle and children motored to Verona on Tuesday to spend the remainder of the week with her husband in that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mather and sons of Bulyea, Sask., are visiting friends and relatives. Mrs. Mather was formerly Miss Mabel Taslett, a girl of our village.

Mrs. George Mason, of Stirling, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Sid Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Cassidy attended the Canadian National Exhibition last week in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Reid and Betty of Stirling, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Green and Joan, of Stirling, were week-end guests of

HEPBURN the Tax-Payer's PROVEN Friend Return Him as PREMIER

TODAY you have reason to rejoice that you voted Henry out and Hepburn in. The Hepburn administration has replaced mismanagement with good management, extravagance with economy. It has replaced the unbalanced budget with a balanced budget, changed the chronic yearly deficit to a surplus of over 9 million dollars. It has relieved the drain and strain on taxpayers' pocketbooks in many ways. In the year that ended March 31st, 1937, it reduced Ontario's gross debt by $33,098,165.39.

How You Have Profited by Hepburn's Policies

- 1 Grant, equal to one mill on the dollar, from the Province to every Municipality, has relieved Municipal taxpayers to the extent of $3,000,000.
- 2 Cancellation of the amusement tax will save patrons of the theatre, sports and other amusements $3,000,000 a year.
- 3 Ontario is granting a $5 reduction in Motor Car rates that will save motorists $2,500,000 a year.
- 4 The Province has cancelled the 20 per cent. levy formerly made upon the Counties toward the cost of King's Highways, a saving to Municipalities of over $2,700,000 to date, and a further saving this year of $2,000,000.
- 5 Township Road subsidy was increased to 50 per cent., a saving to townships of $400,000 per year.

6 Entire cost of Mothers' Allowances was assumed by the Province, a saving to the Municipal Taxpayers of over $2,100,000 a year.

7 Municipalities' share of Old Age Pensions was taken over by the Province, saving over $1,000,000 a year.

8 Payment of Pensions to the Blind of $300,000.

9 Abolition of the Students' examination fees of $170,000 is another worth-while saving that Mothers and Fathers appreciate.

10 Rates for Hydro-Electric Power have been reduced to users to the extent of $4,800,000.

11 The Hepburn Government paid relief charges out of current revenue instead of adding them to the Public Debt to be paid for by increased taxes in the future, as was the policy of the former Government.

More Sunshine Budgets

On October 6th, you will have the opportunity of showing Mitchell F. Hepburn how much you appreciate his handling of the Province's finances and the administration of its government. Mark your ballot for the Liberal Candidate in your constituency and work to elect him by a safe majority. That's the way to show Mr. Hepburn you want him to "Carry On" with his program of tax reductions. He promises another "Sunshine Budget" this year—and you know he keeps his promises. Be kind to your own pocketbook—Vote Liberal.

Carry On, Hepburn!

And I hereby call upon all voters to take immediate action to have any errors or omissions corrected according to law, the last day for appeal being the 8th day of October, 1937. Dated at Springbrook Sept. 16, 1937. Lorne C. Bateman, Clerk of Rawdon

NOX KIDNEY FLUSHERS Removes That Backache

To neglect the first symptom of kidney trouble might lead to very serious results. Your kidneys contain thousands of little filters, each one having special work to perform. If some of these filters become clogged, poisons and uric acid enters the blood stream. The result is a backache, a dead, heavy pain. The uric acid deposits a fine granule in the joints, causing a pain known as rheumatism. Nox Kidney Flushers really flush the kidneys, placing them in a healthy, sound condition. No more getting up at night — no more backache. That sallow complexion is replaced by a natural clear skin. Your eyes become bright and your headaches disappear. Each package of Nox Kidney Flushers contain a full month's treatment. There is only one Nox Kidney Flusher — they improve your entire general health. Your Kidneys and Liver will function perfectly. Why not start today on the road to good health, let Nox Kidney Flushers bring you good health. On sale at Morton's Drug Store.

SUCCESSFUL IN COURSE

Word has been received by Mr. C. A. Wells, Principal of the Stirling Public School, that he was successful in completing part two of the Elementary Course, in Manual Training at the summer course in Hamilton, during the summer holidays. Mr. Wells is receiving the congratulations of his many friends.

CARMEL CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS

The United Church at Carmel has been undergoing extensive improvements during the summer holidays. The Church, the dining hall and the church sheds have all been wired for the Hydro service and it is anticipated the electricity will be turned for the first time on Anniversary Sunday, Sept. 26th.

In addition to this the Church interior has been renovated and redecorated. For their anniversary, Rev. E. W. Rowland, of Peterborough, will be the guest Preacher, and the usual Fowl Supper will be held the following Monday night.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Each year the Horticultural Society of Stirling is responsible for sponsoring civic beautification. Flower boxes are donated and planted at the Library by that organization. The wall erected as retaining wall along the drive by the pond has been started and when funds permit will be completed.

To mark this, the Coronation year, some two hundred trees were planted. These have been grown from mere seedlings by the Society. The students of Public and High Schools took part in a ceremony and the waste corner on the entrance to Stirling from the Belleville road became Coronation Park. The Society has watered, and recently has paid for clearing the weeds and dead grass in this area.

All flower lovers had an opportunity of taking part in the flower show the middle of August.

Again the Society gives its members and those interested in the Stirling Agricultural Society an opportunity as the flower section is sponsored by the Horticultural Society. Those interested in Stirling should see that flower entries are made and at the fair grounds before six o'clock on Tuesday, September 21.

ST. PAUL'S W. A.

Mrs. Francis Jeffrey entertained the members of St. Paul's Woman's Association for their September meeting on Tuesday. The President, Mrs. C. Macklin, opened the meeting with the theme song, followed by prayer. In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. Jackman was voted Secretary for the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and the roll called with eighteen responding. Treasurer's report was given and received; and letters of thanks received from Mrs. A. Reid, Stanley Bird and family. Visiting Committee, Mrs. J. J. Wilson, visited three homes through August. September Visiting Committee, Mrs. Girdwood and Mrs. Jackman. Mrs. Beatty took the chair for the program. Hymn 500 was sung and the Lord's Prayer recited in unison. Scripture reading, Psalm 103, was given by Mrs. Beatty. Hymn 498 was sung. Mrs. Jackman gave a reading entitled "We live by Faith." Mrs. Beatty put on a Guessing Contest. Lunch was served at the close of this interesting programme. Mrs. J. L. Good moved a vote of appreciation to the hostess.

Suppose it were your loved one being made ready for the climax of this grim struggle with Death. Anxiously you await the outcome—hoping against hope—praying that these men in white will not fail. Your heart is in their hands, but all their skill, and all their specialized knowledge would be powerless should those operating room lights go out at a critical moment.

But those lights will not fail . . . nor will the power to operate the many delicate electrical apparatus used in modern surgery today.

Outside the operating room is an organization of highly trained Hydro men, whose duty it is to see that nothing is allowed to interrupt Hydro service, and to be ready for instant action in any unforeseen emergency.

The service which Hydro provides to, and widens the scope of, medical science in Ontario is the same service that brings so many comforts and conveniences within the rooms of your own home—lowered production costs to industry—greater utility and facilities to commerce—a greater measure of prosperity to all in Ontario.

The Hydro of today is striving to extend the benefits of low cost electricity everywhere in the Province, and to making every effort to still further reduce power costs. As a partner in this gigantic enterprise you should be vitally interested in these efforts.

THE PENTHOUSE MURDER

TWELFTH INSTALMENT

SYNOPSIS: A card game is in session in Elmer Henderson's penthouse atop a New York skyscraper. The players are: Henderson, Police Inspector Flaherty, Martin Frazier, Archie Doane, Max Michaels and his friend Williams, a stockbroker.

They are waiting for Stephen Fitzgerald. When he fails to appear, a telephone call brings the information that he is out with a girl. Fitzgerald and Henderson are both romantically interested in Lydia Lane, the famous actress, but Archie Doane reveals that she is engaged to marry him.

Doane leaves the party early when Fitzgerald fails to appear. A short time later he telephones Inspector Flaherty with the frantic news that he has found Fitzgerald and Miss Lane dead in Lydia Lane's penthouse apartment.

When Flaherty and the medical examiner reach the apartment, they find that Miss Lane is still alive. She is rushed to a hospital where blood transfusions and care promise to restore her.

All circumstantial evidence points to Archie Doane as the murderer, especially when the murder gun is found carefully planted in the chimney clean-out in the basement.

Miss Lane's French maid, Adele Marceau, has been overheard threatening to shoot Fitzgerald if he did not stop annoying her. The janitor reports that Mademoiselle Marceau works in a night club on her day off and that she had talked to him in the basement on the night of the murder. Medical examination reveals that Lydia Lane had been given a hypodermic injection of a hypnotic drug before being shot, and that Fitzgerald's body also shows the mark of a hypodermic needle on his leg.

"Still that was only a possibility, with sufficient knowledge of drugs. Unless I could connect Henderson to warrant the assumption that he had administered something to Miss Lane which had caused unconsciousness, and something to Fitz, after the shooting, to keep the semblance of life in him for hours, with a bullet through his heart, I had nothing tangible to go on.

"After I left you gentlemen and had got Archie bedded down for the night I called up a private detective agency and had them station four men to watch this building and Henderson. I hoped that his suspicions would not be aroused before he were ready to act, and I did not want to plant a suspicion of him in your mind, Dan, until I had more information. That would have possibly been doing him a tremendous injustice, but I felt responsible if he should attempt flight.

"Then I telephone to my friends Joe Everett, the lawyer in Pasadena of whom you heard me speak to Henderson last night, and I asked him to got a full report by wire at the earliest possible moment.

"Then I called two eminent medical men out of their comfortable beds, much to their disgust. One of them assured me that I was correct in my recollection of the efficacy of adrenalin in a case of gunshot wound in the heart; a strong hypodermic injection of it had been known to keep a man alive five hours. The other eminent medico told me that any one of several drugs, including hyoscin, could be administered hypodermically or by the mouth to produce a state bordering on hypnotism, in which the patient would be to all intents and purposes unconscious, but would suffer no recollection afterwards of what had occurred.

"I formed no conclusion then as to how or when a drug had been administered to Miss Lane, as we did not know then about the pin which, as she supposed, had punctured her leg. And it was only guesswork that Fitz had been given a hypodermic of adrenalin.

"Adele Marceau's story about the pin, the medical examiner's report of finding the mark of the needle in Fitz's leg, the telephone company's report of no calls from that phone until Archie called you, Dan, all tended to confirm my suspicions. Then came the telegram from Joe Everett. I won't bother to read it all — it's unnecessary now — but he reports, in brief, that Elmer Henderson formerly practised medicine there specializing in diseases of women and particularly the use of the so-called 'twilight sleep' in childbirth. He was convicted of criminal malpractice, served a year in prison, and his license to practice was revoked. Then he turned to electrical invention and produced a new method of recording sound on films.

"I knew, even before we heard Miss

IN PERFECT HEALTH AT 73
THANKS TO KRUSCHEN

Thirty-five years ago this septuagenarian was helpless with sciatica. Then he heard of Kruschen. Since that day, he has enjoyed perfect health. Here is his remarkable story:

"Thirty-five years ago I had a severe attack of sciatica, and could scarcely move for about six weeks. Then I started taking Kruschen — about half-a-teaspoonful every morning in hot water. In a few weeks, I got rid of the awful pain in my hips. I have never had to consult a doctor since, and am still in perfect health at 73 years of age, which I can only attribute to taking Kruschen Salts every morning." — T.A.

Most people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health — the need of internal cleanliness. Eventually, they start the healthy Kruschen habit. Then, probably for the first time in their lives, they start getting rid, every day, of all waste matter from the system. The result is renewed health and vigour. Ailments due to clogged systems vanish, youth returns, and life becomes really worth living.

Lane's story in the Hospital just now that Henderson was the murderer. I felt that I had enough evidence on which to convict him. I am neither a policeman nor a prosecutor, but there was no way to extricate my client, Archie Doane, from the suspicion, if not the direct accusation of murder, unless I could prove that someone else did this crime.

"I had hoped to confront Henderson here with the evidence I had accumulated and to see him arrested and punished for his deed, but he had forestalled us. He was keen enough to note the presence of my private detectives, too, and to guess what they meant. So he chose the gambler's way out. He had lost, and he paid.

"Am I right, Henderson?" The man across the table was sagging in his chair, his head drooping, as Michaelis finished. He roused himself and turned his face toward the lawyer. "Absolutely right in every detail," he said, in a voice which had lost its resonance and tone.

"May I ask one question then?" Henderson nodded assent.

"Mere curiosity, but did you lure Fitz to Miss Lane's by the same device that later called Doane there?" Again the nod of assent.

"You placed a pin in her dress in the taxi, to account to her for the prick of the hypodermic needle? You knew she would be unconscious within a few minutes after you had left her at her rooms? You returned to your own rooms and called Fitzgerald to her apartment with her filmed voice, over your own telephone? You then hurried back to Miss Lane's apartment, met Fitzgerald there, perhaps pretended that you, too, had received the same summons? And you shot him while he was about to call for medical help for the unconscious girl? And then you shot Miss Lane through the arm, to give colour to the theory of an attempted double murder? Then you threw the gun down the chimney.

The sagging head nodded again. "You planned it from the beginning to lure Archie Doane to the apartment and let him be discovered there, with no other explanation of the crime than that he had done it. You wanted Lydia Lane yourself, and you thought to get your two rivals out of the way by having one executed for the murder of the other. You made sure that he had reached his rooms by ringing up and asking for a fictitious person."

The drooping figure across the table raised his head again.

"And a keener mind than mine frustrated a perfect crime," said Elmer Henderson, as his chin dropped on his chest, and his body seemed to relax and slip downward.

"Say the omniscient mind of God, rather," said Max Michaelis, as the others eased the lifeless body to the floor just as the ambulance surgeon's ring sounded at the doorway. "But for the evidence of the snow it would have been a perfect crime — the evidence supplied from above which proved that Archie Doane could not have done it."

A perfect crime. Not a detail overlooked — except the snow.

"I was brought up, gentlemen, to believe in a just and avenging Deity. The events we have just witnessed confirm my belief that the hand of God does sometimes intervene to save the innocent and punish the guilty."

"The end of a game little crook," said Dan Flaherty, not without an inflection of pity in his voice, as the ambulance surgeon rose from his examination of what had been Elmer Henderson, and shook his head.

"If he had not suggested the chimney, we might never have looked there," said Martin Frazier.

"That would have made no difference to his plans," said Max Michaelis.

"Sooner or later the weapon would have been found. Meantime Archie would have been under suspicion, and the finding of the gun would have sent him to the chair — except for the snow."

He glanced at the two documents they had witnessed.

"Brief but complete," he said, as he passed one of them to Inspector Flaherty. "This confession belongs in your records, Dan."

He cast his eyes over the other paper. "Equally brief and equally complete," he said. "Henderson's will leaves everything to Lydia Lane. He was a game one."

"How did you know that he was going to confess?" asked the Inspector, as he turned toward the telephone to summon the medical examiner.

"I didn't, until he held us at the door. I suspected then that he was administering poison to himself. I was sure of it when he mentioned the men I had posted around the building. It was the way a gambler like Henderson would take — the easiest way when the game was up."

BATEMAN PITCHES POINT ANNE TO WIN

Scoring with consistency and in all but three innings, the Point Anne "Cementmen" eliminated the Long Branch nine in a third and deciding game of the third round intermediate O.A.S.A. playdowns at Port Hope on Saturday when the "Cementmen" won by an 18 to 8 score. The Point Anne Club now meets Orillia in the provincial semi-finals. Lorne Bateman was Skipper Sedore's choice as the "Cementmen's" moundman, the former Springbrook fireball hurler literally coasting through easily until the ninth, when the winners eased off slightly, permitting the Long Branch team to score four of their eight runs. Bateman struck out nine.

OPEN LETTER TO A BOOR ON WHEELS

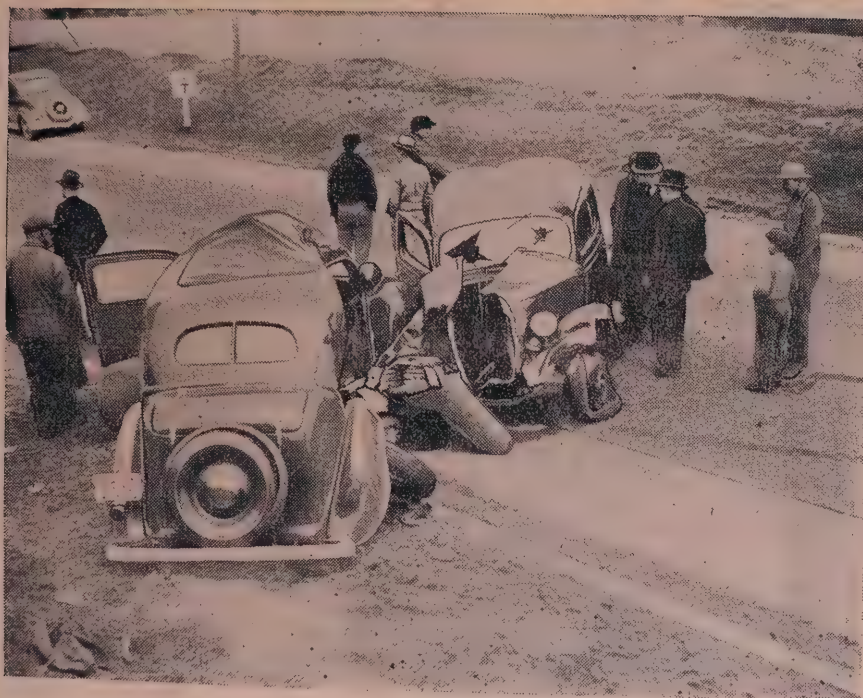

Some day, my ill-mannered friend, you are going to go too far. Some day when you swerve around a street corner, you are going to clip the buttons off the wrong pedestrian's vest, and he is going to catch up with you, haul you off your comfy upholstery and deal you the smacking-down you deserve. You're a veritable Titan of self-assurance, aren't you, when you're behind an eight-cylinder engine? But how do you look on your feet? Are you the same dashing, imposing, self-assertive personage for whom the rest of the world must make room? Would you dare shove another pedestrian aside; would you jostle a six-footer? You would not, for you're just a grubby little inferiority complex who's been sublimated by a shot of gasoline.

And what's the reason for this break-neck rush of yours, anyway? You're in an automobile. You'll arrive at your destination 10, 15 or 20 times quicker than the pedestrian, you're crowding back on to the curb. The best he can do is five or six miles an hour. You are going 25 or 30, perhaps 40 miles an hour. Is your business ten times more urgent than his? My, my, what an important fellow you are! What vast designs, what momentous projects must occupy your waking hours to justify such impatience.

The automobile, it seems, is the devil's gift to the Little Man. Put him in control of a motor car and he's cock o' the cross-walks. But if you suddenly yanked that ton or two of iron and steel out from under him, you'd find him just a measly nonentity with the mental set-up of a public school bully. You may say I'm in a bad frame of mind. You're right! And I'll get over it when fellows like you begin to use a little care, caution, courtesy and common-sense when you're driving on the streets and highways of this province.

THIS GHASTLY TRAGEDY COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED!

If it hadn't been for a foolhardy, reckless, criminal driver this accident would have been avoided. As it is, one victim was taken direct to an undertaker's parlours and two to a hospital. The driver who caused it is hopelessly crippled for the rest of his life.

YOU'LL BE IN TROUBLE IF YOU DISREGARD THE LAWS

If you are a reckless driver travelling the Ontario highways, cutting in, passing on curves and hills, endangering the lives of others, you will find yourself in serious trouble. The appalling death toll must stop—and you who are responsible for it will be put off the road! A thousand eyes are watching you; so be forewarned!

Ontario Motorists Will Co-operate

When you see a motorist driving in a manner dangerous to the public, take his number, make a careful note of the actual time and place, and when you reach your destination write to the Motor Vehicles Branch, Department of Highways, Toronto, giving full details. We do not invite reports of minor infringements of the traffic laws; you are requested to use sound judgment. We will deal adequately with offenders.

ROUTES NOW ARRANGED FOR STALLION INSPECTORS

The route of stallion inspectors by counties in three provincial districts is now arranged by the Stallion Enrolment Board. In each county stallion owners should communicate with their agricultural representative at once for further details regarding the times and places of inspection within the county, states L. E. O'Neill, Livestock Director of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and secretary of the Ontario Stallion Enrolment Board. Mr. O'Neill points out that no person can lawfully stand, travel or offer for use or sale any stallion unless the same is purebred and until such stallion has been enrolled and the certificate of enrolment issued.

All stallions which were last inspected previous to the fall of 1934 require inspection at this time. This inspection is free. However, owners of stallions that require inspection and do not present them at this time, will be charged a fee of $10 for special inspection at a later date. Therefore it behooves every stallion owner to get in touch with the Agricultural representative of his County immediately.

Any stallion which has never been inspected either because it is a colt just coming into service, or a matured horse just imported into this province requires inspection, Mr. O'Neill states. He advises every owner of a stallion who has not received the 1937 report of the Stallion Enrolment Board to write for a report to the Livestock

TRENT VALLEY PLANT SOLD TO THE HYDRO

A meeting of holders of series "A" 6 per cent. first mortgage sinking fund gold bonds of Quinte and Trent Valley Power Company, Ltd., was held at the office of the Chartered Trust and Executor Co., Toronto, on Friday. Meeting was called under provision of the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act to have the bondholders agree to the proposal to sell its Frankford plant, including assets to its subsidiary company, Frankford Electric Light Co. to the Hydro Electric Power Commission for the amount of $325,000.

The company has been operating at a loss for several years, and has been unable to pay bond interest since July 1, 1930. The bondholders approved sale of this company for $325,000, and upon the sale being completed, the proceeds and other assets of the company will be distributed among the bondholders.

MARMORA SCHOOLS CLOSED DUE TO EPIDEMIC

The first case of infantile paralysis was discovered in Marmora on Thursday, a seven-year-old boy attending Public School, being the victim. A meeting of the School Board and the Board of Health was called and it was decided to close all schools at once for at least ten days.

RAY F. TURLEY APPOINTED P.M. AT FRANKFORD

Mr. Ray F. Turley has received the appointment of Postmaster for the Village of Frankford, succeeding Mrs. E. E. Ketcheson, who has held the position since her husband's death over two years ago. Mr. Turley was formerly connected with Mr. J. B. Ford in the dry goods business in Frankford. The office has been moved to the building owned by Dr. J. R. HELPFUL HINTS

Q. How can I make the eyes bright and sparkling?
A. Steep some tea leaves in boiling water, and when cool place the leaves in two cheesecloth pads, lie down, and place the pads on the eyelids. It is also claimed that this treatment is very effective when the eyes feel tired.
Q. How can I give a better flavor to blackberries when canning?
A. They will have a better flavor if they are spiced when canned. Use brown sugar, vinegar and mixed spices.
Q. How can I remove mildew from clothing?
A. Clothes soaked in buttermilk will be freed of mildew.
Q. How can I remove stains from the hands caused by handling berries?
A. Moisten cornmeal with vinegar and rub this thoroughly on the stains.
Q. How can I launder cretonne slip covers and retain their colours?
A. Try washing cretonne articles in bran water and see if they do not retain their colours.

Q. How can I give a better flavour to apple butter?

A. When making apple butter boil the apples down in elder instead of water and it will impart a delicious flavour.

Q. Where can I place the ice pick so it will always be on hand.

A. Attach a small funnel to the side of the refrigerator and slip the pick through this funnel.

Q. How can I prevent cod liver oil, or any emulsion, from sticking to the spoon?

A. Merely dip the spoon into cold water before pouring the oil into it.

Q. How can I make fresh pineapple congeal when using it in gelatin mixtures?

A. It is better to use canned pineapple in gelatin mixtures, because fresh pineapple will not congeal.

Q. How can I dry clothing on a rainy day?

A. On the next rainy washday, try drying the clothes by the aid of an electric fan.

Q. How can I remove stains from marble?

A. Benzine is usually effective in removing stains from marble.

Q. How can I make iced Russian tea?

A. Pour the tea over crushed ice in tall glasses, then add a slice of lemon and a spoonful of cherry preserves to each glass. Serve with powdered sugar.

Q. How can I pack flowers so that they will keep fresh when sending them away?

A. The best way to pack flowers that are to be sent away is in corrugated pasteboard boxes. Sprinkle the flowers with small pieces of ice then cover with wax paper.

Q. How can I save snap fasteners from an old garment so that they will be ready to use again?

A. When removing snaps from clothing, fasten them together on a piece of heavy paper, and they will be conveniently ready when wanted again.

Q. How can I take away the strong taste of turnips when boiling them?

A. This can be done by adding a teaspoon of sugar to the water when boiling the turnips.

GOING WITHOUT BREAKFAST

Have you developed the habit of going without breakfast, hoping that by so doing you will be able to take off some of that surplus fat?

This fad may result in impairment of health and is especially dangerous to those under thirty years of age. Statistics show that to be overweight up to the age of thirty gives better chance of long life and health. Of course, one does not want to be too much overweight, but a few extra pounds provides a reserve in case of illness or for a strenuous athletic strain.

Probably it would be wiser to omit the mid-day meal, but wiser still to make this mid-day meal a smaller one, consisting of light foods. Breakfast is the meal that furnishes fuel for the most strenuous work of the day. Furthermore, the well-balanced breakfast contains fruit or tomato juice, milk and other foods that are particularly valuable. If breakfast is omitted there is the decided likelihood that these healthful juices will not be consumed as heavily as they should be. There is also a likelihood that the day's quota of milk will be reduced.

No! Don't eliminate breakfast unless a skilled physician has a good reason for it. Too many troubles can easily result.

IN "O.K." CONDITION

It's easy for a driver to blame some defect in his car for an accident. Don't be misled by these flimsy excuses. Figures of the Accident Recording Division of the Department of Highways show that in 1936, 9,951 out of 10,438 cars involved in accidents were in apparently good condition and 577 of 626 cars involved in fatalities seemed to be "o.k." These statistics show clearly that the defect is usually curable by the application of a little driving "horse sense."

to this second message. Special music by the choir consisted of a duet by Mrs. P. Hubble and Miss Ruth Martin, and an anthem "The King of Love my Shepherd is", by Shelby. Solo parts were taken by Mrs. P. Jeffrey, Mrs. P. Hubble, M. G. L. Clute and Mr. H. C. Martin. Miss Grace Pittman, A.T.C.L., presided at the console or the organ for both services in her very capable manner, while Mr. G. L. Clute directed the choir.

At the morning service a message of goodwill and congratulations from Rev. E. W. Rowland, a former minister, was read by Rev. W. J. Scott, who also expressed the thanks of the official board of the church to all those who had assisted in the work and to the local Masonic Lodge who had permitted the congregation of St. Paul's to worship in their hall while the Church was closed.

MACMULLEN — WHITE
A very pretty September wedding ceremony was solemnized by Rev. J. E. Beckel at Rawdon United Church Parsonage, in Stirling, on Wednesday, September 15th, 1937, at 3 p.m.

when Marguerite Nancy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White of Mount Pleasant, became the bride of Leon Keith James, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacMullen, of Alkins community in Sidney Township, in the presence of over thirty-five relatives. Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a regency gown of Ivory Bridal satin fashioned on long princess lines, with an ensemble coat of silk embroidered net. A finger-tip white silk tulle veil, caught about her dark hair with a bandeau of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Bettercrest Roses with maiden hair fern and wore Dubonnet accessories.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ellen MacMullen, cousin of the groom, was tastefully gowned in an ankle length tailored frock of blush pink flowered chiffon over taffeta with velvet trimming. A halo hat of Belgian blue velvet with a perky veil and white accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and baby's breath and fern. Mr. Lorne White, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful set of silverware; to the bridesmaid a straiton compact; to the groomsmen a military set. Later snaps of the wedding were taken and then the bride donned her travelling attire, a navy blue silk crepe ensemble with trimming of ashes of Roses; a chic navy fur felt hat and navy accessories.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a honeymoon trip to Toronto, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls and other points. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Sidney.

The bride is a popular Mount Pleasant girl.

CONSERVATIVES HOLD MEETING

Large Crowd Hears Provincial Issues Discussed Here

The opening meeting of the present Provincial election campaign, so far as Stirling is concerned, was held in the Stirling Theatre last Thursday evening, when Mayor R. D. Arnott, of Belleville, the Conservative Candidate in the riding of West Hastings, addressed an audience of approximately three hundred on provincial issues.

"This election is not between the two old parties," stated Mr. Arnott in opening his address, "but between the public and Mitchell F. Hepburn." Previous to the 1934 election Premier Hepburn had gone up and down the country making all sorts of promises, but once he got into power, these promises were soon forgotten. He didn't blame them for voting for Hepburn, stated Mr. Arnott. Their first responsibility was to their family and if they thought they could better themselves, who could blame them? If Hepburn didn't fulfil his promises the first time, there is little chance for him doing it the second time. We should elect a group of men that will not break faith with us, but will endeavour to carry on to our interests.

Premier Hepburn had thought the Conservative party a dead issue, continued the speaker, but after eighteen months under the leadership of Hon. Earl Rowe, the party was showing signs of renewed strength. Hepburn's fear of Rowe was the main reason for the calling of an election at the present time.

Criticizing Premier Hepburn for his attitude towards the Judiciary when the Court's judgment went against the Government, Mr. Arnott stated the province of Ontario didn't want the courts to be at the dictates of any government. Hepburn's insult to the Lieutenant-Governor was enough to defeat any candidate in West Hastings. In 1934 he promised the farmers he would widen their markets and the first thing he did was to close Ontario House. He promised the labourers plenty of work, but what happened at Oshawa? "Get back to work or else your families will be refused relief," was his ultimatum, and he pretended to be a friend of the working man. He brought the mounted police and in order to make the situation look real had asked for 200 men, but the Dominion authorities refused them, so he sent them all back and organized his Ontario Storm Troops.

Turning to the Agricultural Development Board the speaker claimed the Premier had abolished the Board and in its place appointed one man as commissioner of Agricultural Loans, and he was merely a collecting agency. Ferguson, Henry, Bennett and King all were willing to loan money to the farmers, but Hepburn doesn't believe in it.

Premier Hepburn had passed the School Assessment Act Legislation in spite of the opposition forces, but after the East Hastings by-election he had seen the handwriting on the wall and had agreed to its repeal. In fairness to the public all classes and creeds, will he tell us what his policy is this time? We are entitled to know. Rowe says he will deal fairly with the minority and fairly with the majority. You can believe that because that has been the policy of every Liberal and every Conservative administration since 1867.

"The Liberal-Conservative party is appealing to the electors to put safe, sane, democratic government back in Queen's Park, and I am sure that after October 6th, we will have it," concluded the speaker.

Geo. White, Madoc

"For the first time in Ontario a Premier has introduced an autocracy," stated Mr. White in his opening remarks. We don't want and won't have any form of autocratic government. Hepburn was no more than an office when he insulted the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province. In the East Hastings by-election he stated he would stand or fall on the School Assessment Act. On Dec. 9th, the people showed Hepburn what they

MASONS ATTEND DIVINE WORSHIP

Over Fifty Members of the Order Attend St. Paul's United Church

Over fifty Royal Arch Masons of Prince Edward District attended the annual district church service which was held in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, last Sunday morning. The Companions assembled at the lodge-room of Keystone Chapter No. 72, and paraded to the church under the direction of Rt. Ex. Comp. T. W. Solmes. Rev. W. J. Scott, S.T.M., minister of the church, welcomed the members of Keystone Chapter and Prince Edward District, and delivered a most inspiring sermon to the large assembly on "The City of the Great Architect." There is a great danger in thinking that any city can be built securely on material things alone. Unless the Lord is behind all our undertakings and reconstructions we must labour in vain. While for a time meaningless things may appear to prosper the remote thing which seemingly is not worth while, is really the thing that counts in the end.

Special music was provided for the occasion by the choir under the leadership of Mr. G. L. Clute, organist and choir master. An anthem "Rejoice, the Lord is King," was rendered by the choir, while a solo "Open the Gates of the Temple," sung by Mr. G. L. Clute. Miss Grace Pitman presided at the organ for the special numbers.

At the conclusion of the service the brethren returned to the lodge-room and were dismissed.

thought of the School Assessment Act and of Billy Fraser's methods. What East Hastings did in December last Ontario will do on October 6th. After the East Hastings by-election Premier Hepburn stated that "it was the dirtiest election ever held in the Dominion of Canada. Well if it was," stated Mr. White, "it was Hepburn made it that way."

During the Oshawa strike there was no disturbance of any kind, and parades held were headed by the British flag. Hepburn, in attempting to create a wave of fear over the country drafted an army and appealed to Ottawa for police. He also asked Hon. Earl Rowe to form a coalition to combat a crisis that did not exist. Hepburn was asking for a mandate to carry on the policies of three years ago. "Does anyone recall him asking for a mandate to change the Separate School Act, or to put Hydro and Liquor control administration back into politics? Five hundred and fifty-two soldiers have been dismissed under the pretence of economy, but every

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL FALL FAIR

ATTENDANCE IS DECREASED FROM THAT OF LAST YEAR — GOOD PERFORMANCE IN FRONT OF GRANDSTAND — EXHIBITS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS DRAW FAVOURABLE COMMENT

After months of preparation by the Directors the annual Fall Fair, under the auspices of the Stirling Agricultural Society, was held on Tuesday and Wednesday, and although a drop in both the attendance and in the number of exhibits was recorded, its reputation as being one of the better small rural fairs of the Province was maintained. The polio epidemic, which caused the cancellation of the Rural School Fairs and consequently put a damper on the Championship School Fair held annually in conjunction with the local fair, as well as the fact that Kingston Exhibition is being held on the same dates, both mitigated against the customary large attendance. On Tuesday, which was given over to the exhibitors in arranging their display, the weather was cold and threatening, but on Wednesday Old Sol shone forth in all his glory and ideal weather conditions prevailed throughout. President J. B. Thompson and his able band of directors were on hand early to look after all arrangements and everything was carried out without a hitch. From early morning the fair ground was a scene of bustling activity, with the various concessions being erected and the last minute details being looked after. Cars, loaded with passengers, began to arrive near the noon hour and by 2 p.m. there was a large and enthusiastic crowd in attendance.

The main building, which housed the garden produce and roots, grain and seeds, ladies' work, home cooking, flowers, cheese, art, etc., as well as the Championship School Fair exhibit, was thronged with interested spectators most of the afternoon, as they inspected the various exhibits; others circulated through the grounds where the livestock and horses were shown, while still others filled the grandstand and lined the race course to witness the trials of speed and novelty races included in the programme. Others took in the softball tournament held on the northern part of the grounds. The exhibits in the main building were well arranged so that every article was clearly displayed and while the number of entries in some departments was slightly less than last year, the quality was excellent. This was particularly noticeable in the vegetable department, where the exhibits were of an exceptionally good quality. Competition was very keen in this section of the prize list, with Ivan Caldwell, local gardener, J. D. Keeble, from Prince Edward County, Clem Ketcheson, Sidney, J. M. Carl, of Sidney, and Ross Ketcheson, of Moira, providing the main competition.

The grains and seeds department had the usual number of entries, with J. M. Carl, C. Ketcheson, and D. Thrasher, all of Sidney Township, and William Geen, of Thomasburg, providing the main competition. In the Fruit section Mrs. Harold Dettler, J. M. Carl and C. Ketcheson had the majority of the entries.

The Championship School Fair, under the direction of Mr. Jos. Wilson, Agricultural Representative, was not as large as usual owing to the cancelling of the township fairs, but again proved a big drawing card and a source of interest to all. The exhibit occupied a large section of the main building and was well arranged.

The Horticultural Society's section again had a large exhibit, with every section but one of the prize list offered being competed for. Among the main exhibitors in this department were Mrs. E. Ward, Mrs. Jos. Wilson, C. Ketcheson, of Sidney, J. B. Belshaw and J. E. O'Donnell, of Stirling.

The manual training exhibit by the pupils of the Stirling Public School was the centre of much interest among the visitors to the main building, and some fine exhibits of the boys' handicraft work was on display. The Household Science department contained many samples of the culinary art of the girls students, as well as samples of their needlework.

In the livestock division the classes were not as well filled as expected,

WON DOUBLES

One game was played in the Stirling Bowling Club doubles this past week, with F. R. Mallory and E. G. Bailey defeating T. W. Solmes and Walter Wright on Wednesday night by the score of 27 to 21. Owing to the cold weather it has been found impossible to complete the schedule as first planned, but with nicer weather prevailing it is expected that the members will complete their games as soon as possible.

CHAMPIONSHIP SCHOOL FAIR

Held in Conjunction with Stirling Fair Splendid Exhibits

In spite of the effects of the epidemic of paralysis, which caused the abandonment of the Township School Fairs in Hastings County, the Championship School Fair was held yesterday afternoon in conjunction with the Stirling Fair, and proved to be one of the main attractions. Following is a list of the prize winners in the school fair section:

MIXED DOUBLES TOURNEY HELD

Kingston Rink Captures First Prize
Twenty Rinks Entered

What bids fair to be the last tournament of the season was held on the local bowling greens last Friday afternoon and evening, when twenty rinks took part in the annual mixed doubles under the auspices of the Stirling Lawn Bowling Club. During the afternoon the weather was ideal, but once the sun went down it became much colder and the severe weather seriously handicapped the bowlers. The draw was made up of two rinks each from Kingston, Madoc, Tweed; four from Campbellford, five from Belleville and five from Stirling, and some very exciting games were witnessed. Three 12-end games were played.

Mr. and Mrs. "Ted" Green, of Kingston, proved to be the best bowlers on the day's play and won three games with a score of 55 points to win first prize of a luncheon set and a lamp. However, they were given a very close run by Mr. and Mrs. James Archer, of Campbellford, who won three games and a score of 49 points, to take second place. The prizes were a luncheon set for the lady and a desk set for the gentleman. The third prize for three wins went to a Belleville rink comprising Mrs. Geo. Watkins and Mr. F. Harper, with a score of 39 points, the former taking a pair of pillow cases and the latter a box of linen handkerchiefs.

The prize for two wins went to a Campbellford rink comprising Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Palliser, with 41 points. Mrs. Palliser took a desk set and Mr. Palliser a Ronson cigarette lighter. A Stirling rink comprising Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Whitey was high for one win with 36 points, the former getting a Paroson lighter and the latter a silk parasol.

First Game

In the first game Mr. and Mrs. Palliser, Campbellford, defeated Mrs. E. G. Bailey and F. R. Mallory 11 to 5. Chas. Kerr and Miss Kerr, Tweed, defeated Mr. and Mrs. J. Black, Belleville, 10-9; J. Watson and Mrs. Beaty, Madoc, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Belleville 16-8; Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins, Campbellford, defeated P. Gunn and Mrs. Watson, Madoc, 18-3; Mr. and Mrs. Locke, Campbellford, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Houston, Belleville, 11-10; Mr. and Mrs. Archer, Campbellford, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Tweed, 11-9; Mr. and Mrs. Green, Kingston, defeated Mr. and Mrs. R. Patterson, Stirling, 11-9; Mr. and Mrs. Whitty, Stirling, defeated Geo. Watkins and Mrs. Hyde, Belleville, 17-8; F. Harper and Mrs. Watkins, Belleville, defeated J. S. Morton and Mrs. Wescott, Stirling, 13-5; Mr. and Mrs. F. Newman, Kingston, defeated Dr. E. A. Carleton and Mrs. (Continued on Page Eight)

THE ELECTION

Two weeks from yesterday is election day when the citizens of the province will go to the polls to choose a government for the succeeding four or five years. Whether it is because the daily press has not been playing up the election to the usual extent or not, there is a noted lack of enthusiasm reported in many sections of the province, including the surrounding community. However, with the local candidates getting down to real systematic campaigning we look for renewed interest in the coming weeks. Mayor or Arnott, of Belleville, Conservative candidate in West Hastings, opened his campaign in Stirling last Thursday evening, and it is reported that another rally will be held here at a later date. Meetings have also been held in many of the neighbouring hamlets. The Liberals have not announced a meeting here as yet, but Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health, has had a number of meetings in the Northern part of the riding and in the Belleville area, and is conducting a strong campaign for re-election. Both candidates have a strong following and many of those who profess to know much about the political situation in the riding are predicting a close battle. Hon. Dr. Faulkner has had three years' experience as a provincial legislator, while Mayor Arnott, who is a barrister by profession, has had considerable municipal experience, being elected to the office of Mayor of Belleville, last December, with a large majority. Both men are strong candidates, and either one would make a good member. We have no intention of telling our readers how to vote, but we do urge them to study the issues of the campaign and to exercise their franchise on polling day, October 6th.

REPORT OF INSTITUTE FOR BLIND

The annual report of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, recently received, is an encyclopedia of information concerning the blind people of Canada and their activities. Although since its formation nineteen years ago, The Canadian National Institute for the Blind has become known to almost every Canadian able to read, the lives led by the blind people—who they are, what they do, how they make a living and what is being done to help them—constitute an unsuspected mystery to most of those who have no direct contact with blind people.

The two words "blind man", still convey to the mind of the average person a picture of a pitiable figure on some street corner, a supreme example of the last word in human misery. To those who have the privilege of looking over the annual report of the C.N.I.B. an entirely different picture is presented. There is still plenty of misery and suffering connected with the lives of many of those who must go through life without their sight, but the long years of patient effort that have been expended in endeavouring to alleviate the lot of those who are handicapped by the loss of the most precious of the senses is, apparently, bearing fruit.

The 1936-1937 report of the C.N.I.B. carries a score or more of illustrations. They are not pictures of men and women in acute distress, but show blind men at work, blind men at play, blind children at school and blind girls and women learning and working. Scattered across Canada from British Columbia to Newfoundland, there are hundreds of blind men and women today who, through the opportunities provided for them by the C.N.I.B. are taking their places in the economic world side by side with their sighted associates. The point has by no means been reached where it can be said with truth that every blind person capable of working and willing to make use of that capability is equipped with a job or a business, but this latest report of the Institute does clearly indicate that progress towards the desirable end is surely being made.

The illustrations in the annual report are not startling. They simply show a man standing behind a counter or a little stand, or a girl performing some simple job in a factory or a man in front of a machine, or a group of children ren in a class-room, but behind every one of these pictures is a story of intense human interest. The subjects of these photographs have triumphed, through the help of the C.N.I.B., over a handicap which, to the mind of the average citizen, is overwhelming.

Naturally the spectacular achievements of the Institute in finding positions and arranging business opportunities for its blind friends are what attract most public attention, but there are other phases of the work of the Institute which are of equal value to blind people who are unable, for reasons of health or age to share in the industrial or commercial life of the community. There is practically no blind person, no matter where he lives or his condition, to whom the Institute is not able to render some service. All services, such as the loaning of Braille books, home-teaching, the administration of theatre passes and street-railway passes, special concessions in regard to fare on railway, steamship and bus lines, the handling of radio licenses, the sale of radios and radio parts at very substantial discounts and the maintenance of a social service department, are all provided without any charge whatever to those taking advantage of them.

It requires a booklet of 86 pages to tell the year's story of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. A quarter of the book is devoted to a list of members of boards and committees. They indicate that everywhere throughout the Dominion, the Institute is supported by and encouraged by an army of volunteer workers who are contributing their share toward making the C.N.I.B. what it evidently aspires to be, the most efficiently-functioning agency for the blind in the English-speaking world.

CURRENT COMMENT

"Jack Frost" has made his appearance in this district but little damage has been reported so far. Tuesday was the official opening of the autumn season and the Maple trees are slowly donning their fall raiment. While there will be days yet when the sun's rays will warm the atmosphere to almost a summer heat, the evenings and the mornings will be cool. Summer seems to have departed earlier than usual and the cold winds and swirling snow of winter will soon be with us.

The new motor markers for 1938 have made their appearance and already there has been a howl raised by the police of the metropolitan centres over the difficulty in catching the numbers of speeding cars. Apparently the colours used tend to run together when viewed from a short distance and obliterate the numbers on the plates. This is calculated to aid the hit-and-run driver and the motor criminal, when the universal desire is to make it more difficult for these gentry to operate.

The attention of the farmers in this district, who contemplate taking advantage of the Feeder Purchase Policy adopted by the Dominion Live Stock Branch, is drawn to an extension of time in the plan, which is now good until December 31st. Under this plan a refund of one-way travelling expenses of farmers or their agents is made to those who go to the drought area in Alberta and Saskatchewan to purchase cattle for shipment to Eastern Canada. The banks are co-operating in the scheme and will loan money to farmers for this purpose.

Although the political leaders have been appealing for the support of all classes the motorists have been receiving a little extra attention recently. First Premier Hepburn announced a reduction in motor licenses, which was prophesied some months ago, to take effect almost immediately. Then Hon. Earl Rowe promises that if the Conservative party is returned to power the farmers will be given a rebate on their licenses for that portion of the year when it is impossible for them to use their cars. Both announcements will be very acceptable to all car owners, but if the leaders of the two parties continue to try to outdo one another in this regard, where will it all end?

Seventy-five people were killed in motor accidents in the province of Ontario in June of this year, compared to thirty-two in June of last year, according to a recent report from the Accident Recording Division of the Ontario Department of Highways. During the first six months of the year, the fatalities increased over sixty-eight per cent. over last year, with fifty-four children under fifteen years of age included in the number. In the month of June motor accidents jumped 28.3 per cent. over last year. These figures are astounding and should give those people who were responsible for increasing the speed limit to fifty miles an hour something to think about.

others who had their courage tested through the trying years have come through all right and with good crops in the province this year buying power has increased to a great extent. When people quit talking depression there is no depression and that's about how it stands right now.

NOISE

(Kingsville Reporter)

It is not possible to completely eliminate noise from any city, town or village, but we can all help to abate it. Public opinion is needed to create the idea that making unnecessary noises is an offence against good taste and breach of the golden rule. Public opinion is also needed to back a campaign of education about noise and its effects, backed by legislation and police enforcement. What London and New York have done; what Montreal is doing, and what Toronto is planning to do, can be accomplished in any city or town. At least one per cent. of the population is rendered ineffective by reason of nervous and mental disturbances, and this may serve to estimate the necessity of reducing one of the more important causes for such disability, namely, "noise."

THINGS SURELY DO CHANGE

(Quinte Sun)

How many years is it since it happened before? The Toronto Star supporting the Tories in an election, with a luke-warmness that is almost worse for the party than downright opposition, while the Toronto Telegram is just itching to open up its big guns on Hepburn and the Grits in support of the Tories, but got in so deep on the C.I.O. issue it doesn't know how to come to the point. We don't know about the Star editors, but it is a safe bet crepe is hanging on every editorial sanctum in The Telegram.

All in all it has been rather a year of reversals for all Toronto newspapers. A heading over a social item in The Globe and Mail the other morning read: "Mr. and Mrs. ——— Entertained a Large Gathering at Cocktail Party." Just think, the good old boney-dry Globe has come to this in one short year.

LATE ARTHUR W. MUNROE

The funeral of Arthur Wallace Munroe, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Munroe, of 86 Station St., Belleville, took place from the family residence on Thursday afternoon. Service in the home and at the graveside. In Belleville Cemetery was conducted by Rev. G. G. Wright, of Christ Church. The bearers, school chums, were: Herbert Moon, Thomas Brown, Wm. Archer, Chas. Wright, Harold Harris, Arthur Taylor.

SEYMOUR TOWNSHIP FARMER BREAKS LEG

When he was going for the cows early on Sunday morning, J. O'Donnell of Seymour Township fell, twisting his leg, causing a fracture between the knee and ankle. Mr. O'Donnell, who lives with his sister, Mrs. Ed. Forestell and Mr. Forestell, is said to have caught his foot between two stones on his way to the pasture, and when he was found, was taken immediately to the Campbellford hospital, where the fracture was revealed to be of such a serious nature that he was rushed to Belleville by ambulance.

MISSING MAN FOUND IN CAMPBELLFORD

Missing since late on Saturday afternoon, Dennis Callan, 80 years of age, of Vernonville, was found in Campbellford at 7.30 a.m. Sunday. Mr. Callan, who has been visiting relatives in Seymour Township for the past few days, is thought to have come to Campbellford, where he became confused, and when he did not return Saturday night a search party was organized, which scoured the town and surrounding country. Frank O'Rourke of Seymour Township, found the man wandering along Second Street, drenched by rain and in a weakened condition.

MRS. JAMES SHARP

After an illness of several months' duration, Mrs. Emily A. Sharp, wife of Mr. James Sharp, passed away at the family residence at Wellmans' Corners, in Rawdon Township Friday afternoon, Sept. 17th.

The late Mrs. Sharp, who was in her 76th year, was born in the 4th concession of Rawdon Township and had resided in that township all her life. Prior to her marriage she was Miss Emily A. Reid, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Allan M. Reid. She was a member of the Wellmans United Church and a woman of most estimable character. Many friends sincerely regret her passing. Surviving her are her husband, Mr. Jas. Sharp; four daughters, Mrs. Fred Mitchell and Mrs. William Sloggett, Toronto; Miss Mary Sharp, R.N., White Plains, N.Y.; Miss Grace Sharp, Oshawa; two sons, Mr. Arthur Sharp, Kingston, and Mr. Clifford Sharp, of Wellmans Corners; two sisters, Mrs. Gilbert Smith, Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. John Bailey, Mount Pleasant. The funeral took place on Monday, Sept. 20th, with service being held in Wellmans' United Church, at 2.15 p.m. Interment in Wellmans Cemetery.

MAPLE LEAF CONTEST TO BE HELD AGAIN THIS YEAR

Canada's fifth Maple Leaf contest has been announced, providing for the giving of generous prizes for the most beautiful and largest maple leaves gathered in Canada during the fall of the year. The contest, which has been organized jointly by the Canadian Travel Bureau at Ottawa, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways, has been extended to include all visitors to Canada, although entries must be collected in Canada and mailed from a Canadian point.

Originated in 1933 by J. Murray Gibbon, general publicity agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, this annual contest has aroused tremendous interest across the Dominion. The competition closes on Nov. 1. Entries expressed, waybilled or postmarked later than that date will not be eligible. Each leaf entered must be mounted on a separate card and packed flat between two pieces of stiff cardboard. As usual, the winning leaves will be shown at the chief points across Canada.

We are not hearing very much lately about the recent depression which is probably an indication that we have passed through all that. TWEED FALL FAIR NEXT THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Officers and Directors of Tweed Agricultural Society announce special new features and attractions for the annual Fall Fair on Thursday and Friday next, Sept. 23rd and 24th. Three good horse races, the 2.27, 2.22 and 2.18 classes are on the card and some of the leading harness horses in Ontario have entered. A first-class midway has been engaged. Tweed band will be in attendance and the committees have arranged special entertainment in the form of old-time fiddling, step-dancing, etc. There will be rides and fun for the kiddies and entertainment for the adults as well. Don't miss the big event of the season next week.

NEWS OF INTEREST FOR BUSY FARMERS

Insect Damage
With a few important exceptions, insects have been somewhat less injurious during August than usual. The codling moth has been the most destructive pest this year so far and increased greatly during August as a result of the continued warm weather which led to a large second brood. The European corn borer survey which is now under way indicates that the borers are going to be more numerous this year than at any time during the last four or five years, the season having been favourable to them in most counties. Cabbage worms have increased greatly in number and where no spraying or dusting has been carried out, they have played havoc with the foliage and heads of cabbage and also cauliflower. Complaints have been received of severe injury in Middlesex to turnip foliage.

Record Tobacco Crop

The tobacco crop in Ontario improved to a very marked degree with the result that total production is now estimated at a much higher figure than appeared probable on the first of August. The flue-cured crop will amount to at least 50,000,000 pounds. There has also been improvement in the burley crop which is estimated at slightly more than 7,000,000 pounds. The dark tobacco crop will possibly yield a total of 2,500,000 pounds. Total production of tobacco in Ontario this year will therefore reach the record figure of 60,000,000 pounds as compared with 35,500,000 pounds in 1935 and 48,492,220 pounds in 1936. All crops were harvested at an early date this year. The flue-cured tobacco crop has very good colour this year and is of particularly good quality. The burley is also of very good quality. There is every likelihood of a heavy demand for Ontario's burley and flue-cured tobacco. The export market is particularly promising.

Current Crop Report

The average yield of spring grains for the Province will be considerably higher than in 1936 when drought conditions reduced the crop, but still somewhat below normal. The Counties bordering the St. Lawrence and some districts in Northern Ontario, particularly Algoma and Manitoulin, report yields considerably below average and large supplies will have to be purchased for winter feeding purposes. The quality of spring grain varies greatly. In Central Ontario and particularly the southern part of South Western Ontario, large quantities of grain were damaged by frequent heavy rains which blackened the grain and straw and caused sprouting. Considerable grain was put into the barns or threshed in a wet condition and much spring grain will be only of feeding quality. The yield per acre of hay and clover this year is estimated above average in Old Ontario but extremely low in most districts of Northern Ontario.

August was favourable for the development of late potatoes, roots and corn for fodder. Corn for husking, however, which is chiefly grown in

"SALADA" TEA

Essex and Kent Counties, was damaged by excessive rains in mid-summer and the average yield will be far below normal. The yield of dry beans is estimated at 17.0 bus. as compared with 13.2 bus. in 1936, and a long term average of 16.1 bus. Tree fruits now being harvested are of good quality and later varieties are sizing well. Tomato crop prospects were reduced by dry weather at a critical period and production will be considerably below expectations.

U. S. Livestock Market

Livestock market and feed situation conditions in the United States indicate that feeding commercial livestock, unfavourable to producers during the past grain marketing year, is now definitely favourable. Since the harvesting of the 1937 grain crop, feed grain prices have declined and livestock prices have shown vast improvement. Advances in the prices of beef cattle and hogs during June, July and August have brought the hog-corn and the beef-corn price ratios to a level which is above that for the early part of the year.

Large supplies of feed grain are in prospect and, with prices of livestock and livestock products higher than in some recent years, it is highly probable that feeding ratios will be quite favourable during 1938. This being the case, a material expansion in most lines of livestock production may be anticipated. The outlook for the consumption of all classes of livestock products is quite favourable and a continuation of relatively high prices is to be expected during the next few months. There may possibly be some consumer reaction to present levels, but livestock numbers are moderate and the impact of consumer reaction will thus be lightened.

Increases in the volume of feed available and a more moderate volume of total livestock holdings indicate that animal units will be fed to heavier weights, particularly in the case of cattle and hogs.

Authorities at Washington indicate that despite some decline in the number of cattle on farms since the beginning of the year the volume placed on feed during the present autumn will probably be much larger than the volume a year ago. The high price of beef cattle during the summer months has resulted in favourable returns to most of the producers selling at that time, and this has stimulated inquiry.

Toronto Competition

Fred R. Kernaghan, R.R. No. 2, Colborne, won first prize in the Toronto Field Crop Competition sponsored by the Cramahe Agricultural Society in co-operation with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, in which 19 growers between Grafton and Brighton competed.

The complete list of prize winners follows:

1. Fred R. Kernaghan, R.R. 2, Colborne.
2. F. L. McDonald, Dundonald.
3. Kenneth Mutton, Dundonald.
4. W. H. Turpin, Grafton.
5. Gordon E. Dunnett, Colborne, R. No. 2.
6. Elmo McLaughlin, Colborne.
7. Frank Osborne, Colborne R.R. No. 3.
8. Wm. Brown, Colborne.

Mr. Kernaghan's tomatoes were of the John Baer variety grown on a clover sod plowed and worked in the fall, manured during the winter, plowed again in the spring and fertilized with 2-16-6 fertilizer at the rate of 500 pounds per acre, part of which was placed under the plants and part applied with a tunnel as a top dressing. The soil was a light clay loam.

Mr. McDonald's second prize tomato plot followed peas, fall plowed twice, manured in the spring and fertilized with 2-16-6 at 500 pounds per acre, placed on the cross and turned under. The plot consisted of 1-3 Scarlet Dawn and 2-3 John Baer.

Varieties included in the 8 prize winning plots are John Baer, Penn State, Scarlet Dawn, Baltimore and Geneva John Baer, with the John Baer variety predominating.

All plots were visited twice by Earl Mighton, O.A.C., Guelph, who acted as judge.

HYDRO IS YOURS...USE IT!

Guardians OF YOUR SAFETY

Whether you are at home, or on the street, on trains, street cars or motor, in church or theatre—Hydro plays an essential part in your safety and the protection of your property.

Police and Fire Department signal systems render immediate service in emergency. Traffic lights permit control and safety on our streets. Wig-wag systems flash and signal the danger of approaching trains. Better lighted streets make crime difficult.

In addition to these many guardians of your safety, Hydro goes still farther. Every electrical appliance or device must be approved by the H. E. P. C. Testing and Inspection Department before it goes into your home—every piece of electrical equipment is made as free of hazard as scientific knowledge and highly-trained technicians can make them.

In addition to being an important factor in your safety, and the protection of your property, Hydro is making every effort to extend the benefits of low cost power throughout the Province of Ontario. These efforts are made in your best interests, and their success will affect your prosperity. You should, therefore, be vitally interested in Hydro and what it is doing for you.

WEAVER REUNION

Over one hundred were present at the Weaver family reunion held on Monday, Sept. 6th, Labor Day, at Oak Lake. A delicious lunch was served at one o'clock by the ladies, after which Albert Weaver, Belleville, president, called the gathering to order, expressing his pleasure at the number present and welcoming visitors from many parts of the United States, later calling upon Rev. J. B. Beckel to act as chairman and all joined in the singing of "The More We Get Together" and Rev. W. H. Poinet returned thanks. After all had satisfied the inner man, Rev. Mr. Beckel called on the oldest lady present, Mrs. Robert Rodgers, to say a few words, followed by short speeches by Mrs. Thomas of Whiteboro, N.Y., Mrs. Roy Weaver, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and Mr. Ronning, Cleveland, Ohio. The Secretary's report was given by Mrs. J. Rutherford, Toronto. Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Louis Rodgers, Stirling. Election of officers then took place and the following were appointed: Hon. Pres., A. B. Weaver, Belleville and Albert Weaver, New Bremen, N.Y. President, Roy Weaver, Cleveland, Ohio. Vice President, Gordon Weaver, Detroit. Secretary, Mrs. Chas. Johnston; assistant Secretary, Miss Nina Carlisle. Treasurer, Mrs. Louis Rodgers, Stirling. Sports Committee, Henry Farrell, A. Gordanier, Louis Rodgers. Property Committee, A. Gordanier, Geo. Weaver, Ernest Carlisle. Program Committee, Jack Rutherford, Toronto, Henry Farrell, Russell Pitman.

An interesting program of sports was well arranged by Henry Farrell and his committee and this was greatly enjoyed by all. Letters of regret were read from those unable to attend. Families represented at the reunion were descendants of the Weaver Brothers. Those from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. M. Lipson, Utica, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Whiteboro, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker, Beaver Falls; Mrs. E. Dean, Cathagah, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weaver, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Romains, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Butler St. Clair, Mich.; Mr. Gordon Weaver, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Vandervoort, Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weaver, Belleville; Mr. William Thomas, Whitesboro; Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thompson, Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Weaver, Picton. Many other families from home points were present. It was decided to hold the 1938 reunion at the Tabernacle, Oak Lake, on the first Monday in September. All joined in singing "God be with you till we meet again."

HONEY CROP SLUMPS WITH CLOVER SCARCITY

Honey crop this year is one of the lowest in the past decade, according to Dr. E. J. Dyce head of the Agriculture Department at the Ontario Agricultural College. The extraordinary shortage of honey is due to the shortage of clover last year and to the wet weather early this year, he said. There has been no clover available.

"P'taters is good this morning, madam," said the market gardener, making his usual weekly call.

"Oh, are they?" retorted the customer. "That reminds me. How is it that those you sold me last week were so much smaller at the bottom of the basket than at the top?"

"Well," replied the man "P'taters is growin' so fast now, by the time I get a basketful dug, the last ones is about twice the size of the first."

That's Different

Two old salts who had spent most of their lives on fishing smacks had an argument as to which was the better mathematician. Finally the captain of their ship proposed the following problem which each would try to work out: "If a fishing crew caught 1749 pounds of cod, and brought their catch to port, and sold it at 6 cents a pound, how much would they receive for the fish?"

The two got to work, but neither seemed able to master the intricacies of the deal in fish. At last old Bill turned to the captain and asked him to repeat the problem.

The captain started off: "If a fishing crew caught 1749 pounds of cod and—"

"Wait a moment," said Bill, "is it codfish they caught?"

"Yes," declared the captain. "No wonder I couldn't get an answer," murmured Bill. "Here I've been figuring on salmon all the time!"

BONARLAW

On Thursday of last week Messrs. W. J. Barlow and Jas. Fitzpatrick spent the day fishing in Salmon River and Donahoe Lake, near Kalamit, and were successful in landing a few good-sized bass and lunge.

On Saturday last Bud Stocker, second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Stocker, met with a very painful accident. While playing with a large spike and a board and axe, the spike flew up and hit him on the forehead, making such an ugly wound as to need the services of a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Simmons, of Severn Bridge, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Baker for several days last week and Monday of this week.

Mr. Jack Davidson loaded two carloads of livestock and Mr. Evans of Brampton one carload on Tuesday.

BETHEL

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sine and Miss Ollie Davison attended Anniversary Services at Wellmans on Sunday morning and were later guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cranston, of Belleville, spent a day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell and Freda, of Thurlow, were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gummer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Masters, of Peterborough were visitors last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Reid, of Campbellford, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Reid, spent Sunday with relatives at Cherry Valley.

A large number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Warren on Thursday evening to honour their son, Edwin, and his bride. Rev. J. E. Beckel was chairman for the evening and presided over an interesting programme. Readings were given by Mrs. Hayton and Miss Betty Sine. Vocal duet, Misses Blanche and Edna McMullen; solo, Bobby Elliott. Short speeches were also given by several of the men after which an appropriate address was read by Mr. Gordon Green and Messrs. Bill Sutherland and Wesley Farrell presented the young couple with an electric floor lamp and an occasional chair. Both Edwin and Jessie fittingly replied, thanking everyone for their kindness to them and inviting all to visit them in their new home in Kingston. A sumptuous Tunch was then served and the remainder of the evening spent in a social way.

Rev. Mr. Joblin, of Scugog called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Elliott on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren and Miss Mildred Elliott attended a show-er held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Townsend on Monday evening in honour of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Emmerson, (nee Marie Townsend.)

MR. AND MRS. ROSS THOMPSON HONOURED

On Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison was the scene of a happy gathering when nearly one hundred and fifty guests from Bethel, Mount Pleasant, Stirling, Springbrook, Rylestone, Madoc Junction, Belleville and other points gathered to enjoy a social evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Thompson (nee Laura Broadworth).

Miss Mildred Elliott was pianist and Rev. J. E. Beckel was chairman for the occasion. All joined in "The More we are Together" and "I love you truly". Readings were rendered by Mrs. Percy MacMullen and Miss Mildred Morrison. Several impromptu speeches were given by Mr. John Scott and Mr. John Bateman and others. Messrs McGarvie and Wannamaker gave several violin and guitar selections. Mr. John Mulhern sang a Scotch selection. Miss Nellie Morrison read the following address:

Agricultural Society announce special new features and attractions for the annual Fall Fair on Thursday and Friday next, Sept. 23rd and 24th. Three good horse races, the 2.27, 2.22 and 2.18 classes are on the card and some of the leading harness horses in Ontario have entered. A first-class midway has been engaged. Tweed band will be in attendance and the committees have arranged special entertainment in the form of old-time fiddling, step-dancing, etc. There will be rides and fun for the kiddies and entertainment for the adults as well. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Don't miss the big event of the season Emerson at Holloway on Tuesday next week.

The bride received a large array of costly gifts, including a silver tea service, chest of silverware, electric bridge lamp, and several other pieces of silver, besides china, glass, linen and kitchen articles.

SHAW — THRASHER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher, Mount Pleasant, was the scene of a very pretty September wedding on Saturday, September 18th, 1937, at eleven o'clock, when the marriage of their only daughter, Edna Emma, became the bride of Milton T. Shaw, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Shaw, Ivanhoe, in the presence of about forty-five guests.

The marriage was solemnized by a former pastor, Rev. F. G. Joblin, of Scugog Island, and the ceremony was performed in the drawing room beneath an arch of evergreen and white crepe roses, with a background of foliage and cut flowers.

The charming bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a DuBarry model of Ivory Bridal Satin finished on Empire lines, with a coat of embroidered silk net. Her train-length veil of silk net with embroidery was in cape effect with a coronet across her forehead banded with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of coral pink Sweetheart roses with baby's breath and maiden hair fern and wore white accessories. The bride's cousin, Mr. Charles Thrasher, of Oshawa, rendered wedding music from Lohengrin. Miss Lela Johnson, of Salem, cousin of the bride made a pretty bridesmaid gown in pink ankle length dress and sheer fashioned on princess lines and a corsage of pink roses, fern and baby's breath, with white accessories. Mr. Ross Ketcheson, Moira, cousin of the groom was best man. The bride's mother, wearing a gown of black corded sheer with trimming of silk braid and the groom's mother in black crepe remained with medallion applique, received the guests at the door and both wore corsages of red roses. The bride's grandmother in flowered crepe ushered the guests to the drawing room.

During the signing of the register Mr. John Coggins sang very acceptably "O Promise Me". After congratulations the guests repaired to the dining room which was tastefully decorated with crepe paper unity links in pink and white with white bells.

The bride's table was adorned with a tiered wedding cake, the bride's cake, holding twenty-two candles, it being the occasion of the bride's birthday; also the brides bouquet in a tall vase. The waitresses, friends of the bride, Misses Vera McAdam, Phyllis David and Betty Hoard, wore white dresses with pink crepe paper aprons and bands with white trimming and three first cousins, Messrs Ralph Campbell, Marsh Hill, Gordon Foster, Moira, and Jack Sharp, Mount Pleasant, were waiters.

The groom's gift to the bride was a silver tea service, the bridesmaid a blue and gold compact, to the groomsmen and pianist each a belt with monogrammed buckle, to the soloist gold cuff links. Later in the afternoon the happy couple left on a fourteen hundred mile motor trip by way of Gananoque, Clayton and Watertown, through the Adirondacks and home by Niagara, and will visit relatives at Greenville, N.Y.

The bride travelled in an imported tailored suit of brown English tweed, with blouse of coral sheer, wool felt hat with chic veil and brown accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will take up residence at Ivanhoe. The bride is a popular Rawdon girl and was the recipient of many gifts.

Several of the more prominent exhibitors of other years passing up the local fair to exhibit at Kingston. In the Agricultural section Ross Ketcheson, of Moira, was the leading exhibitor and carried off most of the prizes. Geo. Sutherland, of Stirling, was another of the exhibitors in this class. In the Halstead section J. C. Nelson & Son, of Campbellford and Theodore Cooney of Stirling were the main exhibitors. A. E. Hubble, of Havelock, and R. Stevens, of Campbellford, competed in the Jersey section. In the beef breeds the cattle owned by Ben Blecker, of Holloway, were prominent. The swine exhibits were numerous and the poultry division was a little smaller than last year, when the largest exhibit in the history of the fair was shown.

While there was a decrease in the entries in the cattle sections the horse division had one of the finest exhibits in years, with practically every section being filled. The directors in charge of this department showed good judgment in moving this exhibit from the old location to the centre of the grounds and hundreds of spectators inspected the fine display of animals that heretofore had not bothered viewing them.

The usual concessions were prominent on the midway, while refreshment booths were operated by the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the Scout Cubs, and others, while various games were also in operation.

Lovers of softball witnessed two good games during the afternoon. The Bethel team, winners of the Rawdon Softball League during the past season, failed to put in an appearance but Springbrook and Minto, winners of the Central League, provided the opposition in a doubleheader. The first game resulted in a win for the Springbrook boys by the score of 6 to 4. Williams and Broadworth were the battery for the winners, with the latter pitching one of the best games of the season to silence the bats of the heavy hitting Minto team. A. Ray, pitcher, and Clements, catcher, were the Minto battery. In the second game Minto reversed the tables on the boys from the North, winning by a score of 8 to 6. Gibson started on the mound for the winners, but was replaced by Ray in the second inning, while W. Shortt, of Sidney, occupied the pitching mound for the losers. The first game was in charge of W. Shortt at the plate and A. Livingstone on bases; while in the second game W. J. Whitty went behind the plate.

A splendid programme of harness racing and running and novelty races was staged on the race track. The trials of speed included a 2.23 class and a Free-for-all. The race committee adopted the every heat a race plan this year and some keen racing was witnessed, although there were only three horses in each race. Following are the results:

Quick Hitch Race

A new feature on the programme this year was the quick hitch race, in which the contestants had to harness, hitch and drive once around the track. There were three entries and much merriment was provoked by their efforts to get their nags harnessed and in motion. H. Elliott, of Moira, who drove a pony on a two-wheeled cart, got the jump on his opponents in harnessing and hitching and had too much of a start in the race around the track to be overtaken. Don Stevens, and his good steed "Nell" took second place and H. Johnston, third.

The "Sod-Busters" Race, open to all farmers' horses, on a four-wheeled vehicle, was won by Thos. Fleming, of Ivanhoe, with J. Adams, second, and H. Johnston, third.

Potato Race
The potato race on horseback, again proved popular with the large crowd, and was won by D. Stevens, of Campbellford, who was successful in transferring 12 potatoes from one box to the other. Mr. Rittway won second with 11 potatoes, and H. Elliott, of Moira, was third with seven. There were five entries.

The bicycle race for boys within a radius of ten miles of Stirling was won by M. Hedley, of Stirling, with Brown second, Farrell, third, and M. Holden, fourth.

The running race for farmers' horses weighing over 1200 pounds had three entries, with G. Stevens, winning 1st, D. Stevens, 2nd, and R. Stevens, third.

Excellent music was provided by the Stirling Citizens' Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Maurice Bell, throughout the afternoon.

UP IN THE CLOUDS

By Beulah Earle

BEGINNING IN THIS ISSUE

A story packed with thrills that only a non-stop 'round-the-world flight, coupled with a three-cornered romance can produce.

Two girls strive to win the affections of Monty Wallace, an intrepid aviator who plans great triumphs in the air. The battle of wits between the girls and the daring 'round-the-world air adventures of Wallace promise a continual source of enjoyment and good reading.

Don't miss this first rate tale. It has what you like. Adventure plus romance.

Up in the clouds

by Beulah Earle

First Instalment

Humming out of the east, the little black plane sped straight for the landing field. Natalie Wade watched it idly. She had nothing else to do. The plane had held her gaze mostly because of the directness of its flight. Other bees from the busy hive of San Carlos Airport circled or looped or dived as though in sheer abandon at having found their wings, but this black ship dived straight for the searchlight towers and the sagging windsock as though all life must perish if it did not reach the field within the instant.

Then suddenly someone yelled in the field office. Grease monkeys came heads up at the cry. Then racing feet pounded on the concrete where the girl stood and shirt-sleeved men rushed past her to the open field.

Crossing the light breeze, the ship skimmed low, its motor roaring more and more loudly as it neared. Then at the last possible moment, it seemed, the roar died. The ship sat down on the far tarmac but taxied straight on as though it would crash the high barrier before the hangars.

Moved by the rushing feet about her, the girl slipped through the barrier gate. A burst of hoarse cheering drew her on. Field men were mobbing the flier now as he flipped out of the open cockpit and clambered to the ground.

"Atta boy, Monty," someone yelled behind her. "Yeah," came an answering shout. "An hour and a half off the East-West record. What do you know about that?"

Then the girls' voices added their shrill note to the clamor. A bevy of gay creatures from the motor park beyond bore down upon the knot of men about the record-breaking Monty— whoever he might be — and carried Natalie along with it.

He stood there grinning, grimy but happy, beside the small plane. He had jerked off the helmet he wore and the mark of it crossed his forehead beneath a mop of tousled brown hair. Natalie recognized him now, though she had never seen him before. This was Monty Wallace whose cross-country flights were already famous. She had seen his picture in a score of papers.

She knew now what the excitement was all about. Monty Wallace had finished another of his great flights. He had broken the coast-to-coast record flying from east to west. An hour and a half, the excited shouters had declared.

And now he was reaping the reward of glory, the girl thought, and she laughed, for the bevy of sweet young things had flung itself at him, had caught at his hands and arms and now they were taking turns kissing him.

Natalie chuckled as she stood there watching. Just like fool women to spoil a good-looking boy like this by too much adulation.

But the crowd was moving toward her. Girls and men both moved down upon her and those behind blocked her retreat so that they suddenly stood face to face.

Natalie smiled up into his laughing eyes in their mask of oil and grime. She tried to step aside, but his hand, still holding the helmet, reached out to stop her.

"Come on," he laughed, "don't be bashful. A few more kisses and my face will be clean."

Without ado, he bent to kiss her squarely on the lips and then swept her along beside him to the apparent chagrin of the shrieking admirers.

At the hangar office, Natalie would have drawn away but the hero thrust her through the screened door. Screams and shrieks rose from the other girls when they were stopped at the entrance with the mechanics and a queue of loitering boys.

Inside, Monty lifted the girl quickly to one of the desks.

"Now stay put there," he laughed down at her. "I'll give you that interview in a few minutes. Got to clean up first and sign the papers."

Natalie "stayed put." There wasn't anything else to do and, after all, what did it matter?

The brown-haired Monty had disappeared into the wash room. Presently she could hear him sloshing water over himself with much puffing and splashing. A gray-haired man who seemed to be the post manager was yelling questions at him and writing in a big book. Monty bellowed back the details of his flight.

His wrist watch was handed out to be compared with the office clock and the watches of the other men.

When, presently, he came back into the office, his face was clean and the tousled hair had been ruthlessly back from his forehead. Natalie saw now that his chin was cleft in a somewhat fascinating way.

"You're with the paper, you said," he offered with a chuckle and a little wink. "We'll go down to the office and you can do your story there."

Natalie made no response but his grin was so infectious that she smiled. This man worked fast, she thought. He was just as swift with adoring femininity as he was in breaking records.

He was at the telephone now ordering a taxicab. Offers of other cars he spurned lightly.

There would be a fast ride into town, the girl knew, and she thought she could guess what came afterward. She must match wits with him and a daring plan came to her as she swung her heels from the desk where she sat.

Her father had been a newspaper man. She knew the machinery of news-getting. She would make him play out his hand.

the anniversary services at the First Church on Sunday last. It be the 108th anniversary of the birth of Mr. Percy Brown and Mrs. Percy Brown and

Jim. "You are young. You are beautiful. And you have a head on your shoulders. That's all any of us needs in this world."

The evening will soon be complete," bantered Natalie. "You don't by any chance happen to have fallen in love with me? That's about all that could possibly occur to add to the occasion."

"Well," the youth laughed, "you can add that up, too, I guess. Something happened to me when I saw you standing there at the field. That's why I kissed you. And if it isn't love it's sure a perfect counterfeit. You might as well give it the benefit of the doubt."

"That," she chuckled, "is what I consider the response of a gentleman. I couldn't call it an impassioned declaration but it certainly fills the bill. I am very greatly obliged to you."

"Never kid an aviator, Natalie Wade," Monty laughed. "Give me a few drinks and I'll make it just as impassioned as you like. What say we go somewhere to dance after dinner?"

"That would be very nice," Natalie accepted. "But please omit the drinks. I am quite satisfied and I don't know you well enough yet to try hopping up our acquaintance with cocktails."

"All right," he agreed with evident reluctance. "Just as you say. But you have no idea how a few drinks ripen the affections."

When dinner was over he became host. He insisted on hiring a car and they drove first along the beach road. At length they found an attractive spot where an abandoned lighthouse had been turned into a sort of roadside inn and there they sat for a long time looking out toward the Pacific.

It was not till the girl found that they were sitting side by side with-

When he stood at Natalie's side, she spoke to him quickly.

"I'm new here," she said. "Tell the city editor I want a job and that I'm writing Mont Wallace's exclusive story of a new record flight."

The boy looked at her with a fishy eye and then ambled off to the desks where two or three men worked apparently at getting out the sporting extra.

One of these with worn suspenders and with his green eye-shade drawn down so that it formed an almost perfect mask, looked up in startled fashion. He reached for a piece of paper, stared at it, and then came over to the girl's side.

"What's all this about?" he demanded.

"I'm looking for a job," she jerked out between bursts of typewriter pounding. "This is Mont Wallace who just broke the East-West flight record. I'm writing the story and he's going to sign it if I do a good job. Does that rate a try-out from you?"

The small man peered up at Natalie. Then he thrust out his hand.

"I got a flash on the yarn from the airport," he said. "My men were late on the spot and they told me someone else had grabbed you. If you'll give the young lady your story, she goes on the pay-roll right away. I can't promise how long she'll stay there, but she'll get a trial."

Wallace grinned.

"About how long," he questioned, "would the trial last?"

But the girl spoke up quickly.

"It doesn't matter about that," she said. "If I can't hit the ball I'll know it quickly enough and so will they. My name's Natalie Wade. Put it on the payroll and let me draw enough when the story is done to take the big boy here out to dinner."

"I'm Mack Hanlon," the city editor said, glancing wisely at the flier. "The dinner goes on office expense account if you keep on the way you're going. Slap her out fast. We go down in twenty minutes."

Sitting across from Mont Wallace over the very excellent dinner that was to be charged to the San Carlos Express, Natalie laughed merrily.

"This," she explained, "is what I call getting the breaks. No job, no money, no place to go. I wander out to the airport because it is a long walk and I like to watch the planes. Then you buzz in, kiss me sweetly, and carry me off. I use you to muscle into a job and a good dinner with the hero of the hour. Isn't life a joke?"

"All perfectly sensible," Monty as-speech that she realized something unusual had happened to her. This was no ordinary evening, no commonplace flirtation. There was something about their sudden acquaintance that turned night glorious and that made the first strains of the small stringed orchestra send them into each other's arms without realizing it.

They had risen when the music sounded and stood upon the tiled terrace. It was only a step from the shadow that clothed them to the moonlit outdoor dance floor. But for long moments they did not take that step.

Other couples began moving from the tables within, but the two were not aware of it. When he bent his head her lips met his without shyness or confusion. It was as though the moment were preordained.

Then she gave a low laugh. "Aren't we supposed to be dancing?" she asked gaily.

He kissed her again quickly.

"Perhaps we are," he chuckled as he swept her out onto the floor with swift, rhythmic strides, "but it seems like a waste of time and of very excellent music."

WELLMANS W. I.

The September meeting of the Wellmans W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Watson, with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. Wm. Matthews, opened the meeting. The Institute Ode was sung and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. The Roll Call, "A recipe for a liniment or ointment" was well responded to. The minutes were read by the Secretary, Miss Leatha Hoover. Letters were read from the District Secretary regarding the convention and the speaker sent out by the Department. Plans were made to make a thrift exhibit at the Convention. Mrs. Carl Clancy, convener of Health, took charge of the programme. Mrs. Beckett gave a paper on "Why do women age more quickly than men?" Mrs. Chester Sills, the District President, was present and gave an interesting talk on the duties of officers of the Branch and District Institutes, also a talk on poliomyelitis and other diseases and their prevention. Mrs. Chas. Dunham gave a reading "Her Mission" and Mrs. Clifford Clancy a reading entitled "A Prayer on Health". A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Watson for her kind hospitality. The national anthem was sung and lunch served, including cake, sandwiches, cookies, ice cream and tea.

BROADWORTH — WANNAMAKER

A very interesting wedding was performed at the home of Rev. Mr. Belch, West Huntingdon, on Saturday afternoon, when Myrtle Mae Wannamaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wannamaker, became the bride of Kenneth McCauley Broadworth, Stirling, son of Wm. J. Broadworth and the late Mrs. Lulu Armstrong Broadworth, the officiating clergyman being Rev. C. Ernest Tatham, of Toronto. The bride was prettily attired in a gown of Coronation blue translucent velvet made on Princess lines matching turban and wore a corsage of pink roses, maiden hair fern and gypsophylla, while her attendant, Miss Pearl Wannamaker, a sister of the bride, wore a navy triple sheer dress with matching accessories and corsage of yellow roses, maiden hair and gypsophylla. Mr. Donald Broadworth, brother of the groom was best man.

The happy couple left immediately for the ceremony for Ottawa, and in the east, the bride travelling in an imported French wool crepe navy with navy felt hat, gloves, shoes and purse. The couple will reside in Weldon Township.

ST. PAUL'S W. M. S.

Mrs. Patterson then led in a short prayer. The reports were called from the various secretaries on the work done during the summer months which were quite encouraging, with some resolutions. Mrs. Lansing gave a paper on Stewardship. A solo was rendered by Miss Mathison. A leaflet was read by Mrs. E. G. Bailey and Mrs. J. J. Wilson led in prayer. Hymn 81 was sung, and Mrs. R. Bush gave a splendid paper which was very much enjoyed by all, as she was the guest speaker from River Valley. Miss Currie gave a five-minute talk on the missionary monthly. After singing a hymn of prayer, the meeting was dismissed by the Mizpah Benediction.

ST. PAUL'S W. A. "AT HOME"

Some one hundred ladies of sixteen Societies were invited and gathered with the members of St. Paul's W. A. for a social hour on the occasion of the re-opening of the church. A profusion of cut flowers in autumn shades adorned the altar.

The President, Mrs. Macklin called the gathering to order and all joined in singing the theme song "Let the Beauty of Jesus be Seen in Me". Rev. W. J. Scott offered a gracious prayer. Mrs. W. J. Scott, in a pleasing manner welcomed the guests. She based her address on the word "Friendship". The programme continued with the following numbers: Mrs. Arthur Pyser, instrumental solo; Mrs. H. P. Ellis, solo, accompanied by Mrs. H. L. Alger at the piano; Mrs. T. McKeown, a splendid reading; Mrs. Sine, an instrumental solo on the harp; Mrs. H. Elliott, solo, accompanied by Miss M. Currie on the piano; Miss Gena Spry gave an interesting reading. An outstanding feature of the program was an address by the guest speaker, Mrs. J. A. Scott, District Representative. She took for her subject "Woman's Standing". She referred to the Women in Biblical times, how they stood for dependability, faithfulness, sincerity, and the woman of today, if she decides to follow the Christ-like way, must have these qualifications. At the close of the programme, all adjourned to the dining hall and partook of the delicious food set before them. The social hour was well spent in jovial conversation.

On behalf of the visiting societies Mrs. Harold Elliott, President of the Bethel W. A., thanked the hostesses for the very enjoyable afternoon.

DEMONSTRATION HOME IS ONE FEATURE AT KEMPTVILLE SCHOOL

What's sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose. The city women have known it for a long time and have acted on their knowledge. Not for them to let "Friend Husband" get a new model for the old car while they drugged along without all the comforts of home. But the country woman was brought up in a harder school, where a good wife was supposed to pump the water from the well and feed the kitchen range with wood, while tractors did the plowing and the barns got all the paint. It got so that often the house looked as if it should be the barn and vice versa.

But not today. Many of the Ontario farmers are on the city telephone, the hydro-electric, the rural free delivery and their greatest concern is to keep their children on the farm and their wives contented. The "women-folk" want attractive homes and now that higher prices are prevailing for farm products, they feel they are entitled to a share of the profits — and the men agree. They are putting better equipment into the housekeeping end of the partnership, and they are giving their daughters scientific education in homemaking as willingly as they send their sons to agricultural college. Hence the Home Economics Course at the Kemptville Agricultural School, which Eastern Ontario girls are taking in ever-increasing numbers.

Most interesting to the visitors is the "Demonstration Home" where the pupils put into practice what they have learned in the classes. And it is really practical. Groups of four girls "live in" for two weeks or more and are responsible for every detail of the household management. Here, under the watchful and kindly eyes of Miss B. Lucile Bridges, Director of Home Economics and Miss Lorraine Leggett, Assistant Director, the "committee of four" do all the work, alternating on each particular job for several days. One acts as housekeeper, cleaning, dusting and arranging the bedrooms; they are waitresses looking after the silver as well as washing small pieces of linen; then they cook, preparing meals for six people; then they finish as hostesses. In this capacity the girl does all the actual buying of the food from the shops and oversees all the details of the running of the home. On the last day she invites some guests for dinner or an evening party and presides over it. It is all wonderful experience under actual home conditions.

The fame of the Kemptville Demonstration Home has spread throughout all Eastern Ontario. Since it was first opened a year ago 114 groups of men and women have visited the home, including many entire Women's Institute Branches of 30 or 40 members, who have brought a picnic lunch and stayed for the afternoon. All have left with new, practical and economical ideas on homemaking. The twelve rooms are furnished in simple but artistic style. To the left of the entrance hall is the long living room and to the right, the dining room. A few pieces of old furniture were picked up to give the girls an appreciation for good, old furniture and to show them what could be done by refinishing it, an old English dressing table being transformed into a sideboard for the dining-room. Curtains for all the rooms have been made by the girls, who shopped around for bargains. Blue velvet drapes have been used to cover the chairs and studio couch in the den.

The kitchen catches the eye of the average visitor, even though it is a most awkward size, 9 by 20 feet. It too is furnished for those who have to work on a low budget. There is a serviceable, but not expensive sink, and the cupboard space is a joy. There is a place for everything, even to compartment for the broom and cleaning utensils.

Upstairs there are five bedrooms, with quaint dainty and calico patterned papers; more cupboards and clothes closets, large and tidy; a bathroom in deep sea blue and white. There are muslin curtains in the bedrooms and tufted spreads of factory cotton, which the girls learn to make under Miss Leggett's supervision. Then there are the home made beds, built by the school carpenter. These are being painted one by one by the girls and are making a good job of it! The money went into the springs and mattresses rather than in the bedstead — and they will be made gay and smart with the spreads.

An attractive chair in one of the bedrooms is made out of two cheese boxes and covered with novelty upholstery. It is one of the smartest pieces of furniture in the house. There are quite a few of these chairs now to be seen in Eastern Canada farm homes, as a result of a visit to Kemptville.

If you haven't visited this practical "wonder house" at Kemptville, you have a real treat in store for you, Mrs. Farm Lady. Try to make the trip this fall and bring your daughters with you. Your husband will enjoy looking over the farm and buildings. He will be more than interested in the stock, particularly the two new mares purchased recently by the Honourable Duncan Marshall, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, specially for the Kemptville School. It is at once good business and a genuine pleasure to visit Kemptville. So just combine business and pleasure. It always pays.

The two-year Course in Agriculture for boys opens October 11th. Write Principal James C. Shearer, Kemptville, for calendar. Mr. Shearer will also be glad to forward particulars regarding the two-year Home Economic Course and the one-year Homemakers Course for girls.

MOUNT PLEASANT

(Crowded out Last Week)

W.M.S.

The September meeting of Mount Pleasant Woman's Missionary Society was held at the church with an attendance of thirteen members who answered roll call with the keyword "Praise". Mrs. Edgar McKeown prepared the programme and also sang an appropriate solo at the close of an interesting Devotional talk on "Prayer" given by Mrs. John Holmes. The service opened with quiet music and the president read a thoughtful poem as the call to worship. Each one present offered a sentence prayer and all sang "What a Friend we have in Jesus". Miss Edna Thrasher read the Bible Lesson. In the business period Mrs. Roy Thrasher, with Miss Frances McKeown as alternate, were appointed as delegates to the Sectional Rally which will be held at Foxboro on October first. The resignation of Miss Edna Thrasher, who has been the very efficient Mission Band Leader for the past six years, was accepted with alacrity, and the Society deeply realize that their loss will be another community's gain. Miss Frances McKeown, the assistant band leader, will carry on the work until the election of officers in November. Mrs. Frank Jeffs gave an interesting synopsis of the last chapter of the Study Book "Men and Women of Far Horizons." Mrs. Kenneth Weaver sang "Help Somebody today" and Mrs. Allan Bailey read a timely selection on "The Four Quarters". In the study on Foreign Missions different selections were given by Mrs. Arthur Phillips, Mrs. J. E. Beckel and Mrs. Frank Smith. The President presented a few highlights from the recent "School for Leaders" at Whiteby. This helpful service was dismissed by Rev. Beckel at the close of the rendition of a missionary hymn.

On Sunday morning, at Mount Pleasant, the annual Rally Service was held. Miss Isobel Turner presided at the piano. Rev. J. E. Beckel presided in the absence of the Superintendent. The service opened with "All Hail" and Miss Anna Sharp read the Bible lesson. All joined in a hymn of Homage to Jesus Christ. Miss Gladys Summers read an interesting story "How Bryan learned to sing praise." Master Donald Spencer, with his mother as accompanist, sang "Wonderful Jesus." The pastor discoursed on the theme "Crown Him Lord of All." In this Coronation year folks should be loyal to King and Country and also loyal to Jesus and His laws of Life. The offering was

In aid of the Ontario Religious Education Council and was suitably dedicated. Mrs. John Holmes, grading officer, read the list of promotions as follows: from Primary to Junior Girls — Margaret McMechan, Ruth Rose and Lois Weaver; from Primary to Junior Boys — John Reid, Bruce Melville, Keith Johnson, Lloyd Anderson; from Junior Girls to Intermediate Girls — Gladys Summers and Marion Rose; from Jr. Boys to Boys Intermediate — Carmén Beckel, Ross Jeffs, Ralph Jeffs, Billy McAdam and Everett Anderson; from Girls Intermediate to Senior Girls — Helen Hay, Vera McAdam, Helen Spencer, Anna Sharpe; from Boys Intermediate to Sr. Boys — Percy White, Ormel MacMullen and John McMechan. The service closed with "Jesus shall reign and the Benediction."

Among the guests who attended the miscellaneous shower for Miss Marguerite White and Mr. Leon MacMullen on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White were: Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sharp, Mr. Gerald Sharp and Miss Florence Hearn, Frankford; Messrs Henry and Will Hagerman, Minto; Mrs. George White and Mildred, Stirling; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sharp and Keith, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sharp and family, Hoards; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cronkright, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marshall, Zion's Hill; Mrs. William MacMullen, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril MacMullen, Don and Fernie, Mrs. Clifford Hall, June and Ray, Mr. George Smith, Sidney Crossing; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stickle and Marjorie, Johnstown; Mrs. Emma MacMullen, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. MacMullen, Bessie, Malcolm and Ralph, Springbrook; Miss Lettie MacMullen, Campbellford, also friends from Bethel and Wellman.

Miss Edna Thrasher Tendered a Farewell

On Monday evening, Sept. 13th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb David was the scene of a happy gathering when Miss Phyllis David entertained last winter's skating group to another social evening, so that all might say farewell to Miss Edna Thrasher before her departure to Ivanhoe. There were twenty-two young people in attendance and all enjoyed several games. At intervals an alarm clock tingled and here the jollity ceased and the guest of honour hurried to find the clock, as nearby a parcel was tied up, waiting for her. When all the parcels had been gathered, the following address was read by Miss Vera McAdam:

Mount Pleasant, September 13th, 1937

Dear Edna,— We've gathered here at Phyl's tonight. We thought it wouldn't be just right. To let you go away from us Without a little bit of fuss. Pump Street will not seem quite the same When you go off and change your name. But Ivanhoe is not far away We'll all drop in on you some day. These little gifts we bring to you Along with wishes fond and true— May happiness be yours in wedded life As you are Milton's loving wife. Signed on behalf of the skating crowd — Betty Hoard, Phyllis David and Bert Jeffs.

Edna then opened each parcel which revealed a kitchen article in cream and red with a cute verse attached to each and then she graciously thanked all her kind friends for their lovely gifts, even though it was a complete surprise. Mrs. David served the guests watermelon, canteloupe, ice cream, cake and cocoa, and the guests departed wishing Edna every happiness on her matrimonial voyage.

The difficulty of feeding hot or warm liquids to invalids in a sick room can be easily overcome by using transparent drinking straws which will not collapse in hot fluids. These same straws, brightly coloured, will tempt any child to drink his milk without a murmur of protest.

WEST HUNTINGDON

W. M. S.

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. J. S. Wilson, on Sept. 8th, with a goodly number present. Mrs. A. Wright, assistant president, took charge of the program. "There is work to do for Jesus" was sung and Mrs. P. McInroy led in prayer. After singing "Take my life and let it be", Mrs. N. Fox read the devotional leaflet "The Unchanged Christ." Roll call was answered by each one giving a verse containing the word "Hope". Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. J. Moorcroft, Mrs. E. T. Sarles and Mrs. G. Poste reported on the "Watchtower", China, India and Temperance. Mrs. P. McInroy gave a paper on "Christian Stewardship". Business was then dealt with and Mrs. Foster Wilson was chosen delegate to attend the Convention in Foxboro. Solo by Mrs. Sandy McCurdy "Was that somebody you?" Study book was taken by Mrs. F. Ashley and Rev. Mr. Tristram made a few brief remarks on the work in Africa and closed with prayer. The hostess served a sumptuous lunch of sandwiches, jellies, cake and coffee. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Phillip Carr.

Local and Personal

The recent rains have been much appreciated, but the high wind that accompanied the rain on Saturday evening did much damage to corn, buckwheat and apples.

Mr. Burton Reid, of Madoc, has rented the Ross farm, lately vacated by Mr. Geo. Sarles.

Mrs. Geo. Cooke of Maple Avenue entertained the Huntingdon Branch of the W. I. on Tuesday. A large number attended, it being "Grandmothers' Day".

Rev. W. R. Tristram attended the Presbytery meeting of the United Church which was held at Tweed on Tuesday.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. E. T. Sarles on Thursday evening when the members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McMurray, of Minto, gathered to celebrate with Mrs. E. T. Sarles her birthday. Mr. Clifford Elliott was chairman for the evening's entertainment, and Mr. Nelson Sarles read the following address:

West Huntingdon, September 9th, 1937

Dear Mother,—

It is with feelings of love that your family and friends have gathered at your home on the evening of your sixty-third birthday. We feel we would like to say so much on this occasion to show that we have appreciated all you have done for us. The cheerful way you taught us to be useful and settled our difficulties — and Oh! the sewing and baking and darning so unselfishly done for us; and tonight we have gathered as an unbroken family to honour you and wish you a very happy birthday, and may it please God to grant you many more. Our thoughts are best summed in these lines —

We love you for the simple grace That adds its radiance to your face. We love you for the gentle eyes And for the speech that never lies. We love you for the Christ-like way That keeps you safely day by day. We love you for your patient care, With children's errors, hard to bear; We love you for the lesson taught Of how life's battle should be fought. We love you for the hope and strength That bids us strive to win at length And we hope it future years Bring to you griefs, cares and fears, Of courage falls you'll lean on us That we may prove our love for you. Signed on behalf of the family.

On behalf of the family Mr. Thomas Sarles presented Mrs. Sarles with an upholstered rocking chair.

Although taken by surprise Mrs. Sarles thanked her children for their kind remembrance. A number of songs were sung such as "Home Sweet Home", "Put on your old gray bonnet", "When you and I were young, Maggie", The Misses Irene and Marguerite Elliott sang as a duet "If you love your mother meet her in the skies." Mr. E. T. Sarles closed the programme with the Benediction and lunch was served.

Miss Helen Wright has accepted a position at the O.S.D., Belleville.

RIVER VALLEY STUDY GROUP

The August meeting of the group was held at the home of Mrs. Sarah Rosebush with quite a number present. The meeting opened with hymns "Jesus Calls us O'er the Tumult", followed by opening exercises. The business was then conducted. It was decided that our group would be unable to visit Stirling W.M.S. in September. Mrs. Sager kindly offered her home for the October meeting. Misses Evelyn and Adeline Bush will be in charge of the October program. Mrs. Norman Rosebush gave a Temperance reading and Mrs. W. Lindenfield gave a reading on "Peace". Mrs. W. Lindenfield took charge of the programme. Hymn "O Master let me walk with thee" was sung. Items from the new annual report were read from the different countries. Hymn "When mothers of Salem" was then sung. A very interesting Bible Lesson was given by Mrs. J. Sager. The hymn "How Firm a Foundation" was sung. Mrs. Lindenfield closed the meeting with prayer. A bountiful lunch was served by the hostess.

It's so much easier to shop by TELEPHONE..

On wet days and snowy days, on days when there is so much housework to be done, on days when you aren't feeling up to scratch yourself or when one of the youngsters is ailing, it's great to be able to shop by telephone. And on fine days too, and when everything else is going right, it saves you an endless amount of tiresome traipsing around. Make the telephone your market basket.

DEMONSTRATION HOME AT KEMPTVILLE AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL. The fame of this home has spread throughout Eastern Ontario and has been visited by hundreds of women who have been more than interested in what the girls of the Home Economics classes at Kemptville are being taught in this home, under ordinary home conditions. From left to right are the kitchen and the living room, while centre below is a view of the home from the outside. Visitors are welcome at all times.

VOTERS' LIST COURT

The sitting of the Voters' List Court for the Village of Stirling will be held at the Public Library to-morrow (Friday) at 9:30 a.m., with Judge G. E. De Roche presiding. Any person whose name does not appear on the 1937 voters' list should see that his name is added tomorrow in order to vote at the coming provincial elections.

LARGE CORN

That this year's crop of corn in this district is considerably above the average, is shown by two sample ears of corn which were displayed at this office the first of the week. One ear of the Longfellow variety was ten inches in length, with sixteen rows, and was grown by Fred Mack, of Rawdon Township, while the other was of the White Cap Dent variety and was grown on the farm of Patrick Tobin, also of Rawdon Township. The latter ear was nine and a half inches

SPRINGBROOK LADIES' AID

Mrs. T. McKeown, vice-President, presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Springbrook L. A., held at the home of Mrs. Percy Mumby, on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 2nd, and attended by twelve members and two visitors. Singing of a hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers" was the opening number with Mrs. S. Mason at the piano. The Secretary, Mrs. G. Bailey, gave the report of the last meeting and the roll was called and well responded to. A short devotional talk was enjoyed when the scripture lesson was read by Mrs. T. Morgan. Explanation was given by Mrs. Thomas McKeown. Mrs. Murney Mason then read Timothy, 5th Chapter. All joined in singing the theme song. Miss Ethel Peake led in reading Psalm 138, which was read responsively. Program was as follows: Mrs. Thomas Morgan gave a paper "Mirrors" which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. T. F. Cassidy then gave a reading "A Woman's Week", a request by Mrs. Mumby. Mrs. T. McKeown gave an interesting paper "When others tire". All joined in singing hymn "More about Jesus". The meeting was brought to a close with everyone repeating the Lord's Prayer. The hostess then served a bountiful lunch, assisted by Mrs. Murney Mason. The ladies spent an hour in a social chat in the canning line before they departed for home. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Percy Bateman.

CONSERVATIVES HOLD MEETING

soldier dismissed in this district was replaced by a Liberal worker. Do you think that Hepburn is entitled to another mandate after such treatment? Rowe has promised preference to the returned men.

Under the Henry administration the liquor control Board was made up of three men, but Hepburn fired them and in their place put a one-man commission, Mr. Odette. Beer parlours have been forced in dry centres and the Canada Temperance Act violated. Rowe will return the principle of control and will improve the laws in the interests of control and sobriety. He will also recognize the Canada Temperance Act. With an election coming on, Hepburn has promised to return to a three-man commission.

H. D. Graham, Trenton

"We have the unprecedented condition of a government of seventy-two members against seventeen in opposition having an election when they have two years to go," stated Mr. H. D. Graham, of Trenton, in his address. Continuing the speaker said that Hydro was the main reason for the Government going to the country now. Under the former government there was a three-man commission, but Hepburn dismissed them and one of the most capable engineers on the American continent. In their place he put a politically controlled commission with the Editor of the Globe at its head. He cancelled forty-year contracts, but has since been compelled to purchase power from the same source on a 10-year plan.

The workers in Oshawa had joined the Committee for Industrial Organization but Hepburn said they could not join such an organization. "This is a free country and surely any man has a right to join whatever organization he likes so long as he abides by the law," stated the speaker. "Hitler says you can't have any more Rotary Clubs in Germany; Mussolini says you can't have any more Masonic lodges in Italy, and Hepburn says you can't join any organization on industrial union basis". All three are dictators. In the case of the School Assessment Act the seventy members on the Government side did as Hepburn dictated. Never before in the history of the Province or Dominion has a government set itself above the courts of the land. At the present time if you were knocked down by a Hydro truck you could not take it to court. The Government has placed Hydro above courts. People do not want representatives at Toronto who are at the beck and call of one man.

In 19 months the Liberal Government has raised $2 million dollars in gas tax, markers, etc., and has spent about eleven million on roads. A profit of $2 million dollars out of the people who drive motor cars. "A $5.00 reduction in my motor license is not enough to buy my vote and I don't think it will buy many others," said the speaker.

Mr. J. S. Morton, President of the Stirling Conservative Association, acted as chairman and introduced the speakers. Seated on the platform besides the speakers were Reeve Thos. Cranston, C. R. Bastedo and Harry Hollins, President of the Belleville Conservative Association.

Two vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. H. P. Ellis during the meeting, with Mrs. H. H. Alger at the piano. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

HONOURED ON RETIREMENT

Mr. Robt. Eggleton Presented With Address and Pair of Slippers

It was with mingled feelings of regret and pride that the officers and members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School gathered in the church parlours on Monday evening to do honour to Mr. Robert Eggleton, who has retired from the office of School Superintendent; regret that they were to lose the services of such a valued officer and pride in the fact that he was leaving behind him a record of forty years continuous service, twenty of which were served as leader of the school. Although in his eighty-first year, Mr. Eggleton will continue to give his services to the Sunday School in a honorary capacity, but will be succeeded in office by Mr. Harper Rollins, who has served as secretary-treasurer for many years. The evening was in the nature of a surprise to the honoured guest, who was accompanied by Mrs. Eggleton.

The gathering was called to order by Mr. H. Rollins, who explained the purpose of the evening, after which the following interesting programme was presented under the chairmanship of Rev. J. A. Koffend; opening chorus, by Junior Girls; message of good wishes by Margaret Wilson; chorus, senior girls; humorous reading, "I will never grow up", Shirley Montgomery; instrumental solo, Dorothy Gay; reading, Dorothy Hullin; solo, Marilyn Eggleton, granddaughter of Mr. Eggleton; tenor solo, Wm. Demdly, accompanied by Mrs. R. H. Williams; solo, Jean McIntosh; reading, Mary Agnes Fox; solo, "Venezia Refrain", Arthur Duncan, accompanied by Mrs. Williams.

At this time, Mr. George Tulloch, President of the Young Men's Bible Class was called upon and in a brief address expressed, on behalf of the class, gratitude shared by them for the tireless efforts of the retiring officer, and the inspiration his life had, been to them as they grew into manhood under his guidance. Mr. Tulloch also read a communication received from Mr. Allan Melkiejohn, of Kingston, Ontario, a past member of the Sabbath School, who spoke in his letter for all those who began their early training with Mr. Eggleton and had since continued it in churches elsewhere, all sharing a desire to strive for higher things because of his kindly interest and influence.

Mr. Harper Rollins, representing the Sabbath School and staff, then presented the honoured guest with an illuminated address as Bobby Koffend and little Miss Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gibson, presented Mr. Eggleton with a fine pair of slippers, as tangible expression of appreciation for his long and splendid service. This part of the program was brought to a close with an appropriate hymn. A social period during which luncheon was served by the ladies, climaxed a most enjoyable evening.

HARVEST FESTIVAL HELD

A special Harvest Festival Service was held in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday evening last, with a large congregation. Rev. J. L. Hughes, of Brighton, occupied the pulpit and delivered an appropriate and inspiring sermon. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Algor, who presided at the organ throughout. With Mrs. H. P. Ellis being the soloist. The church was tastefully decorated with grain, flowers and vegetables. Holy Communion was celebrated at 8.30 a.m.

HYDRO MEETING

A special meeting of the Stirling Hydro Electric Commission was held in the Hydro Office on Tuesday evening to discuss an agreement with the Bell Telephone Co., in regard to pole rentals and maintenance. Messrs G. W. Proctor, of Belleville, and D. Ullman, of Kingston, represented the latter company, while all the members of the local commission were present.

JOSEPH DELANEY

Joseph Delaney passed away at his home on Front St., Stirling, on Monday, September 27th, after an illness of about two years. Born at Colborne, Mr. Delaney came to this locality at an early age and resided here practically his entire life, receiving his education at Stirling schools. He was a shoemaker by trade and was well known in the village. He was a member of St. John's Anglican Church. Left to mourn his loss are two sisters, Miss Sarah Delaney, of Stirling, and Mrs. M. Marshall, of Detroit, Mich., and one nephew, Mr. Wm. Delaney, of Barrie, Ont.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, September 29th, in St. John's Anglican Church at two o'clock. Rev. A. S. McConnell conducting the service. Interment was made in Stirling Cemetery.

NEW COURSE FOR SCHOOLS IS DISCUSSED

The new course of study inaugurated in the Public Schools of the Province by the Department of Education insofar as it affects the Stirling Public School, was the subject of a lengthy discussion at the regular meeting of the Board of Education held in the High School on Monday evening. Mr. Walter Wright, vice-chairman, occupied the chair and was supported by Messrs J. S. Morton, C. F. Linn, E. G. Bailey, J. B. Belshaw, Ewart Bailey, H. C. Martin, N. E. Eggleton, Dr. E. A. Carleton, Dr. H. H. Algor and Dr. C. F. Walt.

Principal Wells of the Public School outlined the new course, which changes the entire method of teaching and requires the use of a number of additional books. A list of the equipment needed, including that for manual training, was presented by Mr. Wells, and a motion was passed authorizing the purchasing committee to make the necessary purchases. The illness of Miss Johnston, teacher in the lower grades of the Public School, was reported. It was decided that in future when a member of the staff is ill, the attending physician will be required to give the school board a statement as to the probable length of illness.

Principal J. L. Good, of the High School, gave a report on the attendance at the local school and submitted a list of equipment needed, including books, scientific apparatus, maps and a Victrola and records. Later in the meeting a motion was passed (Continued on Page Five)

LOCAL NOMINATIONS WERE STORMY AFFAIR

LIBERAL SUPPORTERS REFUSE CONSERVATIVE SPEAKERS HEARING - COMMUNITY BUILDING FILLED TO CAPACITY WITH SUPPORTERS OF BOTH PARTIES

Unparalleled scenes in the political history of this village were enacted yesterday afternoon at the nominations for the constituency of West Hastings when an organized group of Liberal supporters, alleged to have come from the neighbouring town of Trenton, refused R. D. Arnott, Conservative candidate, and Hon. Earl Lawson, M.P., his supporting speaker, a hearing. The Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health, had received a good reception from the large crowd which filled the Community Hall to capacity and overflowed into the street, but Mayor Arnott had scarcely opened his address when trouble began. Repeated efforts on the part of the chairman to procure a hearing for speakers were fruitless and in the end both speakers gave up.

At one o'clock Mr. J. B. Grainger, Returning Officer, read the writ and called for nominations. At two o'clock nominations were declared closed, with Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner and Richard D. Arnott, both of Belleville, being the candidates. Forty-five minutes was allowed each candidate or his representative, with Hon. Dr. Faulkner being allowed a short period to reply. Mr. J. B. Grainger acted as chairman. Prominent figures of both parties occupied seats on the platform, including Mayor Cory, of Trenton; Chas. Cameron, M.P., of Ireland, ex-M.L.A., Geo. Reid, Belleville; Geo. Stokes, Belleville, T. La Cock, Marmora, H. Rollins, Belleville and W. C. West, Stirling.

Dr. J. A. Faulkner

Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health, was the first speaker, and was greeted with thunderous applause when he rose to speak. In opening his address Dr. Faulkner stated he was glad to see such a representative group of the two great political parties present and asked for a fair hearing for all parties. A great responsibility rested upon the electors in marking their ballots on Wednesday next.

There were a number of things which the present Government had done which should appeal to the citizens. One tax which the Hephburn Government was responsible for was the Provincial Income Tax. We have relieved the municipalities from collecting this tax, but have returned as much or more to them in grants and subsidies. There were people who were evading the Municipal Income tax, through residing in one municipality and doing business in another, stated Dr. Faulkner, but the Provincial tax did away with this.

Turning to the Succession Duty Tax, Hon. Dr. Faulkner stated this was not a new tax, but Premier Hephburn had made amendments to the Act to re-open estates closed by the former administration, and had collected some seven million dollars from them. "In the face of that are you willing that the present government should be relieved of office?" asked the speaker. The penalties for failing to disclose the complete assets of an estate had been increased 100 per cent, but the government

Mrs. Willman was the winner of the draw held at A. C. Waymark's store on Saturday evening last and received a large flashlight. The lucky ticket was drawn at 10.30 p.m. by Marie Montgomery, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Montgomery.

RECEIVED SUBSIDY

A cheque for the sum of four hundred and fifty dollars and ninety cents from the provincial Treasurer was received by Treasurer R. A. Patterson, on Tuesday of this week. This amount covers the one-mill subsidy given the municipality on the general tax rate in lieu of the Municipal income tax.

F. T. WARD ILL

Friends of Mr. Fred T. Ward will be sorry to learn that he took suddenly ill while at his store on Monday forenoon, and is confined to his home under the doctor's care. Mr. Ward just recently celebrated his eightieth birthday and has been enjoying comparatively good health. At the time of going to press Mr. Ward is reported as making a satisfactory recovery.

LOCAL BOWLERS WIN

Two links of Stirling Bowlers attended the mixed doubles tournament held by the Tweed Bowling Club yesterday afternoon and won first and second prizes. Mrs. P. W. Long and F. R. Mafoery had the highest score.

BAND CONCERT AND DANCE PLANNED

A Band Concert and Dance has been arranged by the Stirling Citizens' Band for election night in the Stirling Community Building. In order that the audience may be kept informed as to the outcome of the election arrangements have been made for receiving the returns and they will be broadcast over amplifiers. A lengthy and varied program will be presented in the theatre consisting of Horse Fiddle and Trombone duet, Messrs Alex Park and H. Moore, with band accompaniment; vocal duet, Miss Irene Tucker and Eric Chapelle; tumbling act by Stonewall Athletic Club; trombone trio, H. Moore, K. Stapley, H. Dettlor; tap dancing by the Hick Sisters; trumpet trio, G. Miller, J. Ward, J. Ketcheson; instrumental quartette; community singing led by Bob Patterson; selections by the Band. Mrs. H. Moore will act as accompanist throughout.

At the conclusion of the program dancing will be enjoyed in the Community Hall from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. to music supplied by a 10-piece S.C.B. orchestra. There will also be a grand door prize given away.

Here's a chance to meet your friends. They will all be in Stirling on election night to support one of the finest musical organizations in the district. The Band is a worthwhile organization and needs your financial support in order to carry on. Plan now to attend and boost a community enterprise - Election Night, at Stirling.

HALF HOLIDAYS END

Yesterday afternoon was the last Wednesday half holiday for the merchants and business men in Stirling. Since the first week in May each Wednesday afternoon has been a period of rest and recreation for those who wait upon the purchasers of this district. And it is a fine thing that an arrangement can be made to make it possible for employers and employees to have one afternoon off each week during the summer months. Hard work will not hurt anyone, but the old saying that "all work and no play makes John a dull boy" is just as applicable in adult life as it was in our youth. The closing of the stores on Wednesday afternoons may have inconvenienced some and again may have meant a slight monetary loss to the merchants, but this is far overshadowed by the benefits accrued in better health and enjoyment. As a general thing the purchasers are willing to co-operate and do their shopping at another time. Practically everyone enjoys a holiday some time or another, and it is only fair that the business man should have his day for recreation or for working in the home garden.

During the past summer the weatherman has been very favourable on the mid-week holiday and the employers and employees were free to spend the day in the open. That they have benefited both physically and mentally we have no doubt, and as a result will be better prepared for the long winter months.

THE FALL FAIR IS OVER

Stirling Fair has come and gone for another year and we are sorry to relate it was not nearly as successful as a year ago. The prevailing poliomyelitis epidemic throughout the province and the limitations placed upon the Championship School Fair as a result, were the main contributing factors to the decreased attendance, while the Kingston Exhibition drew a number of prominent exhibitors at the local fair in other years. So far as the former is concerned, it is something over which the directors have no control, but in the case of the latter, steps will have to be taken to have the dates of the local fair so that they will not conflict with the larger Class B Fairs. This is a matter the Provincial Fairs Association will have to work out if the smaller rural fairs are going to continue. Exhibitors cannot be blamed for taking their exhibits to the larger fairs in preference to the local fair when the prize money offered is considerably higher.

No announcement has been made as to how the Fair came out financially, but it has been suggested (and we hope it is true) that the decrease in the amount of prize money that will have to be paid may offset the loss of revenue in attendance. Since Fair Day we have heard a number of farmers complain that the thirty-five cent admission charged was too high and that if it were dropped to a quarter there would be a much larger crowd. We understand that the higher admission charge is general throughout this district and it is not likely that a drop in the price would make much difference. However, that is a matter for the coming year's directors to decide.

While the exhibits were not so numerous as in other years, the quality was excellent. The main building, which housed the cheese and butter, fruit, roots and vegetables, grains, domestic science and ladies' work exhibits, as well as the Horticultural Society, Championship School Fair, and Manual Training and Domestic Science exhibits of the public school pupils provided an attractive exhibit. The exhibits in the various departments were well arranged and permitted an attractive appearance. An encouraging feature in a number of the departments was the number of new exhibitors from the surrounding community and the absence of the professional or travelling exhibitor who goes about from one fair to another.

What Others Say

(Whitby Gazette and Chronicle)
Not only is this canning time in the homes of Canadian people, with thrifty housewives "doing down" the winter's supply of fruit and vegetables, but the political parties are busy preparing "canned" editorials for newspaper consumption. We have received yards of it, both in prose or poetry. Added to our contributions this week was a Toronto minister of the gospel who sent along a booklet entitled "What Ontario should do with Hepburn."

All of these canned editorials, however, have been consigned to the same place.

Like most newspapers, The Gazette and Chronicle prefers to look after its own editorial work. We take an independent stand, but we are striving hard to give through our news columns fair and accurate reports of all meetings of the Liberal, Conservative and the Canadian Commonwealth Federation. For the election material of the "canned variety" we have absolutely no use.

HOW A STORY GROWS

(Bracebridge Gazette)
A woman on a farm on the outskirts of Bracebridge was carrying a bottle of cream when a bolt of lightning struck the bottle, cutting the bottom right off. The woman was rendered unconscious but soon recovered. Her salvation was probably due to the cream acting as a lightning conductor. Such was the story as published in a Toronto daily paper. The Gazette made a personal interview and found the facts are that the woman was carrying a bottle of milk when a sudden clap of thunder startled her and she dropped the bottle and it broke. "Thus does er with a collection of articles, many of which have been shown for years, capturing the prize money that should go to those in the district who support the fair and form its chief body of exhibitors. The primary object of a fall fair should be to encourage improvement in livestock and agricultural products, and in the case of the women exhibitors, needle work and kindred arts, and it would be better if the local Agricultural Society would continue to discourage the foreign exhibitor. It is unfair to the local exhibitors to have to compete against this type of competition and in the end they will become discouraged and the local fair will suffer as a result. We hope that next year's directorate will adopt the motto of "Stirling Fair for Stirling and District."

The championship School Fair, under the direction of Mr. Jos. Wilson, Agricultural Representative, was not as large as other years due to the cancellation of the Township School Fairs, but proved to be a worth-while attraction and was given close scrutiny by many of the Fair patrons. The Horticultural exhibit was on a par with other years with the entries covering a long table in the centre of the hall and adding much to the general appearance of the building. The annual display of the handicrafts of the pupils of the Stirling Public School in the manual training and domestic science departments also drew down expressions of praise from the spectators, many of whom were amazed by the ability shown by the pupils.

In the livestock division there was a big decrease in the cattle exhibits, but the horse exhibit proved to be one of the best in years, and drew a large patronage from those present. Heretofore, the horses were shown in the northern section of the grounds, but this year the directors gave this department a more prominent position and the change was more than justified in the increased number of spectators that viewed the judging of the various classes. The poultry department was another that felt the effects of the conflicting dates with Kingston and while there was a large exhibit it was far short of last year when there was not enough accommodation for the number of entries.

The Boys' Foal Club, which was sponsored by the local Agricultural Society, in conjunction with the Department of Agriculture, failed to materialize, which was very disappointing to the members of the Society. Each year the local Society has been sponsoring some branch of farm work for the farmers' sons with good success, and it is to be regretted that this year's Club was a failure.

The programme in front of the grandstand, including the farmers' race, quick hitch, running race, and bicycle race, was of the usual calibre and were well received by the large crowd. The trials of speed were not so good as last year, with only three horses competing in each race. The race committee this year adopted the "every heat a race" plan and while there were some close heats there was not enough racing to satisfy the lovers of this form of amusement. If the Society continues the same plan another year, a third race will have to be added to fill out this part of the program. There was also the usual midway and softball games.

FRIDAY CURRENT COMMENT

The Picton Times is urging the removal of telephone poles and wires from that town's main street because visitors call it a "hick place", and cites Palmerston and Fergus as towns where this work has been completed. The Picton editor needn't have gone so far afield for an example of an up-to-date town in this respect since the main street of Stirling has been free of poles and overhead wires for some time.

On Sunday night residents of towns and cities that have been observing daylight saving time during the summer months turned their clocks back an hour, and now standard time is in vogue throughout the country. With the return to standard time there has been a change made in the time tables of the railways, and residents of Stirling and district will do well to take note of the change in the time of the arrival of the night train.

news get in our great daily papers."

CYCLE OF PRICES

(Alliston Herald)
The higher prices for motor cars are just one indication of the rising living costs that are following in the wake of the industrial troubles in Canada and the United States. These phases all move in cycles. Prices drop, wages drop, work ceases, supplies diminish, work starts, strikes break out, wages increase, prices go up, there is a spell of fair times, then prices drop again, wages also drop, and the old cycle begins all over once more.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE

(Blenheim News-Tribune)
Hitch-hiking boys are becoming a nuisance on the public highways. Not content with titmating their desire for a lift by the wave of the thumb, many of them crowd out well on to the pavement, endangering not only their own lives but also the lives of the motorists who necessarily turn sharply to avoid hitting them, sometimes right in the face of cars they are meeting coming in the opposite direction. The law imposes penalties for such infractions of the Highway Act, but we have not yet seen any motorist becoming so indignant that he has prosecuted offenders. This is a matter for provincial road constables to control.

SO SAY WE ALL

(Grimsby Independent)

There has never been a newspaper printed that satisfied everybody. But there is a very simple method by which better newspapers can be produced, and that is for those who subscribe to them to take an individual interest in seeing that they get more local and personal news. If you have visitors or if you have been on a visit send or phone the information to your home town paper. Every little item of a local or personal nature helps that much to make a still better newspaper. That is how you can help make your newspaper more interesting and you are invited to start doing so at once.

STIRLING MAN FIGURES IN ACCIDENT

When a car driven by Laura E. Harrison, Trenton, collided with a motor vehicle operated by Charles H. Blakely, of Stirling, on a curve on North Front Street on Friday, John Waddell, a rider in the Blakely machine, suffered severe head and leg cuts. He was taken to Dr. J. W. Farley for treatment and later moved to Belleville General Hospital. His condition was reported fair.

CHEESE BOARD

Three prices were again registered on Saturday's regular trading of the Belleville Cheese Board. Volume was fairly heavy as registered on the Board.

A total of 2174 white and 226 coloured cheese were offered 1751 white cheese sold at 13 13-16 cents. The balance of white sold at 13 3-4 cents. An initial bid of 13 cents had been registered. A price of 14 1-16 cents was accepted for the coloured cheese. Buyers present were Messrs Meyers, Taylor, Hart Hunter, McCreary, Cook, Morton, Fraleigh, Murphy and Ashton.

NORWOOD CHURCH BURNS

A spectacular fire at noon on Friday completely gutted the United Church and Sunday school at the main business corner of the village damaging the beautiful edifice to the extent of approximately $20,000. The roof and interior wooden fittings of the building, and also a splendid organ installed about 13 years ago were destroyed. Members of the church stated that the loss would be adequately insured. The cause of the fire, which was first noticed about 11:30 a.m. was believed to have originated from a short circuit in the electric wiring of the organ. Fred Beldock and Walter Hagerman, who were repairing the bell tower and its windows saw a thin drift of smoke rising from the roof of the gable over the organ loft. They immediately rang the church bell, giving the alarm to the village. The Norwood fire brigade responded promptly, and in a short time had their chemical engine in operation. Rod Webb and Bill Rogers actually got a stream up through the ceiling in the front section. A bucket brigade was formed, and an emergency call was sent to the Peterborough fire department.

To Save Ontario Motorists Time and Money 1938 Motor Vehicle Permits Are Now Available

DUE to the advance in the new car purchasing season and the fact that increasingly large numbers of used cars and trucks are now purchased at this time of year and following the practice established last year which met with such favourable reception on the part of the motoring public, 1938 Motor Vehicle Permits and Operators' Licenses are being made available in advance of the date of expiration of 1937 permits.

1938 Permits (now available) save the purchaser of a new car or truck the expense of 1937 registration.

They save the purchaser of a used car or truck the fee for transferring the 1937 registration (1938 Permit can be procured without transfer fee).

As indicated in the Budget Address delivered on March 9th of this year, the Government is able to announce a downward revision in the fees for the registration of Motor Vehicles.

PASSENGER CAR REGISTRATION FEES	1937 Fee	1938 Fee
4 cylinders.....	$ 7.00	$ 2.00
6 cylinders, up to and including 28 horse power ..	12.00	7.00
6 cylinders, over 28 horse power ..	15.00	10.00
8 cylinders, up to and including 35 horse power ..	15.00	10.00
8 cylinders, over 35 horse power ..	20.00	15.00
12 cylinders ..	30.00	25.00
16 cylinders ..	40.00	35.00

(S.A.E. rating of horse power shall be used)

All Commercial Motor Vehicles and Trailers have been reduced 25% from the 1937 rate.
The Fee for the registration of a change of ownership has been reduced from $2.00 to $1.00.
Fee for the Registration of a Motor Cycle has been reduced from $3.00 to $1.00.

CHANGE OF LICENSE YEAR

The Government having decided to change the license year to coincide with its fiscal year, 1938 permits and licenses will be valid to March 31st, 1939.

WE WANT YOUR HELP!

When you see a motorist driving in a manner dangerous to the public, take his number, make a careful note of the actual time and place, and when you reach your destination write to the Motor Vehicles Branch, Department of Highways, Toronto, giving full details. We do not invite reports of minor infringements of the traffic laws; you are requested to use sound judgment. We will deal adequately with offenders!

DID YOU CAUSE THIS?

As a motorist and a citizen of Ontario, answer this question: How would you like to face the rest of your life knowing that you were responsible—through carelessness—for an accident like this? Would you ever want to drive a car again?

If you do drive, get this clearly in your mind! Should you break an Ontario traffic law and cause death or injury, you may not be allowed to drive a car again! We are determined to end the needless slaughter of our people. Cutting in, passing on hills and curves, crowding, racing and other breaches of the traffic laws, will get you into trouble—make no mistake about that!

Reckless driving must stop—now!

Koffend acted as Chairman and proceeded with the election of officers for the coming year. The following were elected: President, Canon Swayne, of Bonarlaw; vice-President, Rev. W. J. Scott, Stirling; Sec. Treas., Rev. Jas. B. Beckel, Stirling. Arrangements were made to hold a retreat in Ma-doc in November. The next regular meeting will be held at Bonarlaw with Rev. W. R. Tristram giving the address. Arrangements were made for the loading of a carload of vegetables for Western Canada, at Madoc, Oct. 12th and 13th, and Stirling Oct. 15. The address of the afternoon was given by Rev. Wilkinson, an Anglican missionary on furlough from India. Mr. Wilkinson, illustrated his lecture with moving pictures. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Koffend served lunch and a very pleasant half hour was spent.

BRIDE AND GROOM SHOWERED

The new home of the Broadworths on the new highway north of Stirling, was the scene of a happy event on Tuesday evening, Sept. 18th, when their neighbours and friends gathered together to offer their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broadworth who were recently married.

Rev. J. E. Beckel acted as chairman. The programme was given by Mrs. Hayton, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Miss Muriel Welbourne, Misses Elda and Blanche McMullen, Mr. John Malone and others. Short speeches were given by Rev. Mr. Belch, Mr. B. C. Tucker, Mr. John Scott, Mr. John Thompson, Mr. Wannamaker, and Mr. John Bateman.

Mr. Gordon Green read the address to the bride and groom, and a presentation of a chair, footstool, table and table accessories was made. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broadworth briefly replied, thanking their friends for the beautiful gifts.

At the close lunch was served and a very happy social hour was spent. There was about one hundred and fifty people in attendance.

Sonny had been shouting for his father and now dady was giving him a good telling off.

"Fancy," he said, "a great big boy like you being afraid to sleep in the dark. I'm ashamed of you."

"Huh!" snorted the child. "It's all very well for you to talk! You've got mother to look after you!"

USED TO WAKE UP WITH HEADACHE

Now Fresh And Lively Every Morning

Here is a man who woke up every morning with a dull headache. Then Kruschen transformed his days. Read his letter:—

"I used to wake up in the morning with a dull headache. A year ago I started taking Kruschen Salts regularly. Today, I wake up fresh and lively and can do my day's work without any exertion. I can recommend Kruschen for anyone suffering from headaches and constipation, and for putting new life into you. I intend to continue with Kruschen for the rest of my life." — E. P.

Headaches can nearly always be traced to a disordered stomach, and to the unsuspected retention in the system of stagnating waste material which poisons the blood. Remove these poisons — prevent them from forming again—and you'll never have to worry any more. And that is just how Kruschen Salts brings quick and lasting relief from headaches.

A. Y. P. A.

The first meeting of the A.Y.P.A. for the fall season was held on Friday evening last at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright, at Oak Lake. The meeting took the form of a weiner roast around a huge bonfire. About forty young people were present and joined in numerous games and community singing around the fire. Later in the evening marshmallows made an appearance along with weiners and rolls to be toasted over the fire. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wright for their kindness in allowing the use of the cottage.

A MAN HONORED IN HIS OWN COUNTRY

Fellow citizens of Gwillimbury Township, who know Earl Rowe best, are enthusiastic admirers of his sterling character and gift for leadership

A Public Servant For 22 Years!

If you had a large scale map of Ontario, you would find Gwillimbury Township marked in the County of Simcoe. But you would have to possess a very large scale map indeed, to locate the town of Newton Robinson.

This little dot of a town is beginning to find itself in print frequently these days. The citizens feel that this is only to be expected because one of their own boys, Earl Rowe, is going to be, they are confident, Premier-Elect of Ontario the night of October 6th.

Some of the old-time proverbs are wearing a little thin these modern days and that well-known one—"A prophet is not without honor save in his own country"—means nothing, simply nothing, to these sturdy citizens of Gwillimbury. They honor Earl Rowe because they know and admire him; the oldsters have been watching him for twenty-two years, ever since he was elected a Township Councilor on his 21st birthday.

Reaches Cabinet Rank They start them young in public service in these Ontario towns but only one in ten thousand forges ahead to the Provincial Legislature—only one in a hundred thousand keeps going until he reaches Cabinet rank at Ottawa. Such a man is Earl Rowe — and Gwillimbury Township has followed, with pride, every step of his progress.

The most important events in this young man's twenty-two years of public service can be briefly summarized:

1915—Elected to Council of Gwillimbury Township.

1916—Elected Reeve — re-elected each year for five years.

1923—Elected to Ontario Legislature.

1925—Elected to Federal Parliament.

1930—Re-elected.

1935—Promoted to the Cabinet by Honourable R. B. Bennett, then Prime Minister. Re-elected to Federal Parliament.

1936—Unanimously selected as leader of the Ontario Liberal-Conservative Party.

A Happy Family

Earl Rowe, whenever his public duties will permit, hurries back to Newton Robinson. For there he finds awaiting him his sturdy red brick house—his wife and three fine children—his 225 acres of farm land—his pure-bred Yorkshire swine, Durham cattle, registered Clydesdales—his old Township friends.

One cannot hope to understand a public man solely by observing him in the midst of public affairs in Toronto or Ottawa. Follow Earl Rowe back to Newton Robinson—have a meal with him in his big kitchen—walk with him over his fertile acres—see him feeding his swine and his cattle—talk with his aged parents, who live across the road. Then you would realize even more fully than ever before how completely this man possesses that something without which all else is so much chaff—and that something is CHARACTER.

Heredit must get some of the credit. The Conservative leader comes from old British stock which settled in Simcoe County many, many years ago. His father, still active at 88 and his mother, eight years younger, were farm folk, and Earl Rowe, when little more than a youngster, bought his farm from his father on credit and paid every cent of his debt from his profits as a dirt farmer.

Virtues of the Soil

On his typical Ontario farm—in his typical rural Ontario residence—Earl Rowe leads the regular routine of a farmer when his Parliamentary work does not call him to the cities. His is a friendly home—made happy by the presence of his wife, and his children, Jean aged 17, Bill aged 13 and Lennox aged 8. Here are enshrined the homely virtues of the soil — those virtues which since earliest days have given strength of character to so many of Canada's greatest public servants.

HON. EARL ROWE

A Warm Personality

This has been written of Earl Rowe by a long-time associate:

"The warmth of his personality is contagious. One cannot come into his presence without feeling his force and sincerity, tempered by a natural kindness and interest in his fellow-men and their problems. With his splendid ideals, backed by long and honourable Parliamentary experience, he is uniquely equipped to make a great contribution to the public life of Ontario."

Newton Robinson isn't seeing much of Earl Rowe these days.

It is a blessing that he is still in the prime of life and health, for he has mapped out a speaking program which will keep him moving back and forth throughout Ontario until the eve of October 6th. His friends are glad of this because they know that every man or woman who sees and hears Earl Rowe, who shakes his hand, who comes under the influence of his warm personality, will say, "This is the type of leader Ontario needs." For that's the kind of man Earl Rowe is—likeable, sincere, earnest — a statesman whose good character and good judgment are written indelibly in the record of his twenty-two years of public service.

Second instalment

She wondered about that. What could it be that made this seem so much the same? Much water had flowed under the bridges of the world since that gay night. She had gone two years to the university. Then her father had died and with his insurance she had taken a secretarial course.

For a year she had been chief clerk in her uncle's law office. But he had gone into corporation practice and there hadn't been any place for her in the new scheme of things. Since then there had been a few weeks work here and there, but for ten days there had been nothing. No wonder she had now forgotten what parties were like.

Besides, at the high school dance she had been in love.

She laughed a little at herself as she thought of that. How mad she had been about Roger Yarnell! And Roger was married now and had a good-looking baby and the last time she had seen him he had merely looked funny to her.

That was the way with love. It made funny-looking people seem wonderful for a little while.

Natalie glanced up at the handsome features above her. Really he was wonderful looking, this Mont Wallace. Or did he only seem like that because of something in her? Heavens, maybe she was in love with this man! His eyes caught hers now and found them smiling.

"What's so funny?" he wanted to know.

"You'd die if you knew," she laughed aloud.

"Gosh!" he exclaimed, reddening. "You make me feel as though I'd forgotten to put on something, some really vital part of the old costume."

"Oh, it's nothing like that. I just had a queer thought and it made me laugh in spite of myself. Don't you ever do that?"

"What? Have queer thoughts or laugh in spite of myself?"

"Have thoughts that make you want to laugh at the silliness of them?" she tried to explain.

"Well, I've got one now that will seem pretty silly if you can't see it." He held her a little closer and her heart quickened. The smile faded quickly from her eyes. That little skip in her heart beat had told her. She was! She was in love with this boy as she had been with Roger Yarnell and he was a hundred times more splendid in her eyes already than Roger had ever been.

It was frightening, a discovery like that. He had danced with her now to the shadowy corner once more. Before she knew it, he was kissing her again and she was kissing him.

This was madness but glorious, glorious madness. How could life do such amazing things?

"Was that your funny idea?" she said softly, standing in the circle of his arms.

"Yes," he said, suddenly serious. "I'm wild about you. I never met anyone so gorgeous in all my life before. I want you. I want you to go somewhere with me — tonight."

She was caught by his mood but she hadn't heard too much of his words because of a blare in the music. "Where?" she asked.

"Anywhere," he told her eagerly, his lips on hers again.

In the very kiss, the warmth fled from her lips. Glory died in an instant. That lifting of her heart that had seemed like the levitation of her whole body suddenly failed.

Everything crashed that seemed to be worth while.

"Oh," she cried. "I'm sorry about that. I should have seen it coming."

"I was afraid," he said contritely. "That the idea might be a bust. Will you forget it?"

"It can't be done, Mont Wallace," the girl said slowly. "I had just very suddenly, decided that I loved you. And so . . ."

She flung her arms out helplessly. It was at the bus station that she made him set her down. There on that yesterday morning that now seemed so long ago she had left her few belongings. She claimed them at the checker's desk and trudged through the cool, sweet night to a family hotel only a block or two away.

Registering she chose an inexpensive room and put off the bell boy with smiling thanks in lieu of a tip.

But the smile came hard. Here was lonely night on the heels of a ruined evening.

Love! For a moment it had caught her in its spell. For a single instant it had glorified the vistas of life. And now it was gone, like the fading afterglow of northern lights.

She lay long staring into the dark, wondering if stolen ecstasy could be the searing thing she had been taught, wondering if love must always die so tragically, wondering why a heart without a wound could hurt so fearfully.

And lying there, it seemed as though a presence filled the room, as though Mont Wallace stood there holding out his arms and smiling contritely. Instantly the feeling was gone but now her heart had come alive again. Hurt there still was in her breast, but it was sweet pain.

Life would go on. Struggle and woe and sorrow, glowing delight and fear-

"Follow Wallace," was the assignment.

Natalie had enough of her father's tradition in her to know the meaning of that. She was to bring in another story of the new hero, and she was to telephone him. She was to see him and spend what time she could with him until the deadline of the afternoon paper and perhaps until the final edition, that sporting extra for which she had written the afternoon before.

She was to chronicle every slightest incident in his life of that morning of that day. Yet, strangely, she was not to write the tremendous story of that night, at least not as it had burned itself into her heart.

She thought of the eager readers all over the nation who would be waiting for her story. It would be carried on the wire. It would, if she could do it well, bring a hundred million people to sit beside this one man to question him and to hear whatever he had to say that would reveal the man.

Millions of girls, she knew, would be among those readers. Millions of girls would want to know what this man was like. Girls made heroes of men like Mont Wallace. They would follow him. They would write him. They would send foolish mass notes and requests for his picture.

And now Natalie knew what she would write. It was one story, at least, that all the girls would read.

She took from the pile of rough copy paper that lay beside her typewriter. She fitted carbon paper between two sheets and then she wrote the one line she knew would free her from the rules of newspaper writing that she knew so vaguely.

"By Natalie Wade," she wrote in the middle of the line. It would be a by-line story and she alone of all the girls and women in the world could write it. Perhaps when she had finished she would find that she could not let it be published. But it must be written. And the lead wrote itself before her unbelieving eyes.

"I danced last night with Mont Wallace," it read. "I danced with him and loved it. For Mont Wallace dances as he flies, gaily, easily, excellently well. Unwearied by the long ful ecstasy would make its lights and shadows. But this one day would color the whole fabric of it for it was the day on which her love had been born.

"Oh," she cried. "I'm sorry about that. I should have seen it coming."

She knew that this much was real out of the tumult of the evening. This much could never be taken away, that she loved Mont Wallace and would love him always.

Even in loving she laughed. Wouldn't he smile at that? Wouldn't he grin to know this thing he had left in the crushing hurt beneath her breast?

It was a jest of fate. Only her heart had been ravished but she knew there would be no forgetting. Lightly he might go on from one kiss to another, gathering them like trophies of his prowess in the air. Lightly he might test them in the crucible of passion, even to find one that finally claimed his own eternal desire.

But always there would follow him the adoration of herself, of Natalie Wade. Her heart could not bow down. It could not abase itself. But it could burn with an eternal fire that he had kindled even though he might never know.

Sleep came at last, deep dreamless sleep that would not summon even a phantom of this youth to her arms but in the morning she knew some glory burned in her before ever her mind remembered that she loved Mont Wallace.

Consciousness of him went with her to breakfast in the hotel dining room. It crossed the street with her to the morning office of the Express. It stood with her beside the day editor when he complimented her on the story she had done and ratified the agreement of his assistant that she should have a trial on the staff.

Her name was on the assignment book. It thrilled her to find it there, "Listen, kid, the old man wants a special picture on this."

It was Jimmy Hale's husky voice, Jimmy's slightly bleary grin that backed the request.

"Come on in here now. I've got to make it snappy."

Natalie followed him, a little confused, with Mont coming behind.

And presently she stood in the cluttered room that was the photographer's office. Mont Wallace's arms were around her once more. And for the picture's sake she looked up into his eyes as she had done that night before while Jimmy Hale took the picture that was to tell more than all her story had done and that was to bear as caption her opening line—"I danced last night with Mont Wallace."

That was the day Natalie came to know Jimmy Hale. A likeable boy who swore he couldn't write a line of copy, he proved to be the best instructor she could have had in the business of hunting down news.

Where things happened, there sooner or later — generally sooner — Jimmy Hale would be found with his small car loaded with cameras, lamps and other equipment of his trade.

Because the girl was given feature assignments almost from the first, she and Jimmy were thrown much together and he came to consider her his special charge. The time was to be when Jimmy would call her in the middle of the night if a story broke and together they would race to the spot, Jimmy to prowl for significant pictures and Natalie to hunt out interviews and special details that made good feature material.

Hepburn brought down Hydro Rates, saving consumers $4,800,000. Vote to keep Hydro from being loaded up with costly power from the Quebec Power Barons.

X

Vote for the "Treasure Hunt" to Continue

Hepburn has already uncovered a treasure of 28 millions hidden away in inheritance taxes on under-valued estates. Vote to continue the hunt.

X

Vote Your Approval of Lower Auto Fees

Hepburn has cut $5 off the cost of motor license fees. Vote Liberal and show your approval.

X

Vote for Lower Taxes

Hepburn's desire to help the taxpayer was shown by the one-mill special subsidy he made to municipalities to be passed on to the taxpayer. Hepburn is the taxpayer's Proven Friend.

X

Vote for Debt Reduction

Hepburn, by sound financing and good government, reduced Ontario's Public Debt by 33 million dollars last year. Vote for further reductions.

X

Vote for Courageous Administration

Hepburn has not been afraid to stand up against the Lewis crowd, the Quebec Power Barons, the financial ring. Ontario needs a courageous Premier in times like these. Vote for lower interest rates.

X

Vote for More "Sunshine" Budgets

Hepburn's last budget, with its nine-million surplus and its tax reduction accomplishments, has become popularly known as the "Sunshine" Budget. Vote for a continuation of these "Sunshine" Budgets.

Vote Liberal And Keep The Old Henry Gang Out

IT'S all right to let Earl Rowe kid himself that he is steering and running the Conservatives, but the electors don't want to let Mr. Rowe kid them into believing that he is leading a new, clean, thoroughly purged Conservative party. The same "old Henry gang" is managing the Rowe boat. The "old Henry gang" think that they were beaten by "some mistake" in 1934. On Wednesday, October 6th, show them that it was no mistake, but that you were in deadly earnest when you voted them out and that you want them even less today.

Hepburn's Social Legislation Proves He Is "a Man With a Heart"

BY his deeds, Mr. Hepburn has shown he has the interests of the masses at heart. His government has assumed the full cost of Mothers' Allowances. A mother with one child is now entitled to an allowance, a right denied her by the former Conservative government.

Under Mr. Hepburn, the government assumed the municipalities' share of Old Age Pensions.

It established Pensions for the Blind.

It abolished Students' Examination Fees.

It cancelled the Amusement Tax so that people are no longer penalized for enjoying themselves at theatres, concerts and games.

Hepburn Benefits Labour

HEPBURN has shown true friendship for the workingman, with advanced labour legislation — Minimum wages for men as well as women, an Industrial Standards Act providing codes by agreement between employees and employers and already improving conditions for 75,000 workers; and the creation of the Industry and Labour Board.

Another evidence of Mr. Hepburn's friendship for labour is his promise, if re-elected, to enact legislation to provide Unemployment Insurance, and Mr. Hepburn makes good on his promises.

Hepburn Takes Liquor Out of Politics

HEPBURN'S proposed Board of Three — a Judge, a Liberal, a Conservative — is the sanest, soundest, most constructive plan for removing liquor from politics that has yet been devised.

In respect to beverage rooms the Hepburn Government stands for the principle of local option. It is up to the municipality to decide for itself whether it wishes to be "wet" or "dry". That's British fair play.

Hepburn prevented the sale of liquor in restaurants.

On its record of successful administration during its first term in office, the Hepburn Government deserves to be returned to power — deserves the support and the vote of all fair-minded people.

Do your part to assure Ontario a continuance of good government for another term by voting for the Hepburn candidate in your riding.

NAMES ADDED TO LIST

Seventy-five names were added to the local Voters' List of eligible voters in the Village of Stirling, for the approaching provincial general election. The revisions were made by Judge G. E. Deroche, of Belleville, on Friday last, commencing at 9.30 a.m. Geo. H. Luery, Village Clerk, was the revision clerk.

CONSERVATIVE RALLY HERE MONDAY NEXT

A Conservative Rally in the interests of R. D. Arnott, Conservative candidate in the riding of West Hastings, will be held in the Stirling Theatre on Monday next, October 4th, commencing at 8 p.m. Addresses on the issues of the Provincial Election campaign will be given by Mr. W. M. Nickle, K.C., of Kingston; W. E. Tamm, ex-M.P., South Hastings; Geo. A. Reid, ex-Mayor of Belleville, who will give an exhaustive address on the Hydro question in reply to the accusations hurled at him by Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner in a recent speech at Belleville; the candidate, and others. — Advt.

HALF HOLIDAYS END

The Wednesday half-holidays are over for another year and from now on the stores in Stirling will be open every days in the week except Sunday. Commencing on a later date the stores will close every night at six o'clock except Saturday. This is the usual practice followed each year and is in accordance with the municipal by-law governing the same.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

On Monday evening in St. John's Parish Hall Rev. C. H. R. Wilkinson, M.A., of Palampur, India, gave a most interesting address to a large crowd of the members of the church. His address was illustrated by many pictures taken by himself, in India. After the address the ladies of the Women's Auxiliary served tea and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Messages of thanks and appreciation were conveyed to the speaker for his educational address by Mrs. H. H. Alger and Mrs. Chas. Sweet. Rev. A. S. McConnell presided throughout.

"Dick Arnott and I have always been good friends, and always will be," said the speaker. "He says that the C.I.O. is not an issue in this campaign. There is no difference of opinion as to the right of labourers to organize and to bargain collectively, but when you introduce methods contrary to law, I am opposed to my opponent. The C.I.O. is a Communist organization," stated the speaker.

"One Conservative speaker," stated Dr. Faulkner, "had said I had never done anything for West Hastings. That same speaker drove over a new road from Trenton for which the present government was responsible." Hastings County had benefitted to the amount of over $530,000 in three years' time, including a saving of $261,000 in roads assumed by the government from the county. The government had also assumed the cost of Old Age Pensions and the Mothers' Allowance at a saving of $71,000. In regard to the one mill subsidy made to the municipalities by the government, Dr. Faulkner stated that Stirling had received the sum of $450 and Belleville $10,000 and charged the officials of certain townships in Hastings County of failing to make application to the government for the subsidy. Hon. Earl Rowe says the grants for health services had been cut when in reality it was the Henry government which cut the grants and the Hepburn Government restored them. Under the present government pensions to the blind were given for the first time. The bounty on iron ore, which the Ferguson Government instituted, had been doubled in order to restore a basic industry in Sault Ste Marie, and unemployment had been ended in that centre. The pulp industry had been rejuvenated and there was no unemployment in the northern part of Hastings County, stated the speaker.

Turning to the Health Department, of which he is the head, Dr. Faulkner pointed out that a considerable saving had been effected in reducing the number of deputies from three to one and in letting the district officers of health go. "There are over nine hundred municipalities in the province manned by health officers who are part of the Department of Health, and no municipality can discharge them unless for bad behaviour," stated the speaker. Through these savings tubercular clinics had been established at Ottawa, Belleville and North Bay, and it was expected to establish two more in the near future. In Northern Ontario, the local doctor, whether grit or tory, takes charge in case of an epidemic and was paid by the Ontario Government. The cost of maintenance in mental hospitals had been reduced from 75 to 60 cents per day, concluded Dr. Faulkner.

R. D. Arnott
Mayor R. D. Arnott, the Conservative Candidate, was the next speaker, and was greeted with vociferous applause by his supporters. "Dr. Faulkner has asked you and attempted to explain why we are having an election," stated Mr. Arnott in his opening remarks, "and says we are having an election because Mr. Rowe asked for it." The real reason for an election was because of the result in the East Hastings by-election, and because there were four other by-elections facing the Government. The speaker was having trouble making himself heard at this point of his address and Chairman Grainger appealed for order. "Dr. Faulkner has asked where I stand on the C.I.O. question and I want to say that I am 100 per cent behind the policy of Hon. Earl Rowe and British —" Here the shouts of the hecklers drowned out Mr. Arnott. "Now that I have answered his question I want to ask Premier Hepburn and Hon. Dr. Faulkner where they stand on the Separate School question." The interruptions continued and Mayor Arnott shouted "I attended the East Hastings nomination and it was the same kind of nomination as this one and I expect to win," as his parting shot to his hecklers.

Mr. Chas. Cameron, M.P., who was to speak in support of Hon. Dr. Faulkner, declined his opportunity and

Hon. Earl Lawson, M.P., was the next speaker called.

Hon. Earl Lawson

From the outset of his address it was apparent that Hon. Earl Lawson was not to receive any better hearing than Mayor Arnott. "Dr. Faulkner spoke of British Fair play," stated Mr. Lawson, "but the best display of non-British principles has been given here today by his supporters when they refused to allow Mayor Arnott to speak." In 1934 Premier Hepburn had gone up and down the country accusing Conservative members of securing money from a liquor toll-gate, but after he got into power and appointed a commission to investigate, his charges were proved false. In the last session of the Legislature affidavits were produced and read from the floor of the house accusing John J. Glass, Liberal member for a Toronto riding, and Robt. Allen, of securing a license for the Dennis Hotel in Toronto. An investigation had been demanded but Premier Hepburn had quashed the whole affair by closing the Legislature. At this point the speaker produced a photostatic copy of a letter written by Mr. Glass, but his hecklers would not allow him to read it.
